PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS:
Fiscal Year 2016: The following represents accomplishments for active Programs:

(A), (B) and (CC) - Cooperative Extension Programs at 1862 Land-grant Institutions (aka CES Smith-Lever Regular and CES Smith-Lever Special Needs), and District of Columbia Public Postsecondary Education Reorganization Act Program (aka DCPPERERA) [Section 3 (b) & (c)] - (Capacity previously known as Formula)

Cooperative Extension Programs at 1862 Land-Grant Institutions were allocated $288,676,390 to support Extension activities. Awards ranged from $1,133,542 to $13,255,226. The total amount of required matching funds in FY 2016 was $280,548,168. Both programs have matching requirements; with over 98 percent of the organizations that receive funds having to match 100% of the award amount.

Special Needs program was allocated $1,029,979 to support individual projects that may be initiated under this program. Awards ranged from $11,347 to 111,504. The total amount of required matching funds in FY 2016 was $1,029,979.

Combined appropriation for both programs was $289,052,443.

University of the District of Columbia Public Postsecondary Education Reorganization Act Program (DCPPERERA)

In Fiscal Year (FY) 2016, $1,196,560.00, (representing the Appropriation, less the legislatively mandated set-asides), was available to fund this program allocated solely to the University of the District of Columbia (UDC). There is no matching requirement for this program. Administrative costs are taken from Smith-Lever funds. Funds are being used to carry out educational programs and research in Climate Change; Global Food Security and Hunger; Health, Nutrition and Childhood Obesity Prevention; Urban Families, Youth and Communities; and Sustainable Energy through UDCs two (2) essential land-grant components, the Agricultural Experiment Station and the Cooperative Extension Service.

(C) Smith-Lever Special Needs Competitive Grants Program [Section 3 (b) & (c)]

The National Institute of Food and Agriculture (NIFA) funded Smith Lever Special Needs projects to implement applied scientific programs that serve public needs in preparation for, during and after local or regional emergency situations or disasters.

The program received seven (7) applications, and the total allocation was $461,619. The range of proposal funded was from $12,500 for a planning grant to $180,000.

(D) Agricultural Extension at 1890 Land-Grant Institutions, Including Tuskegee University, West Virginia State University, and Central State University (aka 1890 LGIs and Section 1444) - (Capacity, previously known as Formula)

In Fiscal Year (FY) 2016, $45,620,000 was appropriated for this program. Funds in the amount of $43,795,200 were provided to support the Extension programs at the 19 1890 Land-Grant Universities, in 18 states. Funds are distributed on a formula basis.

(E) & (EE) - Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program (aka EFNEP) [Smith-Lever - Section 3 (d)] - (Capacity previously known as Formula) and EFNEP WebNEERS (Competitive)

The Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program (EFNEP) brings together federal, state, and local resources to target two (2) primary audiences:

low-income families with young children and low-income youth. The program is delivered by the 1862 and the 1890 Land-Grant Institutions. Since 1969, EFNEP has reached more than 33 million low-income families and youth, improving their diets and food-related behaviors. Each year EFNEP enrolls more than half a million new program participants.

In FY 2016, EFNEP received $67,417,320 in federal funding. EFNEP reached 118,976 adults and 365,369 youth directly; and more than 345,000 family members indirectly (source: EFNEPs evaluation and reporting system, WebNEERS). 84% of EFNEP participants who reported income were at or below 100% of poverty, earning $24,300 a year or less for a family of four (4). At least 74% of all EFNEP adults are minorities. This is significant because poor health disproportionately affects minority and low-income populations.

As well, educational opportunities and resources are limited.

EFNEP consistently demonstrates strong results. FY 2016 data confirms adult graduates:

- Increase their diets: 94% report more closely following dietary recommendations, including consuming an extra 1/2 cup of fruits and vegetables;
- Improve their nutrition practices: 89% improve nutrition practices, such as making healthier food choices and reading nutrition labels;
- Stretch their food dollars further: 84% improve food resource management practices, such as planning meals and shopping with a grocery list;
- Handle food more safely: 65% improve food safety practices, such as storing and thawing food properly; and/or
- Increase their physical activity rates: 40% increase their physical activity level by 30 minutes or more.

(G), (H) & (W) - Farm Safety, Youth Farm Safety Education and Certification, and Assistive Technology Program for Farmers with Disabilities (AgrAbility Project)

In FY 2012 Congress consolidated Extension 3(d) line items Farm Safety (AgrAbility) and Youth Farm Safety Education and Certification into a single line item.

In FY 2016, after legislatively mandated set asides approximately $4,424,474 was available to support Farm Safety (i.e., AgrAbility) and Youth Farm Safety Education and Certification (YFSEC) programs.

Of this amount, $300,000 was made available for a YFSEC project to continue the work commenced via prior years funding. Further, approximately $3,592,500 was made available to support twenty (20) continuation awards, all State/Regional AgrAbility Projects (SRAPs) and one (1) new National AgrAbility Project (NAP).

SRAPs maintained their focus on supporting state and regional projects that increase the likelihood that individuals with disabilities and their families engaged in production agriculture (AgrAbilitys customers) will become more successful.

NIFA received two (2) proposals and funded one (1). Funding ratio was 50%. (I) New Technologies at Ag Extension (aka NTAE)

In Fiscal Year (FY) 2016, NIFA awarded a continuation grant in the amount of $1,488,000 to the New Technologies for Ag Extension (NTAE) program. In 2016, eXtension continued to work from its FY 2015-2018 strategic plan which charged eXtension to apply its technology expertise and broad national network to become a major catalyst for increasing innovation and the impact of Cooperative Extension Service (CES) professionals work throughout the entire CES.

(J), (U) & (V) - Children, Youth, and Families At-Risk (aka CYFAR), Sustainable Community Projects (aka CYFAR-SCP) and Professional Development and Technical Assistance (aka CYFAR-PDTA)

Total CYFAR funding was $8,053,350. Sustainable Community Project (SCP) funding represented 47 successful applicants (new and continued awards) received $6,920,000.00. Six (6) new projects were funded totaling $480,000.
The funding ratio for new projects was 19%.

The CYFAR Professional and Development and Technical Assistance (PDTA) funding will be $733,350.

The CYFAR Military PDTA funding was $400,000.

The following Programs are no longer funded under CFDA # 10.500 CES:

- (L) Federally-Recognized Tribes Extension Program (aka FRTEP)
- (M) & (BB) - Extension Services at the 1994 Institutions Program (aka Tribal Colleges Extension Program and TCEP) and Tribal Colleges Extension - Special Emphasis (aka TCEP-SE)

In Fiscal Year (FY) 2016, the FRTEP program represented the final year of a four-year continuation. NIFA made awards of $2,917,440 to 36 extension offices through its 1802 Land Grant Universities. Awards ranged from $65,400 to $117,401. A portion of the $117,401 award will be used to support all 36 Extension offices along with attendance at the 2016 Extension Professional Development conference in Flagstaff Arizona.

(M) & (BB) - Extension Services at the 1994 Institutions Program (aka Tribal Colleges Extension Program and TCEP) and Tribal Colleges Extension - Special Emphasis (aka TCEP-SE)

In Fiscal Year (FY) 2016, $1,437,750.00 was available to support Extension projects through the Rural Health and Safety (RHSIE) program.

Proposals were expected to be community-based, outreach education programs, such as those conducted through Human Science extension outreach, that provides individuals and families with:

- Information as to the value of good health at any age;
- Information to increase individual or family’s motivation to take more responsibility for their own health;
- Information regarding rural environmental health issues that directly impact on human health;
- Information about and access to health promotion and educational activities; and
- Training for volunteers and health services providers concerning health promotion and health care services for individuals and families in cooperation with state, local and community partners.

The range of funding was $701,953 to $1,510,902 which was distributed to the 19 institutions on a formula basis.

Facilities funds are being used for the acquisition and improvement of agricultural and food sciences facilities and equipment, as well as libraries, so the 1890 land-grant institutions may participate fully in the development of human capital in the food and agricultural sciences.

(R) Animal Residue Avoidance Database Program (aka FARAD)

For the Fiscal Year (FY) 2016 award cycle, Congress appropriated $1,200,000 to support FARAD, which was funded under its own line item authority.

Four (4) applications were received and evaluated under competition waiver administrative processes. FARAD applications were merit reviewed internally by National Program Staff and all four (4) entities were funded.

This 30-year-old high performing integrated consortium of collaborating institutions currently includes at each Land Grant campus a lead Project Director (PD), and his/her respective scientific staff.

The funding ratio for this program in FY 2016 was 100% due to the competition waiver process.

FARAD is a university-based national program that serves as the nations primary source for scientifically-based recommendations regarding safe withdrawal intervals of drugs (used off label) and chemicals in food-producing animals. As such, FARAD is a key resource for protection of our nation’s food supply, including meat, milk and eggs, against accidental contamination of animal-derived foods with residues of drugs, pesticides or other agents that could compromise food safety.

The project reduced hazards in the home related to air quality (carbon monoxide, radon, and mold), drinking water, pests, and pesticides to improve families health resulting in decrease in asthma & allergies and improved home safety. This project was competed in FY 2015 and awarded to one (1) institution. It was awarded noncompetitively in FY 2016 to the same Coordinating Institution.

(D) Agricultural Extension at 1890 Land-Grant Institutions
Each institution received approval of an administrative project that supports the respective five-year plan of work. Activities carried out by some institutions during FY 2016 include:

(1) Cooperative Extension Program provided science-based information and educational programs to help families, communities and schools develop gardens and practice good food resource management.

(2) Extension activities centered on food safety education of food handlers and youth; emerging food safety and nutrition issues; and public education about how to respond to outbreaks of foodborne diseases.

(E) & (EE) - Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program (aka EFNEP and EFNEP WebNEERS)
The Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program (EFNEP) is funded as a national program, not as individual projects. All seventy-six 1862 and 1890 Land-Grant Institutions receive EFNEP funding each year and these are the only entities eligible for EFNEP funding.

(G), (H) & (W) Farm Safety, Youth Farm Safety Education and Certification, and Assistive Technology Program for Farmers with Disabilities (AgrAbility Project)

NOTE: Programs were combined in FY 2012.

AgrAbility program increases the likelihood that individuals with disabilities and their families engaged in production agriculture (AgrAbility customers) become more successful.

To address the specialized needs of AgrAbility customers, the program builds service capacity on national, regional, state, and local levels through education and networking. In the absence of capacity, projects provide assistance to customers.

FY 2016 New Awards:
One (1) new AgrAbility award for NAP.
One (1) new YFSEC award.

Three (3) continuation awards to support 2nd year of SRAPs originally funded in FY 2015.
14 continuation awards to support 3rd year SRAPs originally funded in FY 2013.
Three (3) continuation awards for 4th year of SRAPs originally funded in FY 2012.

Funded at $180,000 per year, SRAPs provide substantial, sustained return on NIFAs investment in farm safety. One (1) example follows:

In FYs 2016-2017 Missouri AgrAbility Project provided 66 Missouri farmers with disabilities with onsite farmstead assessment and assistance with farm management plans, 75 farmers and farm wives were educated about medication-related agricultural injury risks, 37 occupational and physical therapists learned how to safely accommodate AgrAbility clients.

The National AgrAbility Project (NAP) continues to fulfill NAPs mandated mission for the next four (4) years. In FY 2016, the project served the needs of 20 State and Regional AgrAbility Projects (SRAPs) through education, networking, technical assistance, marketing, program evaluation, and sustainability building.

The FY 2016 YFSEC award, made through a competitive grant process, helped build upon and strengthen SAY activities and accomplishments to date, as well as identify and address curricula and outreach gaps.

(I) New Technologies at Ag Extension (aka NTAE)
The NTAE grant enables Extension to:

(1) advance CES educators use of technology;
(2) advance professional growth capacities; and
(3) increase the capacity of the CES to adopt new and creative technology applications for delivering science-based education resources to the diverse general public.

  - 4-H Military Partnership Professional Development and Technical Assistance Program (aka Military Family Readiness System (MFRS)).
  - Extension Outreach on the Marketplace Exchanges of the Affordable Care Act.

NOTE: Mandatory program delegated to another USDA agency (Risk Management Agency) but administered by NIFA.

DD) Healthy Homes Partnership (Competitive RFA)

Fiscal Year (FY) 2016 represents a continuation of the program which commenced in FY 2015.

Below is a partial listing of outcomes:

- Implemented the Healthy Homes educational toolkit curriculum;
- Conducted webinars to coincide with resource information in the Healthy Homes toolkit;
- Developed publications for Stakeholders and Educators, Everyone Deserves a Safe and Healthy Home.

These strategies supported the federal interagency priorities for Advancing Healthy Housing: A Strategy for Action.

The following Programs are no longer funded: hence, no action is required:

- Sustainable Agriculture Research and Education - Professional Development (aka SARE-PD and SARE Chapter 3 Program)
- Reorganization Act Program (DCPPERA)

It is anticipated that similar projects will be funded.

Anticipated projects are as follows:

1) Climate Change
   This program includes relevant research and extension education and will assess and monitor natural resources and changes in the urban environment with respect to climate changes. Over the next five (5) years, the university will expand the program to identify and solve soil, air, and water quality problems as a specific result of urban forestry, gardening, and aging infrastructures.

2) Food Safety
   The Center for Nutrition, Diet and Health provides training for food handlers in the state. The program is designed to equip participants with low literacy food handlers training and certification.

3) Health, Nutrition and Childhood Obesity Prevention
   The Agricultural Experiment Station is participating in a multi-state research project aimed to change the health trajectory for older adults. Most often children follow the food consumption patterns of their parents. Thus, it is imperative to extend proper diet and nutrition information to assist parents with proper meal planning and food preparation.

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

USES:

1862 CES Capacity (Smith-Lever) and DCPPERA:

Funding for the Cooperative Extension Programs at 1862 Land-Grant Institutions authorized under the Smith-Lever Act section 3(b) and (c) (SLBC) and the University of the District of Columbia Public Postsecondary Education Reorganization Act Program (DCPPERA) under Section 208 of the District of Columbia Postsecondary Education Reorganization Act is to be used for the development of practical applications of research knowledge and giving of instruction and practical demonstrations of existing or improved practices or technologies in agriculture, uses of solar energy with respect to agriculture, home economics, and rural energy, and subjects relating thereto to persons not attending or resident in 1862 Land-Grant Institutions, and imparting information on those subjects through demonstrations, publications, and otherwise and for the necessary printing and distribution of information in connection with the subjects.

Program and Extension Activities - Smith-Lever Act sections 3(b) and 3(c) Federal funding may only be used for extension programs and an activity identified in the institutions approved 5-Year Plan of Work.

1862 Special Needs Capacity Grants Program (SLSN):

1862 Smith Lever Special Needs Capacity funds support extension education initiatives that address risks, hazards and disasters. The SLSN sponsors targeted projects enable Cooperative Extension Service to assist in preparing for, providing an educational response to, and recovering from disasters. Education programming funded by this program help communities, families and individuals become more self-sustaining by strengthening and increasing their resiliency to disaster. The SLSN increases awareness and capacity building of urban/rural communities response to natural and/or human-made disasters by increasing individual, family, farms, small business and community disaster preparedness through extension education, as well as collaboration with other agencies and volunteer organizations.

Smith-Lever Special Needs Competitive Grants Program (SLSNCGP):

SLSNCGP projects to implement applied scientific programs that serve public needs in preparation for, during, and after disaster. Though national, regional, and/or multi-state efforts are a priority for categories 1-3, highly replicable single-state projects may be considered if they have a strong plan for transferring successful methods to other states. The SLSNCGP also funds the development of educational programs and demonstration activities focusing on disaster preparedness, mitigation, response, and recovery. Successful projects in the past have helped extension educators, who normally do not have a disaster extension focus, to have a greater impact in this area.

Credentials/Documentation:

CREDENTIALS/DOCUMENTATION (083):

The System for Award Management (SAM) combines eight federal procurement systems, including CCR, and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance into one new system. CCR activities are conducted through SAM (the CCR website will redirect users to SAM).

Dun and Bradstreet Universal Numbering System (DUNS) Number and System for Award Management (SAM): Each applicant (unless excepted under 2 CFR 25.110(b) or (c), or has an exception approved by the Federal awarding agency under 2 CFR 25.110(d)) is required to:

(i) Be registered in SAM before submitting its application;

(ii) Provide a valid DUNS number in its application; and

(iii) Continue to maintain an active SAM registration with current information at all times during which it has an active Federal award or an application or plan under consideration by a Federal awarding agency.

It also must state that the Federal awarding agency may not make a Federal award to an applicant until the applicant has complied with all applicable DUNS and SAM requirements and, if an applicant has not fully complied with the requirements by the time the Federal awarding agency is ready to make a Federal award, the Federal awarding agency may determine that the applicant is not qualified to receive a Federal award and use that determination as a basis for making a Federal award to another applicant.

Competitive Smith Lever Special Needs Competitive (SLSNCGP):
We evaluate each application in a two-part process. First, we screen each application to ensure Competitive Smith-Lever Special Needs that it meets the administrative requirements as set forth in this RFA. Second, a technical review panel will evaluate applications that meet the administrative requirements.

We select reviewers based upon their training and experience in relevant scientific, extension, or education fields, taking into account the following factors: the level of relevant formal scientific, technical education, or extension experience of the individual, as well as the extent to which an individual is engaged in relevant research, education, or extension activities; the need to include experts from various areas of specialization within relevant scientific, education, or extension fields; the need to include other experts (e.g., producers, range or forest managers/operators, and consumers) who can assess relevance of the applications to targeted audiences and to program needs; the need to include experts from a variety of organizational types (e.g., colleges, universities, industry, state and federal agencies, and private profit and non-profit organizations) and geographic locations; the need to maintain a balanced composition with regard to minority and female representation and an equitable age distribution; and the need to include reviewers who can judge the effective usefulness of each application to producers and the general public.

After each peer review panel has completed its deliberations, the responsible program staff of SLNSCGP will recommend that your project (a) be approved for support from currently available funds or (b) be declined due to insufficient funds or unfavorable review.

SLNSCGP reserves the right to negotiate with the PD/PI and/or with the submitting organization or institution regarding project revisions (e.g., reductions in the scope of work, funding level, period, or method of support) prior to recommending any project for funding.

States are eligible for funds appropriated under this Act according to the following formula: Out of each annual allocation, each State will be entitled to receive a sum of money equal to the sums available from Federal cooperative extension funds for the fiscal year, and subject to the same requirements as to furnishing of equivalent sums by the State, except that amounts herefore made available to the Secretary for allotment on the basis of special needs shall continue to be available for use on the same basis. Further, the University of Guam and the University of the Virgin Islands will receive $100,000 each in addition to the sums appropriated for the several States of the United States and Puerto Rico under the provisions of sections 3(b) and 3(c) of the Smith-Lever Act. Of the remainder so appropriated for each fiscal year 20 per cent will be paid to the several States in equal proportions, 40 per cent will be paid to the several States in the proportion that the rural population of each bears to the total rural population of the several States as determined by the census, and the balance will be paid to the several States in the proportion that the farm population of each bears to the total farm population of the several States as determined by the census. Any appropriation made under sections 3(b) and 3(c) of the Smith-Lever Act will be allotted in the first and succeeding years on the basis of the decennial census current at the time the appropriation is first made, and as to any increase, on the basis of decennial census current at the time such increase is first appropriated.

1862 Smith-Lever Special Needs Capacity (SLSN):
In lieu of an authorization of appropriations for the District of Columbia under section 3 of such Act of May 8, 1914, there is authorized to be appropriated such sums as may be necessary to provide cooperative agricultural extension work in the District of Columbia under such Act. Any reference in such Act (other than section 3 thereof) to funds appropriated under such Act shall in the case of the District of Columbia be considered a reference to funds appropriated under this subsection.

Smith-Lever Special Needs-Competitive (SLSNCGP):
Not Applicable.

Matching Requirements: Joint Cooperative Extension Programs at 1862 Land-Grant Institutions (1862 CES Capacity & DCPPERA):
Section 3(c)(1) of the Smith-Lever Act (7 U.S.C. 343(c) (1)) states, with regard to institutions in the 50 States, no allotment shall be made to a State under subsection (b) or (c), and no payments from the allotment shall be made to a State, in excess of the amount that the State makes available out of non-Federal funds for cooperative extension work. However, section 3(c)(4) of the Smith-Lever Act (U.S.C. 343(c)(4)) provides that Effective beginning for fiscal year 2003, in lieu of the matching funds requirement of paragraph (1), the insular areas of [American Samoa,] the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, Guam, [Micronesia, the Northern Marianas Islands,] and the Virgin Islands of the United States shall provide matching funds from non-Federal sources in an amount equal to not less than 50 percent of the formula funds distributed by the Secretary to each of the insular areas, respectively, under this section.... The Secretary may waive the matching fund requirement [of 50 percent] for any fiscal year if the Secretary determines that the government of the insular area will be unlikely to meet the matching requirement for the fiscal year.

University of the District of Columbia Public Postsecondary Education Reorganization Act Program (DCPPERA):
There is no match requirement for the DCPPERA Program.

1862 Smith-Lever Special Needs Capacity (SLSN):
1862 Land-Grant Institutions in the 50 States must match 100 percent (100%) of the SLSN funds they receive with funds from non-Federal sources such as State or county appropriations. The matching must be in the form of cash. Matching funds may only be used for extension activities approved in the eligible institutions five (5) year Plan of Work.

Smith-Lever Special Needs-Competitive (SLSNCGP):
Applicants are required to provide 100 percent matching funds from non-federal sources for all proposed federal funds sought in the application. In-kind and third party contributions are not allowed for this program; thus, all of the matching funds must come from the applicant institution (please note that sub-awards/partner match would be considered third party). This program does not have MOE requirements.

b. Annual Progress Reports.
All projects must report annually into REEport. An annual Progress Report is due 90 calendar days after the awards anniversary date (i.e., one year following the month and day of which the project period begins and each year thereafter up until a final report is required). An annual Progress Report covers the most recent one-year period. The following information, when applicable, must be included in the Project Modifications section of the annual Progress Report.

1) A comparison of actual accomplishments with the goals established for the reporting period (where the output of the project can be expressed readily in numbers, a computation of the cost per unit of output should be submitted if the information is considered useful);

2) The reasons for slippage if established goals were not met; and

3) Additional pertinent information including, when appropriate, analysis and explanation of cost overruns or unexpectedly high unit costs.

Plan of Work (POW):
Section 105 of the Agricultural Research, Extension, and Education Reform Act of 1998 (AREERA) amended the Smith-Lever Act and the Hatch Act to require an approved POW for extension and research activities at 1862 Land-grant Institutions in order to receive Federal funding. As stated in the Preface to the Federal Register Notice at 71 FR 4107 (January 25, 2006), Although the District of Columbia receives extension funds under the District of Columbia Postsecondary Education Reorganization Act, Public Law 93-471, as opposed to the Smith-Lever Act, NIFA has determined that it should be subject to the POW requirements imposed under these guidelines except where expressly excluded. Therefore, the University of the District of Columbia must submit both a 5-Year Plan of Work Update for FY 2017-2021 (i.e., submitted as an annual update) and an Annual Report of Accomplishments and Results.

These reports should be submitted online through the NIFA Reporting Portal at the web address http://portal.nifa.usda.gov/portal. Additional information about the POW is available at http://nifa.usda.gov/tool/pow.

c. Final Technical Report
The Final Technical Report is required within 90 calendar days after the expiration or termination of the award. The Final Technical Report covers the entire period of performance of the award and must describe progress made during the entire timeframe of the project instead of covering accomplishments made only during the final reporting segment of the project. In addition to supplying the information required under item b. of this article, the final report must include the following when applicable:

Identify equipment purchased with any Federal funds under the award and indicate subsequent use of such equipment.

FINANCIAL REPORTING:
As outlined in 2 CFR 200.327, the recipient must submit financial status reports by the frequency required in the terms and conditions of the award. The following are the financial reporting requirements for NIFA.

Federal Financial Report, Form SF-425:
For the SLBC and the DCPPERA programs, SF-425 financial reports for the awards whether annual or final, will be due Dec. 31 each year. See http://nifa.usda.gov/program/smith-lever-act-capacity-grant for additional details of annual, final and financial reporting requirements.

A final Federal Financial Report, Form SF-425, is due 90 days after the expiration date of this award. The report must be submitted to the Awards Management Division (AMD) as a pdf attachment to an email sent to awards@nifa.usda.gov.

Program Descriptions 355 October 2017

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Statutory formulas are not applicable to this program. Matching Requirements: Section 1449 of NARETPA (7 U.S.C. 3222d) states that the State shall provide matching funds from non-Federal sources. Such matching funds shall be for an amount equal to not less than ... 100 percent of the formula [grant] funds to be distributed to the eligible institution for fiscal year 2007 and each fiscal year thereafter. ... Notwithstanding [redistributing the funds], the Secretary may waive the matching funds requirement ... above the 50 percent level for any fiscal year for an eligible institution of a State if the Secretary determines that the State will be unlikely to satisfy the matching requirement. Most regulations applicable to NIFA awards are housed in Title 7 of the Code of Federal Regulations. 7 CFR 3419.1 defines matching funds as funds from non-Federal sources made available by the State to the eligible institution ... [for] qualifying educational activities. NIFA defines non-Federal sources as funds made available by the State to the eligible institution either through direct appropriation or under any authority (other than authority to charge tuition and fees paid by students) provided by a State to an eligible institution to raise revenue, such as gift acceptance authority or user fees. Finally, it defines qualifying educational activities as programs that address food and agricultural sciences components of an eligible institution. 7 CFR 3419.6 states that The required matching funds for the formula programs shall be used by an eligible institution for agricultural research and extension activities that have been approved in the plan of work required under sections 1444 and 1445 of NARETPA ... or [for] qualifying educational activities. Matching funds means cash contributions and excludes in-kind matching contributions. It defines non-Federal sources as funds made available by the State to the eligible institution either through direct appropriation or under any authority (other than authority to charge tuition and fees paid by students) provided by a State to an eligible institution to raise revenue, such as gift acceptance authority or user fees. Finally, it defines qualifying educational activities as programs that address food and agricultural sciences components of an eligible institution. 7 CFR 3419.6 states that The required matching funds for the formula programs shall be used by an eligible institution for agricultural research and extension activities that have been approved in the plan of work required under sections 1444(d) and 1445(c) of the National Agricultural Research, Extension, and Teaching Policy Act of 1977or forqualifying education activities. NIFA may consider and approve matching waiver requests above the 50 percent level. See Part IV, B. 4. for instructions about how to request a waiver. MOE requirements are not applicable to this program.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

States are encouraged to spend Section 1444 Program funds in the year they are appropriated; however, if carryover is necessary, no more than 20 percent of the funds received by an institution in any fiscal year may be carried forward to the succeeding fiscal year. Prior approval from NIFA is required. Carryover limitations are legislatively mandated and NIFA is not authorized to approve any carryover requests beyond the 20 percent and one-year limitations.7 USC 3221. Formula and Matching Requirements:
Statutory Formula: Title NAREPTA, Public Law 95-113. FORMULA:
The National Institute of Food and Agriculture (NIFA) assessed four percent (4%) of the appropriated amount for Federal Administration, distributed sixty percent (60%) of the balance equally, and distributed the remaining forty percent (40%) based on the formula found in Section 1444 of NAREPTA of 1977, as amended (Pub. L. No. 95-113).

Within each institution, the research, teaching and extension programs must each receive at least 20 percent (20%) of the annual allocation. The remaining 40 percent (40%) may be allocated based on institutional needs for research, teaching, or extension. No more than 60 percent (60%) of the total allocation should be directed to research, teaching, or extension. However, if there are unique situations in your institution which warrant a deviation from these guidelines, we will consider requests for reallocation. Such reallocations must be justified by the submission of a situation statement which describes the research, teaching, and extension facilities needs in your institution and how previously available Federal funds were utilized. This program has no matching requirements. COST SHARING OR MATCHING:
NIFA does not require matching support for this program and matching resources will not be factored into the review process as evaluation criteria.

PERFORMANCE AND MONITORING REPORTS:

NIFA expects the awarded funds to be used for the acquisition and improvement of agricultural and food sciences facilities and equipment, including libraries, so that the 1890 land-grant institutions, including Tuskegee University, West Virginia State University and Central State University, may participate fully in human capital development in the food and agricultural sciences.

A. Performance Reports

Awardees of Federal funds are responsible for monitoring day-to-day project performance to ensure that project goals and performance schedules are met, contain costs, and accurately report progress to NIFA. An annual performance report is due in NIFA 90 days after completion of the initial grant award and annually thereafter during the project period. Each report shall cover work performed during the previous 12-month period, including any funded or unfunded time extensions. If this project is supported in annual funding increments, the performance report required as part of the grantee's annual follow-on grant proposal shall satisfy this reporting requirement through the grantee’s final application for funds. Thereafter these annual performance reports shall be submitted to the ADO. Performance reports should not exceed two pages in length, should contain appropriate identifying data and shall provide the following information:

Program Descriptions 359 October 2017

1. A comparison of actual accomplishments with the goals or objectives established for the program during the reporting period, including percentage-of-completion data and a computation of square footage costs for all projects undertaken;

2. The reasons for slippage if approved goals were not met;

3. Additional pertinent information including, when appropriate, analysis and explanation of cost overruns or unexpectedly high unit costs. Identify any issues, favorable or adverse conditions, changes, or situations which are expected to impact the scope, size, cost, or completion schedule for the project, along with a discussion of proposed or actual actions taken by your institution to resolve any problems encountered;

4. If the proposed represents any change to your approved five-year plan, please provide a description of, and justification for, the change;

5. A summary of activities to be undertaken during the ensuing 12-month period;

6. A listing of A/E, and construction contracts entered into during this reporting period only for each program component; and

7. A detailed breakdown of all project costs incurred to date (cumulative).

In addition to the Annual Performance report described above, the grantee is required to submit an annual progress report in REEport.

B. REEport Grant Reporting:

All grant reporting must be completed using the Research, Education, and Extension project online reporting tool (REEport). Initial reporting (item a. below) is to be submitted through the REEport system. Annual progress and final reporting (items b. and c. below) also is to be done through the REEport system. Information on REEport can be found on NIFA’s web site at https://nifa.usda.gov/tool/reepor and the REEport software can be found at http://portal.nifa.usda.gov.

a. Initial Documentation in the REEport Database--

Research, Education, and Extension project online reporting tool (REEport):

All projects must be documented in REEport. The NIFA contact for all REEport documentation is:

b. Annual Progress Reports.

All projects must report annually into REEport. An annual Progress Report is due 90 calendar days after the award’s anniversary date (i.e., one year following the month and day of which the project period begins and each year thereafter up until a final report is required). An annual Progress Report covers the most recent one-year period. The following information, when applicable, must be included in the Project Modifications section of the annual Progress Report:

1. A comparison of actual accomplishments with the goals established for the reporting period (where the output of the project can be expressed readily in numbers, a computation of the cost per unit of output should be submitted if the information is considered useful);

2. The reasons for slippage if established goals were not met; and

3. Additional pertinent information including, when appropriate, analysis and explanation of cost overruns or unexpectedly high unit costs.

C. Final Technical Report

The Final Technical Report is required within 90 calendar days after the expiration or termination of the award. The Final Technical Report covers the entire period of performance of the award and must describe progress made during the entire timeframe of the project instead of covering accomplishments made only during the final reporting segment of the project. In addition to supplying the information required under item b. of this article, the final report must include the following when applicable:

Identify equipment purchased with any Federal funds under the award and indicate subsequent use of such equipment.

FINANCIAL REPORTING:

As outlined in 2 CFR 200.327, the recipient must submit financial status reports by the frequency required in the terms and conditions of the award. The following are the financial reporting requirements for NIFA.

Fiscal Year 2016: The Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program (EFNEP) is funded as a national program, not as individual projects. All seventy-six 1862 and 1890 Land-Grant Institutions receive EFNEP funding each year and these are the only entities eligible for EFNEP funding. EFNEP is designed to assist limited resource audiences in acquiring the knowledge, skills, attitudes, and changed behavior necessary for nutritionally sound diets, and to contribute to their personal development and the improvement of the total family diet and nutritional well-being. Although EFNEP lessons may be tailored to meet the needs of participants, all programming follows the same model. Lessons are taught by peer educators using an evidence-based, interactive, culturally appropriate approach. Upon participant entry and exit data are collected on diet quality, physical activity, food safety, and food resource management practices, all of which influence health.

- Cooperative Extension as the mode of program outreach and delivery.

National Institute of Food and Agriculture, Department of Agriculture

AUTHORIZATION:

The authority for the Rural Health and Safety Education Competitive Grants Program is under Section 502 (i) of Title V of the Rural Development Act of 1972, as amended (7 U.S.C. 2662), 7 U.S.C 2662.

RURAL HEALTH AND SAFETY EDUCATION COMPETITIVE GRANTS PROGRAM

The RHSE program addresses the health and well-being of rural America through supporting the development and/or implementation of projects focused on: (1) individual and family health education programs with specified contents; (2) rural health leadership development education programs to assist rural communities in developing health care services and facilities and assist community leaders and public officials in understanding their roles and responsibilities; and (3) farm safety education programs to provide information and training to farm workers, timber harvesters, and farm families.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

- Project Grants (Discretionary)
- General Purpose Equipment

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Grant funds must be used for allowable costs necessary to conduct approved fundamental and applied research, extension and education objectives to address food and agricultural sciences and approaches. Grantees must use Cooperative Extension as the mode of program outreach and delivery. NIFA has determined that grant funds awarded under this authority may not be used for the renovation or refurbishment of research, education, or extension space; the purchase or installation of fixed equipment in such space; or the planning, repair, rehabilitation, acquisition, or construction of buildings or facilities. NIFA has determined that grant funds awarded under this authority may not be used for:

1. General Purpose Equipment
   - Which does not have a particular scientific, technical, or programmatic purpose. It includes passenger carrying vehicles, typewriters, furniture (tables, chairs, file cabinets, book cases, etc.), copy machines, fax machines, etc;
2. Entertainment
   - Banquets, awards ceremonies, and meals for persons not in a travel status, tickets to shows or sporting events, and alcoholic beverages;
3. Incentives
   - Federal funds may not be used to offer targeted program participants incentives (e.g., fast-food coupons, gift certificates, etc.) to entice participation. This is prohibited under the OMB Circulars;
4. Renovation or refurbishment of research, education, or extension space;
5. Purchase or installation of fixed equipment in such space;
6. Planning, repair, rehabilitation, acquisition, or construction of buildings or facilities; and
7. Any expense that is not directly related to the program or project would be considered unallowable. Costs such as child-care services hired so a person can attend a meeting or kitchen help hired to prepare refreshments for a field day, promotional or thank-you gifts such as T-shirts, coffee mugs, or canvas carry-all bags are unallowable because they are not directly related to the project plan.

Section 713 of the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2016 (Pub. L. 114-113) limits indirect costs to 30 percent of the total Federal funds provided (or 42.857 percent of total direct costs) under each award.

Applicant Eligibility:

Applications also may be submitted by any of the Tribal colleges and universities designated as 1994 Land Grant Institutions under the Educational Land-Grant Status Act of 1994, as amended.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

CREDENTIALES/DOCUMENTATION:

The System for Award Management (SAM) combines eight federal procurement systems, including CCR, and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance into one new system. CCR activities are conducted through SAM (the CCR website will redirect users to SAM).

 Dun and Bradstreet Universal Numbering System (DUNS) Number and System for Award Management (SAM): Each applicant (unless excepted under 2 CFR 25.100(b) or (c), or has an exception approved by the Federal awarding agency under 2 CFR 25.100(d)) is required to:

(i) Be registered in SAM before submitting its application;
(ii) Provide a valid DUNS number in its application; and
(iii) Continue to maintain an active SAM registration with current information at all times during which it has an active Federal award or an application or plan under consideration by a Federal awarding agency.

It also must state that the Federal awarding agency may not make a Federal award to an applicant until the applicant has complied with all applicable DUNS and SAM requirements and, if an applicant has not fully complied with the requirements by the time the Federal awarding agency is ready to make a Federal award, the Federal awarding agency may determine that the applicant is not qualified to receive a Federal award and use that determination as a basis for making a Federal award to another applicant.

Applicants must furnish the information required in the Competitive Request for Applications (RFAs). Successful applicants recommended for funding must furnish the information and assurances requested during the award documentation process. These include, but are not limited to the following:

Organizational Management Information - Specific management information relating to an applicant shall be submitted on a one time basis, with updates on an as needed basis, as part of the responsibility determination prior to the award of a grant identified under this RFA, if such information has not been provided previously under this or another NIFA program. NIFA will provide copies of forms recommended for use in fulfilling these requirements as part of the preaward process. Although an applicant may be eligible based on its status as one of these entities, there are factors which may exclude an applicant from receiving Federal financial and nonfinancial assistance and benefits under this program (e.g., debarment or suspension of an individual involved or a determination that an applicant is not responsible based on submitted organizational management information). OBJECTIVES:
The purpose of the FARAD is to provide livestock producers, extension specialists, scientists, and veterinarians with up to date information to prevent drug, pesticide and environmental contaminant residues in food animal products.

Collaboration between all institutions occurs on research projects that are necessary to validate the FARAD withdrawal interval estimates.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:
Project Grants (Discretionary)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:
The Food Animal Residue Avoidance Databank (FARAD) is a NIFA funding opportunity for the production of safe foods of animal origin through the development and dissemination of expert-mediated resources supporting prevention and mitigation of volatile chemical (drug, pesticide, natural toxins, and environmental contaminant) residues in food animal products. The major roles of each FARAD Center:

Kansas State University (KSU) - Develop pharmacokinetic modeling approaches and provide pharmacokinetic support to FARAD centers. In addition, develop an interface that links the developed models (physiologically-based PK models) with drug residue cases managed by responders at UCD and NCSU.

The University of California (UCD) Maintain the pharmacokinetic, bibliographic and call center databases and web-based access to the kinetic and bibliographic citation files. On a rotating basis with NCSU also provides responses to drug and contaminant residue questions submitted to FARAD.

The University of Florida (UFL) Collect and enter data for the US Approved Animal Drugs Database (US-AADD), maintains internet websites for FARAD, creates and supports platforms for mobile devices to access the Veterinarian's Guide to Residue Avoidance Management (VetGRAM) and other mobile-friendly applications, and distributes electronic alerts and updates via email, Twitter and other electronic formats.

North Carolina State University (NCSU) Develop pharmacokinetic modeling approaches and provide pharmacokinetic support to FARAD centers. In addition, develop an interface that links the developed Population PK models with drug residue cases managed by responders at UCD and NCSU. On a rotating schedule with UCD, provide responses to emergency queries (telephone, internet) from the FARAD Hotline. NCSU will work with a veterinary clinical pharmacologist provide veterinary clinical pharmacology technical support to responders at NCSU and UCD for drug residue cases submitted to FARAD and oversee that appropriate PK models are utilized to resolve FARAD cases submitted to NCSU and UCD response centers.

3. To integrate 4-H Military Partnership programming into ongoing Extension programs for children, youth, and families ensuring that at-risk, low income children, youth, and families continue to be part of Extension and/or 4-H programs and have access to resources and educational opportunities.

The CMPC-PDTA has three (3) strategic objectives:

1. To support community educational programs for at-risk children, youth, and families which are based on locally identified needs, soundly grounded in research, and which lead to the accomplishment of one of four CYFAR National Outcomes and

Applications that do not include complete copies of forms SF-424, SF-424A, SF-424B, SF LLL, and (in the case of corporations, regardless of whether they are for-profit or non-profit) AD-3030, are considered non-responsive and eliminated from further consideration. Applications that do not include all required information, as described in the RFA, FNS-10-545A, and FNS-10-545B have points deducted during the evaluation process.

Following the initial screening process, FNS may divide applications into two or more groups based on whether they are submitted by individual organizations or partnerships, scope of proposed projects, and/or similar characteristics so that similar applications may be compared against each other.

FNS assembles panels to review and score each application based on technical merits. The panels evaluate the proposals based on how well they address the evaluation criteria described in the RFA. The panels recommend the highest scoring applications for grant awards. The Selecting Official reserves the right to award a grant based solely on scoring, but may also consider agency priorities, program balance, available funding, geographical representation, or project diversity.

10.553 SCHOOL BREAKFAST PROGRAM

SBP

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Food and Nutrition Service, Department of Agriculture

AUTHORIZATION:

Program Descriptions 406

October 2017

OBJECTIVES:
To assist States in implementing a nutritious nonprofit breakfast service for school children, through meal reimbursements and food donations.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:
Formula Grants (Apportionments)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:
Federally appropriated School Breakfast Program funds are available to each State agency to reimburse participating public and nonprofit private schools, of high school grade and under, including residential child care institutions, for providing nutritious breakfasts to eligible children. The breakfasts offered must meet the nutritional requirements prescribed by the Secretary of Agriculture in order to be reimbursable. The rates of reimbursement are adjusted on an annual basis to reflect changes in the Food Away From Home series of the Consumer Price Index for all Urban Consumers. All participating schools must agree to serve free and reduced price meals to eligible children. Please refer to regulations: 7 CFR Part 220 -- School Breakfast Program; 7 CFR Part 235 -- State Administrative Expenses; 7 CFR Part 245 -- Free and Reduced Price Eligibility.

Applicant Eligibility:
States, including the District of Columbia and U.S. Territories, as applicable, may apply to administer the SBP and work in collaboration with public and nonprofit private schools and other institutions for children, such as public and nonprofit private residential child care institutions. All participating schools and institutions must agree to serve free and reduced price meals to eligible children, and operate a nonprofit meal service that is available to all children regardless of race, sex, color, national origin, age, or disability.

Beneficiary Eligibility:
All children attending schools where this program is operating may receive nutrition benefits, which are determined based on the household income and size. Breakfast is served free to children who are determined by the local education agency to have household income levels at or below 130 percent, and at a reduced price to children from households with incomes higher than 130 but at or below 185 percent of the Federal poverty line. Paid breakfast is served to children who are not eligible for free and reduced-price meals. The Secretary prescribes the income eligibility guidelines for free and reduced-price meals by July 1. These guidelines are revised annually according to the Federal Income Poverty Guidelines. Children from households certified to receive benefits through the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), Food Distribution Program on Indian Reservations, or Temporary Assistance for Needy Families, and children in Head Start programs are automatically eligible for free meals. Homeless children, children in certain runaway and homeless youth grant programs, migrant children, and foster children are automatically eligible for free meals. All reimbursable meals served under the SBP at the free, reduced-price, and paid categories get cash assistance.

Credentials/Documentation:
Applicant organizations must furnish evidence of nonprofit status. Costs will be determined in accordance with USDA Uniform Federal Assistance Regulations. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:
Preapplication coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review.

Application Procedures:
2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Public schools in all States apply to the State education agency, unless the State is approved for a waiver to designate an alternate agency. Appropriate forms may be obtained from the administering agency. Nonprofit private schools and institutions should also apply to the State education agency in most States. In some States, however, the State education agency is prohibited by statute from disbursing Federal funds to nonprofit private schools. In such instances, the application will be referred to the alternate State agency or the appropriate Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) regional office.

Award Procedure:
The State agency reviews the written application submitted by a school food authority/school or a residential child care institution and, upon determination of eligibility, makes a written agreement with the school or institution for participation in the program.

Deadlines:
Contact the headquarters or regional office, as appropriate, for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:
Effective upon approval by the State Agency or FNS regional office as applicable.

Appeals:
The State agency or FNS regional office, as applicable, is responsible for determining a school's eligibility for participation in the SBP.

Renewals:
Permanent, amended as necessary.

Formulas and Matching Requirements:
Statutory Formula: The funding formula for cash assistance is set forth in section 4 of the Child Nutrition Act, 42 U.S.C. 1773, on a performance basis by: (1) multiplying the number of paid breakfasts served to eligible children during the fiscal year by a National Average Payment (NAP) prescribed by the Secretary of Agriculture; (2) multiplying the number of breakfasts served free to eligible children by a NAP prescribed by the Secretary for free breakfasts; and, (3) multiplying the number of reduced price breakfasts served to eligible children by a NAP prescribed by the Secretary for reduced priced breakfasts. The amount of Federal funds given the grantees is the sum of the products obtained from these three computations.

Schools with a high percentage of needy children may receive additional payments. The statistical factors used in this formula are: (1) The NAPs; (2) the number of paid breakfasts served; and (3) the number of breakfasts served free or at reduced price to eligible children. The NAPs are prescribed by the Secretary and adjusted each July 1, in accordance with the Food Away From Home series of the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers. The source of this adjustment factor is the Bureau of Labor Statistics. The source of the numbers of breakfasts served, including the number served free or at reduced price, is the monthly programmatic reports submitted to FNS. Matching requirements are not applicable to this program. This program does not have MOE requirements.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:
For the period covered by the agreement on a fiscal year basis. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: by letter of credit.

Reports:
State Agencies, schools, and institutions file monthly reports on the number of meals served, by eligibility type, to claim program funds. Schools and institutions must submit final meal claims to the State no later than 60 days after claiming month. States must submit final program reports to FNS no later than 90 days after the claiming month. No cash reports are required. No progress reports are required. States must submit a final fiscal year grant closeout report to FNS no later than 120 days after the end of the fiscal year to which they pertain. Performance monitoring is not applicable.

Audits:
In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, non-Federal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503.

Records:
Schools must maintain full and accurate records of their breakfast programs. Such records must be retained for a period of 3 years after the end of the fiscal year to which they pertain, except that if audit findings have not been resolved, records must be retained beyond the 3-year period until audit findings have...
been resolved.

The Secretary prescribes the income eligibility guidelines for free and reduced-price meals by July 1. These guidelines are revised annually according to the Federal Income Poverty Guidelines. Children from households certified to receive benefits through the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), Food Distribution Program on Indian Reservations, or Temporary Assistance for Needy Families, and children in Head Start programs are automatically eligible for free meals. Homeless children, children in certain runaway and homeless youth grant programs, migrant children, and foster children are automatically eligible for free meals. All reimbursable meals served at the free, reduced-price, and paid categories get cash assistance.

Credentials/Documentation:
Applicant organizations must furnish evidence of nonprofit status. Costs will be determined in accordance with USDA Uniform Federal Assistance Regulations. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:
School food authorities must submit a written application to the State agency for any school in which it desires to operate the lunch program. At the local level, households may apply for free or reduced price meals under the lunch program by submitting an application furnished by the Food and Nutrition Service (FNS), the State agency, or the School Food Authority, as applicable. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review.

Application Procedures:
2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Public schools/school food authorities in all States apply to the State educational agency, unless the State is approved for a waiver to designate an alternate agency. Appropriate application forms may be obtained from the administering agency. Nonprofit, private schools and institutions should also apply to the State educational agency in most States. In some States, however, the State education agency is prohibited by statute from disbursing Federal Funds to nonprofit, private schools. In such instances, the application will be referred to the alternate State agency or the appropriate FNS Regional Office.

Award Procedure:
The State agency reviews the written application submitted by a school food authority/school or a residential child care institution and, upon determination of eligibility, makes a written agreement with the school or institution for participation in the lunch program.

Deadlines:
Contact the headquarters or regional office, as appropriate, for application
Range and Approval/Disapproval Time:
Effective upon approval by the State agency or FNS regional office as applicable.

Appeals:
The State agency or FNS regional office, as applicable is responsible for determining a school's eligibility.

Renews:
Permanent, amended as necessary.

Formula and Matching Requirements:
Statutory Formula: The funding formula for the general cash for food assistance phase of this program is set forth in section 4 of the Richard B. Russell National School Lunch Act, 42 U.S.C. 1753; the formula for special cash assistance is described in section 11 of the Act, 42 U.S.C.1759a. This program is funded on a performance basis. For every lunch served during the applicable fiscal year, the State receives a payment from funds made available under section 4. In addition, the State receives a payment from section 11 funds for each lunch served to a child eligible for free or reduced price lunches. The amounts of such per lunch payments are determined by "National Average Payment" (NAP) factors. The amount due the State under this program is obtained by: (1) multiplying the total number of eligible paid lunches and free and reduced price lunches served during the fiscal year by the applicable section 4 NAP factor for lunches; (2) multiplying the number of free lunches served by the section 11 NAP factor for free lunches; (3) multiplying the number of lunches served at reduced price by the Section 11 NAP factor for reduced price lunches; (4) multiplying the total number of lunches served during the fiscal year in school food authorities which served 60 percent or more free or reduced price lunches in the second preceding school year by $30; and (5) adding together the four products obtained thereby. The NAP factors are prescribed by the Secretary of Agriculture in accordance with sections 4 and 11, respectively, of the Act; the numbers of lunches are obtained from programmatic reports submitted to FNS. In addition to the NAP factors, lunches certified as meeting updated meal patterns and nutrition standards receive performance-based cash assistance of an additional 6 cents starting school year 2012-2013, adjusted annually thereafter as specified in 7 CFR 210.4(b)(1)(iii). The funding formula for snacks in after school care programs is described in section 17A of the Act, 42, U.S.C. 176a. Section 11(a)(3) of the Act requires that the NAP factors be adjusted annually, according to changes in the Food Away From Home series of the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers; the source is the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Also, schools receiving USDA Foods are eligible to receive donated commodities equal in value to the sum of section 6 and section 4 assistance rates, except that up to 5 cents of this amount may be received in cash for processing and handling commodities. In addition, schools receiving USDA Foods are eligible for section 11 free and reduced price meal reimbursements.

Matching Requirements: Percent: 30%. As specified in Section 7 of the National School Lunch Act, State revenue matching must be not less than 30 percent of the funds received by the State agency under section 4 of the National School Lunch Act beginning in the 1980-81 school year. This program has MOE requirements, see funding agency for further details. See funding agency for further details.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:
For the period covered by the agreement on a fiscal year basis. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: by letter of credit.

Reports:
State agencies and schools file monthly reports on the number of meals served, by type, to claim program funds. School food authorities must submit final meal claims to the State no later than 60 days after the claiming month, and States must submit final program reports to FNS no later than 90 days after the claiming month. States must submit annual fiscal year grant close out reports to FNS within 120 days after the end of the fiscal year to which they pertain. Annually, school food authorities must report, to their State agency, the most common charge for lunches served to children who do not qualify for free or reduced price lunches. School food authorities report the price charged at the elementary, middle and high school levels, as applicable. In turn the State agency submits this information to FNS for publication. No cash reports are required. No progress reports are required. Reports are required as specified in 7 CFR 210.5(d). Performance monitoring is not applicable.

Audits:
In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, non-Federal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503. Audits may be conducted less frequently under conditions specified in OMB Circular No. A-133.

Records:
Schools/school food authorities must maintain full and accurate records of their nonprofit food service operation, including—and but not limited to—records pertaining to finances, the price of paid lunches in relation to food costs, menu planning and production, and meal counting and claiming. School food authorities must make these records available to the State agency for review.

SPECIAL MILK PROGRAM FOR CHILDREN

To provide subsidies to schools and institutions to encourage the consumption of milk to children under five at educational institutions and institutions of child care within the meaning of the Richard B. Russell National School Lunch Act.
of fluid milk by children.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

FORMULA GRANTS

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Funds are made available to State agencies to encourage the consumption of fluid milk by children in public and private, nonprofit schools of high school grade and under, public and private, nonprofit nursery schools, child care centers, settlement houses, summer camps, and similar nonprofit institutions devoted to the care and training of children, except Job Corps centers, provided that these schools and institutions do not participate in a meal service program authorized under the National School Lunch Act or the Child Nutrition Act of 1966. The Child Nutrition Amendments of 1986 expanded eligibility to include children in split session kindergartens and pre-kindergartens in nonprofit schools and institutions that do not have access to the Federal meal service program operating in schools the children attend. Disbursement to States is made on the basis of the number of half-pints of milk served to non-needy children, using a reimbursement rate specified by law. Milk served free to eligible needy children is reimbursed at the average cost of a half-pint of milk. Please refer to regulations: 7 CFR Part 215 -- Special Milk Program; 7 CFR Part 235 -- State Administrative Expense; 7 CFR Part 245 -- Free and Reduced Price Eligibility.

Applicant Eligibility:

The State, including the District of Columbia, or U.S. Territory as applicable, administers this program. Public and nonprofit private school of high school grade or under, and public and private nonprofit residential and nonresidential child care institutions, except Job Corps centers, may participate in this program upon request if they do not participate in a meal service program authorized under the Richard B. Russell National School Lunch Act or the Child Nutrition Act of 1966. This generally includes nonprofit nursery schools, child care centers, settlement houses and summer camps. Schools with split session kindergarten and pre-kindergarten programs can receive subsidies for milk served to children in the split session kindergartens and pre-kindergartens that do not have access to another meal service program operating in the school. All schools and child care institutions that participate must agree to operate this program on a nonprofit basis for all children without regard to race, sex, color, national origin, age or disability.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

All children enrolled in participating schools and institutions who do not have access to other Child Nutrition Programs, may participate in this program.

Credentials/Documentation:

Applicant organizations must furnish evidence of nonprofit status. Costs will be determined in accordance with USDA Uniform Federal Assistance Regulations. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Preapplication coordination is not applicable. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State has established.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Public schools in all States make application to the State educational agency unless the State applies and is approved for a waiver to designate an alternate agency. Appropriate forms may be obtained from this agency. In most cases, nonprofit private schools and institutions also apply to the State educational agency. However, in some States, the State educational agency is prohibited by State statute from disbursing Federal funds to nonprofit private schools and institutions. In such instances, the application will be referred to the appropriate alternate State agency or the appropriate Food and Nutrition Service Regional Office (FNSRO).

Award Procedure:

The State agency reviews the written application of the school or child care institution and, upon determination of eligibility, makes a written agreement for participation in this program.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional office, as appropriate, for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

Agreements are effective upon approval of the State Agency.

Appeals:

State Agencies are responsible for determining eligibility of a school or institution.

Renewals:

Agreements are permanent; amended as necessary.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory Formula: Section 3(a) of the Child Nutrition Act of 1966, as amended, 42 U.S.C. 1772, describes the funding formula for cash assistance. The reimbursement rate for each paid half-pint of milk served to children is adjusted each school year to correspond to the change in the Producer Price Index for Fluid Milk Products published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. The statistical factor used for beneficiary eligibility for free milk is 130 percent of the poverty line and the source is the Federal income poverty guidelines. The cost of milk in excess of the Federal reimbursement must be borne by sources within the States (7 CFR Part 215). Disbursement to States is based on the number of half-pints served to children.

This program has no matching requirements. This program does not have MOE requirements.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

For the period covered by the agreement on a fiscal year basis. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: by letter of credit.

10.557 WIC SPECIAL SUPPLEMENTAL NUTRITION PROGRAM FOR WOMEN, INFANTS, AND CHILDREN
(WIC Program)

FEDERAL AGENCY:
Food and Nutrition Service, Department of Agriculture

AUTHORIZATION:

OBJECTIVES:
To provide low-income pregnant, breastfeeding and postpartum women, infants, and children to age five who have been determined to be at nutritional risk, supplemental nutritious foods, nutrition education, and referrals to health and social services at no cost. WIC also promotes breastfeeding as the feeding method of choice for infants, provides substance abuse education and promotes immunization and other aspects of healthy living.

For Formula Grants, the Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) makes funds available to participating State health agencies and Indian Tribal Organizations (ITOs) that, in turn, distribute the funds to participating local agencies. State and local agencies use WIC funds to pay the costs of specified supplemental foods provided to WIC participants, and to pay for specified nutrition services and administration (NSA) costs, including the cost of nutrition assessments, blood tests for anemia, nutrition education, breastfeeding promotion, and health care referrals.

For Project Grants, funding for the competitive Loving Support grant is available for formative research and educational material development in the campaign for breastfeeding promotion and support. This project will effectively build on the successes of the existing Loving Support campaign to inform, motivate and persuade the audience in an effective manner that continues to increase breastfeeding rates among WIC participants and increase support for breastfeeding among those who most influence breastfeeding mothers (their family and friends, health care providers, WIC staff, and relevant community partners).

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:
FORMULA GRANTS; Project Grants (Discretionary)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:
WIC Program Formula grants are made to State health departments or comparable agencies, Indian tribes, bands, or intertribal councils, or groups recognized by the Bureau of Indian Affairs, Department of the Interior, or the Indian Health Service of the Department of Health and Human Services. Funds are expended to pay for supplemental foods, nutrition education, breastfeeding promotion and support, health care referrals for participants, and other client services including certification, as well as administrative costs. State agencies are provided Federal funds according to legislative and regulatory formulas. Only local agencies qualifying under State agency applications with formal agreements may operate WIC programs.

The Loving Support Project grant is available to small businesses, nonprofits having a 501(c)(3) status with the IRS, WIC State agencies, institutions of higher education and for profit organizations other than small businesses, public and State controlled institutions of higher education and private institutions of higher education. Qualified applicants are expected to update the existing USDA breastfeeding promotion campaign or update and develop breastfeeding training for WIC staff. The campaign update will be based on a comprehensive social marketing plan with an emphasis on formative research, appropriately framed educational messages, innovative campaign strategies, and updated promotional materials. WIC breastfeeding training curricula for staff fall under the umbrella of the Loving Support campaign. Grant awards are contingent upon availability of funding.

The State agency must make a decision within 30 calendar days of receiving a complete application from the institution.

Appeals:
The administering agency must provide a hearing procedure for local institution grievances.

Renewals:

Formula and Matching Requirements:
Statutory Formula: Section 17(b) of the Richard B. Russell National School Lunch Act, 42 U.S.C. 1766, describes the funding formula for cash assistance. Program funds are provided to the States through letters of credit. The States, in turn, use the funds to reimburse institutions for costs of food service operations and to support State administrative expenses. Appropriate rates of reimbursement, multiplied by the number of meals served to eligible children or adult participants, represent the basic Program payment that an institution receives for each meal served. The assigned rates of reimbursement are adjusted annually on July 1. For child care centers, adult day care centers, emergency shelters, and at-risk afterschool care programs, the annual adjustment reflects changes in the Food Away from Home series of the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers. For day care homes, the adjustment reflects changes in the Food at Home series of the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers. Donated foods or cash-in-lieu of donated foods are also made available. Program payments to child care or adult day care centers depend on the number and types of meals served to enrolled participants, multiplied by the appropriate rate of reimbursement. Rates for meals served to enrolled children and adult participants in day care centers are determined by their eligibility for free, reduced-price, or paid meals using USDA Income Eligibility Guidelines. All resident children age 18 and younger in eligible emergency shelters receive free meals without application. At-risk afterschool care programs, which must be located in low-income areas, are reimbursed at the free rate for all meals and snacks served to children through age 18. Sponsoring organizations of day care homes are reimbursed for administrative expenses at a national rate based on the number of homes they operate. The level of reimbursement for meals served to enrolled children in day care homes is determined by economic need based...

10.559 SUMMER FOOD SERVICE PROGRAM FOR CHILDREN (SFSP)

FEDERAL AGENCY:
Food and Nutrition Service, Department of Agriculture

AUTHORIZATION:

OBJECTIVES:
To assist States, through grants-in-aid and other means, to conduct nonprofit food service programs for children. The United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) operates SFSP in partnership with State agencies and local organizations to provide free meals to eligible children during the summer months and at other approved times, when school is not in session. In addition, since 2010, FNS has implemented several types of demonstration projects to test alternative methods for feeding children during the summer months, such as the Summer Electronic Benefits Transfer (EBT) for Children grants. FNS supports this demonstration through two EBT models - a debit card model that allows participants to redeem benefits at SNAP-authorized retailers and a food package model that allows participants to redeem benefits for a prescribed set of foods at WIC-authorized retailers.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:
FORMULA GRANTS

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:
USDA’s Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) makes funds available to States for disbursement to eligible service institutions (sponsors) which provide free meals to children in areas where at least 50 percent of the children meet the income eligibility criteria for free and reduced price meals. Meals may be served to children 18 and younger, and to individuals over 18 who participate in State-approved school programs for persons with disabilities. SFSP generally operates during the months of May through September at sites locations where regularly scheduled food services are provided for children. Sites may also participate in SFSP from September through May if an area school is closed because of an emergency situation. Sponsors operating food programs for children on school vacation under a continuous year-round calendar may apply for participation in other months. Reimbursement may be paid for one meal and one snack or two meals to each child each day. Camps and sites primarily serving children of migrant workers may be approved to serve up to three reimbursable meals to each child each day. Meals must meet USDA standards to be eligible for reimbursement. Funds are also paid to participating State agencies for administrative expenses related to program staffing, operation, and oversight.

Summer demonstration projects either address funding limitations that restrict participation or provide an alternate approach to summer meals needed by children unable to access traditional congregate meal service sites. Assistance must be used for specific activities authorized by Child Nutrition legislation.
There may be restrictions as required by the legislation. Only States that formally apply and are selected by FNS are eligible to implement this demonstration to provide benefits to free and reduced-price eligible children whose families consent to participate.

Applicant Eligibility:
The State or U.S. Territory agency applies for and signs an agreement to receive Federal funds for disbursement. The State agency enters into an agreement with each sponsor that has been approved for participation. The agreement is permanent and may be amended as necessary to ensure compliance with all Federal requirements. Sponsors must agree to operate a nonprofit food service that is available to all eligible children regardless of race, sex, color, national origin, age, or disability.

Beneficiary Eligibility:
A service institution that conducts a regularly scheduled program for children from areas in which poor economic conditions exist is eligible to participate as a sponsor in this program. Sponsors include public or private nonprofit school food authorities; public or private nonprofit colleges or universities operating the National Youth Sports Program during the months of May to September; units of local, municipal, county, or State governments; and other faith or community-based private nonprofit organizations. Public or private nonprofit residential or nonresidential summer camps may also participate. However, at camps, reimbursement will only be paid for meals served to enrolled children who are individually determined to be eligible for free and reduced price school meals under USDA Income Eligibility Guidelines.

Credentials/Documentation:
Applicants that are not public institutions must furnish evidence of tax-exempt status under section 501(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:
Preapplication coordination is not applicable. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review.

Application Procedures:
2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. An applicant submits a written application to the State agency for participation in SFSF as a sponsor. FNS selects States for the Summer EBT demonstration through a formal grants process.

Award Procedure:
Each State agency enters into a written agreement with FNS for the administration of the Program. An approved sponsor enters into a permanent written operating agreement with the State. Awards for the Summer EBT demonstration are governed by amendments to State agency plans of operation or Federal/State agreements.

Deadlines:
Not Applicable.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:
The State agency must make a decision within 30 calendar days of receiving a complete and correct sponsor application. If an incorrect application is received, the State agency must notify the applicant within 15 days and provide technical assistance to complete the application.

Appeals:
The State agency must have a hearing procedure for local institution grievances.

Renewals:
The agreement is permanent and may be amended as necessary to ensure compliance with all Federal requirements.

Formula and Matching Requirements:
Statutory Formula: Sections 13(b) and (k) of the Richard B. Russell National School Lunch Act, 42 U.S.C. 1761, describe the funding formulas for cash assistance. Cash reimbursement to States under this program is the product obtained by multiplying the number of meals served by maximum rates of reimbursement established by USDA. State agencies use the cash assistance to reimburse sponsors for eligible meals served to eligible children. Since all meals are served free, all meals of the same type are funded at the same rate. Rates are adjusted annually on January 1, to reflect changes in the "Food Away from Home" series of the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers. Matching requirements are not applicable to this program. This program does not have MOE requirements.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:
Assistance is available for the period covered by the agreement. Summer EBT funds may be awarded to continue projects in summer 2017. Administrative funds may be awarded as two-year grants to support the demonstrations through the 2018 project year. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: by letter of credit.

Reports:
Sponsors file monthly reports on program operations to claim reimbursement for meals served. States must then submit final program reports to FNS no later than 90 days after the claiming month. No cash reports are required. Progress reports are required. No expenditure reports are required. No performance monitoring is required.

Audits:
In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, non-Federal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503. Audits may be conducted less frequently under conditions specified in OMB Circular No. A-133.

Records:
Sponsors must maintain full and accurate records of Program operations for a period of 3 years after the end of the fiscal year to which they pertain. However, where there are unresolved audit findings, records must be retained until there is satisfactory resolution of all audit issues.

PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS:
Fiscal Year 2016: FNS focused on decreasing childhood hunger in the summer months through targeted assistance at the State and local level and efforts to improve access in rural and tribal communities. During FY 2016, 48,618 meal service sites provided 154.5 million meals to children. The number of meals served declined 5.5 percent from FY 2015. Compared to FY 1990, meals have increased 70.2 percent from 91.2 million. Approximately 57.2 percent of the meals served were lunches, 28.2 percent were breakfasts, and the remaining 14.7 percent were suppers or snacks. FNS awarded Summer EBT funding to 2015 grantees to continue and expand their efforts to reach more children in rural, tribal, and other areas of significant need. Grantees were approved to target benefits to over 250,000 children, nearly 90 percent more than were served in 2015. Fiscal Year 2017: Funding needed for SFSF will increase to support 188.1 million meals. In an effort to institutionalize successful strategies, FNS has begun to shift from targeting assistance in focus States to promoting sustainable growth nationwide. In summer 2017, Summer EBT grantees have been approved to spend up to $30.3 million to continue providing summertime nutrition assistance to high-need children. Seven of the nine grantees are expanding their projects to serve more low-income children in rural communities in 2017 by adding communities within their State or Tribal Nation and boosting outreach to eligible children. Fiscal Year 2018: The current estimate projects a 2 percent increase in SFSP cost that would support 199.4 million meals, an increase of approximately 11.3 million meals (or 6.0 percent) above the estimate for FY 2017. Grants to two new applicants to operate demonstrations in 2018 will allow FNS and the States to test strategies for building Summer EBT infrastructure and engaging local communities. FNS intends to again conduct a competitive process that would award $31.5 million in Summer EBT grants.

Eligibility:

USDA FNS (Food and Nutrition Service) is responsible for monitoring the project and ensuring that the services are appropriate and meet all applicable standards.
USDA Foods and administrative grants are made to State agencies and Indian Tribal Organizations (ITO) by the Department of the Interior or the appropriate area office of the Indian Health Service of the Department of Health and Human Services. These agencies distribute USDA Foods and funds to participating local public or private nonprofit agencies. Federal funding for administrative costs may only be used in making USDA Foods and nutrition education available to eligible beneficiaries. USDA Foods can only be made available to eligible beneficiaries and cannot be sold, exchanged, or otherwise disposed of without prior specific approval by the Department.

Application Procedures:
Agreements are made between USDA and the State agency or an ITO recognized by the Department of the Interior or the appropriate area office of the Indian Health Service of the Department of Health and Human Services.

Beneficiary Eligibility:
To be certified as eligible to receive USDA Foods through the program, individuals must be at least 60 years of age. As required by the Agricultural Act of 2014 (P.L. 113-79), women, infants, and children who apply to participate in CSFP on February 7, 2014, or later cannot be certified to participate in the program. Such individuals may be eligible for the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC), the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), and other nutrition assistance programs.

States also establish income guidelines to determine program eligibility for all participants. For elderly persons, income guidelines must be set at or below 130 percent of Federal poverty income guidelines. For women, infants, and children who were certified and receiving benefits as of February 6, 2014, and whose enrollment has continued without interruption, separate income and adjunctive income eligibility standards continue to apply, based on program regulations.

States may require that participants be at nutritional risk, as determined by a physician or local agency staff. States may also require that an individual reside within the service area of the local agency at the time of application for program benefits. However, States may not require that the individual reside within the area for any fixed period of time.

Credentials/Documentation:
Participants are provided USDA Foods by local agency personnel or their designees. Costs are determined in accordance with 2 CFR 200, Cost Principles. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

The State agency or ITO must require each agency that desires approval as a local agency to submit an application that contains sufficient information to enable the State agency to make a determination of eligibility for that agency, and which meets the requirements of CSFP regulations, at 7 CFR 247. The section requires local agencies to have tax-exempt status, or to have applied for such status. Individual participants may apply for program benefits at an approved local agency.

Award Procedure:
USDA Foods and administrative funds are awarded by the Department to State agencies in accordance with the priorities and funding formulas set forth in program regulations and legislation. State agencies, in turn, distribute USDA Foods and administrative funds to the local level.

Team Nutrition Training Grants

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Food and Nutrition Service, Department of Agriculture

AUTHORIZATION:

Team Nutrition Training Grants are authorized under Public Law 111-296, which amended Section 19 of the Child Nutrition Act of 1966.

OBJECTIVES:

Team Nutrition is an initiative of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) to support their Child Nutrition Programs through training and technical assistance for foodservice, nutrition education for children and their caregivers, and school and community support for healthy eating and physical activity.

Team Nutrition Training Grunts for Healthy School Meals have been identified in USDA's national Strategic Plan for Training and Technical Assistance as one of the anchor delivery systems for supporting the implementation of USDA's nutrition requirements and the Dietary Guidelines for Americans in Child Nutrition programs. Team Nutrition's goal is to improve children's lifelong eating and physical activity habits by using the principles of the Dietary Guidelines for Americans and the USDA Food Guidance System.

FY 2015 (Competitive) Team Nutrition Training Grant Objectives

In FY 2015, State agencies were able to apply for a competitive Team Nutrition Training Grant. The objectives of the FY 2015 competitive grant included:

1. Use behavioral economics in the NSLP and/or CACFP to develop environmental cues to increase children's choice of whole grains, fat-free or low-fat dairy products, fruits, vegetables, and legumes.

2. Provide training for child nutrition foodservice staff on implementing the most recent Dietary Guidelines for Americans, applying for the HealthierUS School Challenge, maximizing the use of USDA Foods, and meeting meal pattern requirements.
3. Provide schools or child care providers participating in the USDA Child Nutrition programs with technical assistance to create and maintain a healthier school or child care environment, including strategies supporting implementation and evaluation of wellness policies as specified in the Healthy Hunger Free Kids Act of 2010.

FY 2016 (Competitive) Team Nutrition Training Grant Objectives

In FY 2016, State agencies will be able to apply for a competitive Team Nutrition Training Grant. The objectives of the FY 2016 competitive grant include:

1. Assist students participating in the National School Lunch and School Breakfast Programs with meeting the recommendations set forth in the 2015-2020 Dietary Guidelines for Americans by providing appealing and nutritious meals, nutrition education, and school environments that are conducive to healthy eating.

2. Improve the nutritional content of meals and snacks offered in child care centers and family day care homes participating in the Child and Adult Care Food Program (CACFP) to be consistent with healthy eating patterns and to assist young children with meeting the 2015-2020 Dietary Guidelines for Americans.

In FY 2016, State agencies can apply for up to $500,000 in funding through the competitive grants program, and these grants will have a three year period of performance.

Healthier US School Challenge has its own separate CFDA number 10.543

FY 2017 Team Nutrition Training Grant Objectives

In FY 2017, State agencies will be able to apply for a competitive Team Nutrition Training Grant. The objectives of the FY 2017 competitive grant include:

1. Assist school districts and states administering NSLP and SBP programs in providing:

Fiscal Year 2016: FY 2016 (Competitive) Team Nutrition Training Grants
On September 6, 2016, the FY16 Team Nutrition Training Grants were awarded to 14 State agencies. A summary of individual state activities can be found on the Team Nutrition Web site at http://www.fns.usda.gov/tn/2016-training-grants. The two largest competitive awards for FY 2016 were to Colorado ($499,707) and Maryland ($499,821).

The Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment, Child and Adult Care Food Program (Colorado CACFP) will develop and implement Colorado...
CHOP: Cooking up Healthy Options with Plants, a geographically targeted farm to child program designed to increase children's consumption of fresh, seasonal, and local fruits and vegetables. Colorado CACFP will collaborate with local stakeholders to offer a three tiered intervention that incorporates culinary trainings, nutrition education using Team Nutrition Grow It, Try It, Like It! kit, and gardening activities. Colorado CACFP will assess the effectiveness of grant activity components by comparing the following interventions: 1) one-day group culinary training of 100 CACFP providers and 25 partners alone; 2) one-day group culinary training and garden-based nutrition education sub-grants in 25 day care center and homes; and 3) one-day group culinary training, garden-based nutrition education sub-grants, and culinary coaching in 16 child care centers and homes. Colorado CACFP will collect evaluation data using the Minnesota Department of Education Mealtine Assessment for Child Care Centers Scorecard, the Nutrition and Physical Activity Self-Assessment for Child Care (Go NAP SACC), the Oregon Harvest for Healthy Kids Food Preference Assessment, the Fruit and Vegetable Inventory Tool, and the Washington State University Master Gardener Program Evaluation Tool.

Senior Farmers Market Nutrition Program (SFNMP)

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Food and Nutrition Service, Department of Agriculture

AUTHORIZATION:
OBJECTIVES:
The purposes of the Senior Farmers Market Nutrition Program (SFMNP) are:
(1) Provide resources in the form of fresh, nutritious, unprepared, locally grown fruits, vegetables, honey, and herbs from farmers markets, roadside stands, and community supported agriculture (CSA) programs to low-income seniors;
(2) Increase the domestic consumption of agricultural commodities by expanding or aiding in the expansion of domestic farmers markets, roadside stands, and CSAs; and (3) Develop or aid in the development of new and additional farmers markets, roadside stands, and CSAs.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:
The SFMNP is administered through a federal/State partnership in which the and federally recognized Indian Tribal Organizations (ITOs) to provide low-income seniors with coupons that can be exchanged for eligible foods at farmers markets, roadside stands, and community supported agriculture (CSA) programs. The majority of grant funds must be used for benefits. State agencies can use up to 10 percent of their grants for program administrative costs.

Census:
Census is a required activity to measure the number of participants served with SFMNP funds, and to maintain grant levels. State agencies must report on a yearly basis as specified by FNS. Such information must include, but shall not be limited to: (1) Number of participants served with Federal SFMNP funds; (2)
Value of coupons issued and/or eligible foods ordered under CSA programs; (3)
Value of coupons redeemed and/or eligible foods provided to participants under CSA programs; and (4) Number of authorized outlets by type; i.e., farmers, farmer markets, roadside stands, and CSA programs. Cash reports are not applicable. Progress reports are not applicable. Expenditure reports are not applicable. Performance monitoring is not applicable.

Audits:
In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, non-Federal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or each State agency may decide whether to authorize roadside stands and/or CSA programs. The State agency may authorize a farmer for participation in a farmers market, a roadside stand, and/or CSA program simultaneously. All contracts or agreements entered into by the State agency for the management or operation of farms, farmers markets, roadside stands, and/or CSA programs shall conform to the requirements of 7 CFR 3016. Only farmers, farmers markets, and/or roadside stands authorized by the State agency may redeem SFMNP coupons.

Award Procedure:
Funds are awarded by the Department on the basis of funding formulas to State agencies. If the available funds are insufficient to meet the base grant levels for awarded to all participating SFMNP State agencies. To the extent permitted by available funds, each State agency shall receive at least $75,000 or the amount that the State agency received for the most recent prior fiscal year in which the State participated, if that amount is less than $75,000. If additional funds

WIC State agencies must analyze both on-line and off-line EBT technologies to assess the most cost-effective solution.
5. WIC Technical Innovation Grants (competitive). WIC Technical Innovation grant funds are provided to WIC State agencies for the development of standardized reporting, retailer certification test scripts, and development of a web-based Internet system that will allow WIC participants to access grocer's websites, select WIC approved foods and purchase them with their EBT card from the convenience of their homes.

Special Instructions

Letters of Commitment or Endorsement
FNS recognizes that the grant proposals responding to this RFA will directly affect State agency operations. Therefore, if the grant proposal is from an entity other than a State agency, it must show that a State agency strongly endorses or is involved in the proposed project in order to be considered.

Please refer to the two types of letters described below to determine which is appropriate to submit with your proposal. Please note that State agencies are able to submit an application on their own in which case a letter of endorsement is needed. If the State agency is partnering with another entity on the project a letter of commitment from that entity is required.

State agencies may choose to submit an application on their own as well as additional application(s) with other organizations. Please refer to the section above on Limitations on the Number of Applications. Applications that require a letter of commitment or a letter of endorsement which fail to provide one will be considered non-responsive and eliminated from consideration. FNS will NOT consider additions or revisions to applications once they are received. Therefore, unless the applicant is a State agency submitting an application on its own, a letter of commitment or letter of endorsement must be included as part of the application package to be considered for funding. Such letters may be addressed to the FNS Grant Officer. A Letter of Commitment is required if the grant proposal is from a State agency working in partnership with another organization(s). The letter(s) of commitment must describe:
- the organizations role in the project,
- the amount of time it intends to commit to the project and an attestation that it will cooperate with the grant applicant in implementing the project, and
- must be provided on the respective organizations letterhead and be signed by an authorizing individual.

A Letter of Endorsement is required if an applicant is not partnering with a State agency. The State agency's letter of endorsement must:
- explain that the State agency is aware of the projected impact on its system and is supportive of the proposed project, and
- be on the respective State agencies letterhead and be signed by an authorizing official. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

RFA.

Award Procedure:
Following the initial screening process, FNS will assemble a peer panel group to review and determine the technical merits of each application. The peer panel will evaluate the proposals based on how well they address the required application components. The peer panel members will recommend applications for consideration for a grant award based on the evaluation scoring. The selecting official reserves the right to award a grant to meet agency priorities, program balance, geographical representation, or project diversity.

The selecting official will consider the panel recommendations. In general, awards will be based on rank funding order. However, FNS reserves the right to fund out of rank order to achieve agency priorities (such as to grant an award to an entity that includes a joint effort between a State agency and a community-based or faith-based organization, demographic, or socioeconomic diversity, etc.). If the panel review indicates that FNS has received few or no technically acceptable proposals, the selecting official may determine that FNS will make no awards, or commit less than the $5 million set aside for this purpose.

OBJECTIVES:
These awards enable Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) to enter into grants and cooperative agreements with States and local governments, universities, hospitals and non-profit organizations to identify, develop, and undertake projects to meet FNS program needs and the food, nutrition, and health of program eligible participants. The grantees and recipients are expected to work cooperatively with FNS to:
- Support researcher-initiated projects that use a common approach to reporting findings to ensure transparency and facilitate a meta-analysis of all projects;
- Coordinate activities among researchers;
- Effectively use technology and digital media to achieve desired outcomes; and
- Advance communication and coordination to improve target behaviors.

The grants and cooperative agreements plan to enable FNS to be more responsive to program needs and the food, nutrition, and health needs of FNS program participants.

The objective of the WIC Periconceptional Grant is to establish a university-based grant series for researcher-initiated projects to demonstrate creative approaches to evaluate the impacts of WIC on periconceptional nutrition. FNS focus for this project is the direct and indirect effects of WIC participation by one or more family members during the periconceptional period and the implications for service delivery. During the periconceptional period, the time period immediately prior to conception and in the first few days and weeks following conception, nutrition can impact placental and embryonic development with critical lifelong implications. This project supports a university-based grant series for researcher-initiated projects to demonstrate creative approaches to evaluate WIC impacts on periconceptional nutrition, coordinate activities among researchers, and widely disseminate findings from current research.

The WIC Nutrition Education Innovations’ Grant’s objective is to enhance the effort to identify, develop, evaluate, and disseminate innovative and effective WIC nutrition education interventions. This is to be accomplished by providing grant funding for a university-based center with this charge, including a program of sub-grants to support development and evaluation of WIC-focused researcher-initiated innovations from researchers across the nation.

The grant and cooperative agreement funds are provided to recipients (grantees) responsible to spend the funds in accordance with what is set forth in the grant or cooperative agreement, and applicable Federal circulars such as A-110. The source and use of the funds for the grants and cooperative agreements will be tied to a project of interest to one or more of FNS’ program areas. FNS has the discretion to select (through competition) what institution will receive the funds and to what research endeavors they will be applied, assuming that research is not specified in the law or other directive.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:
(1) Statement of Need; (2) Project Design; (3) Implementation Plan and Organizational Capacity; (4) Capacity to Support Independent Evaluation; and (5) Application Budget Narrative.
Uses and Use Restrictions:
Cooperator funds are authorized through program agreements with nonprofit U.S. trade associations, called Cooperators, that provide for partial reimbursement of generic promotional activities in a Unified Export Strategy application approved by the Foreign Agricultural Service (FAS), the agency that administers the program for the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC). In general, Cooperator funds may be used only in direct support of activities conducted outside the United States. Types of activities that may be funded include trade servicing, market research, and technical assistance to actual or potential foreign purchasers of U.S. commodities.

Applicant Eligibility:
The Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) enters into agreements with those nonprofit U.S. trade organizations that have the broadest possible producer representation of the commodity being promoted. To be approved, an applicant's proposal must indicate how it can effectively contribute to the creation, expansion, or maintenance of markets abroad. FAS considers a number of factors when reviewing proposed projects. These factors include: (1) The applicant's willingness to contribute resources including cash and goods and services of the U.S. industry and foreign third party; (2) the ability of the organization to provide an experienced U.S.-based staff and with technical and international trade expertise to ensure adequate development, supervision, and execution of the proposed project; (3) the degree to which the proposed project is likely to contribute to the development, expansion, or maintenance of foreign markets; and (4) the degree to which the strategic plan is coordinated with other private or U.S. government-funded market development projects.

Beneficiary Eligibility:
Preference is given to nonprofit U.S. trade organizations which are nationwide in membership and scope.

Credentialed/Documented:
U.S. applicants must prove the ability to provide a competent experienced staff and other resources to assure adequate development, supervision, and execution of promotional activities. Applicants must submit a written export strategy that provides a brief discussion of the commodity for which an agreement is being requested and a description of proposed activities including the foreign countries in which they will be conducted. Applicants must also submit their Internal Revenue Service tax exempt identification number, a Dun and Bradstreet Data Universal Numbering System (DUNS) number, a description of the membership of the applicant organization, a description of the organization's management and administrative capability, the degree to which membership represents national production, an estimate of the level of Government funds required, and the extent to which industry resources are available to match Government expenditures. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Each approved applicant receives a program agreement and an approval letter that specifies any special terms and conditions applicable to a Cooperator's program. 10.610 EXPORT GUARANTEE PROGRAM
The GSM-102 Program

FEDERAL AGENCY:
Foreign Agricultural Service, Department of Agriculture

AUTHORIZATION:

OBJECTIVES:
The U.S. Department of Agriculture’s (USDA) Export Credit guarantee Program (GSM-102) provides credit guarantees to encourage financing of commercial exports of U.S. agricultural products, while providing competitive credit terms to buyers. By reducing financial risk to lenders, credit guarantees encourage exports to buyers in countries, mainly developing countries that have sufficient financial strength to have foreign exchange available for scheduled payments. The program guarantees credit extended by the private banking sector in the U.S. (or, less commonly, by the U.S. exporter) to approved foreign banks using dollar-denominated, irrevocable letters of credit for purchases of U.S. food and agricultural products by foreign buyers. USDA's Foreign Agricultural Service (FAS) administers the program on behalf of the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC), which issues the credit guarantees. GSM 102 covers credit terms of up to three years; maximum terms may vary by country.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Guaranteed/Insured Loans

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

CCC guarantees payments due from approved foreign banks to exporters or financial institutions in the U.S. However, the financing must be obtained through normal commercial sources. Typically, 98 percent of principals and a portion of interest are covered by a guarantee because payment is guaranteed, financial institutions in the U.S. can offer competitive credit terms to the foreign banks, usually with interest rates based on the London Inter Bank Offered Rate (LIBOR). Any follow-up on credit arrangements between the foreign bank and the importer are negotiated separately and are not covered by the CCC guarantee.

Application Procedures:

Export Credit Guarantee Program (GSM-102) provides credit guarantees to encourage financing of commercial exports of U.S. agricultural products, while providing competitive credit terms to buyers. By reducing financial risk to lenders, credit guarantees encourage exports to buyers in countries, mainly developing countries, that have sufficient financial strength to have foreign exchange available for scheduled payments. This Program provides guarantees to lenders.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Exporters or the exporters assignee are the direct beneficiaries and must meet the applicant eligibility requirements. Interested parties, including U.S. exporters, foreign buyers, banks, may request that the CCC establish a GSM-102 program for a country or region. Prior to announcing the availability of guarantees, the CCC evaluates the ability of each country and foreign bank to service CCC guaranteed debt.

CREDENTIALS/DOCUMENTATION:

No Credentials or documentation are required. This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles.

Preapplication Coordination:

Preapplication coordination is not applicable. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

 Application Procedures:

This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards. CCC must qualify exporters for participation before accepting guarantee applications. An exporter must have a business office in the U.S. and must not be debarred or suspended from any U.S. government program. Financial institutions must meet established criteria and be approved by CCC. CCC sets limits and advises each approved foreign bank to service CCC guaranteed debt.

Award Procedure:

The CCC-approved foreign bank issues a dollar-denominated, irrevocable letter of credit in favor of the U.S. exporter, ordinarily advised or confirmed by the financial institution in the U.S. agreeing to extend credit to the foreign bank. The U.S. exporter may negotiate an arrangement to be paid as exports occur by assigning to the U.S. financial institution to the right to process that may become payable under the CCC’s guarantee. Under this arrangement, the exporter would also provide transaction-related documents required by the financial institution, including a copy of the export report, which must also be submitted to CCC.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional office, as appropriate, for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

Please contact the headquarters or regional office for addition approval information.

Appeals:

Not Applicable.

Renewals:

Not Applicable.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory Formula: Title 7, Chapter 14, Part 1493. CCC will review documents submitted under a claim. If all information and documents are in good order and meet the requirements of the regulations, CCC will pay to the exporter (or the exporter's assignee) the lesser of 1) the guarantee value stated in the payment guarantee, plus eligible interest; 2) the guaranteed percentage, indicated in the payment guarantee, of the exported value as indicated in the Evidence of Export, plus eligible interest. Matching requirements are not applicable to this program.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

The payment guarantee applies to a credit period established in the application, and coverage begins either on the date(s) of export or the date when interest begins to accrue, whichever is earlier. Coverage will continue during the credit term specified in the payment guarantee. However, the payment guarantee does not become effective until the date of export. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: by letter of credit.

Reports:

No reports are required.

Audits:

This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements. Recipients under this program are subject to audit by the Office of the Regional Inspector General, U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Records:

For CCC audit purposes, the U.S. exporter must obtain documentation to show that the commodity arrived in the eligible country, and the exporter or the exporter's assignee must maintain all transaction documents for five years from the date of completion of all payments.

Account Identification:

12-1336-0-1-351.

Obligations:

(Certified/Insured Loans) FY 16 $6,748,000,000; FY 17 est $6,735,000,000; and FY 18 est $6,735,000,000

10.665 SCHOOLS AND ROADS - GRANTS TO STATES
Payments to States
FEDERAL AGENCY:
Forest Service, Department of Agriculture
AUTHORIZATION:
OBJECTIVES:
To share receipts from the National Forests and supplemental mandatory appropriations with States in which the National Forests are situated.
TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:
FORMULA GRANTS
USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:
For Federal fiscal years 2008 through 2011, reauthorized one year for FY 2012, reauthorized one year for FY 2013, and reauthorized for two years in 2015 to provide for payments in FY 2015 and FY 2016. The Secure Rural Schools Act allows counties in which national forests are situated to elect to share in the State payment (based on a formula in the Act) or to share in the state's 25-percent payment (based on the 7-year rolling average of receipts from national forests in the State). The fiscal year 2014 payment was made to states in May 2015. The 25-percent payments to states are to be used for the benefit of public schools and public roads in the counties in which national forests are situated. An eligible county that elects to receive a share of the State payment (based on the formula in the Act) must under some circumstances allocate a portion of that payment for title II special projects on national forests or title III county projects, or both. The portion of the Secure Rural Schools Act State payments not allocated for these purposes are to be used to benefit public schools and public roads in counties in which national forests are situated. The payments to benefit schools and roads are commonly called title I funds. Funds allocated by counties for title II special projects are reserved in a special account in the General Treasury and may be used by the Secretary of Agriculture for projects that improve the maintenance of existing infrastructure, enhance forest ecosystems, and restore and improve land health and water quality on national forests. Funds allocated by counties for title III county projects may be used only to: (1) carry out activities under the Firewise Communities program to provide homeowners in fire sensitive ecosystems education on, and assistance with implementing, techniques in home siting, home construction, and home landscaping that can increase the protection of people and property from wildfires; (2) reimburse the participating county for search and rescue and other emergency services, including firefighting, that are performed on a national forest after the date on which the use was approved, and paid for by the participating county; and (3) develop community wildfire protection plans in coordination with the Forest Service acting on behalf of the Secretary of Agriculture.
Applicant Eligibility:
Title I payments are made to States or territories of the United States to be allocated to counties in which national forests are situated. Title II project funds are reserved in special account in the U.S. Treasury and may be used by the Secretary of Agriculture for the purpose of entering into and implementing cooperative agreements with willing Federal agencies, State and local governments, private and nonprofit entities, and landowners. (16 U.S.C. 7122).
Title III funds are paid to respective states to be passed-through to participating counties. Title III funds are paid to respective states to be passed-through to participating counties.
Beneficiary Eligibility:
A beneficiary of title II special project funds is a person or entity that receives a grant or enters into a cooperative agreement with the Secretary of Agriculture to carry out a project for protection, restoration, and enhancement of fish and wildlife habitat, and other resource objectives consistent with the purposes of the Secure Rural Schools Act on national forests and on non-national forest land where projects would benefit the resources on national forests. (16 U.S.C. 7122)
A beneficiary of title III funds is a participating county in which a national forest is situated that has elected to allocate a portion of its State payments for title III county projects.
Credentials/Documentation:
OMB circulars apply to title II special projects implemented using Financial Assistance instrument for public benefit projects. OMB circulars are not applicable to projects when implemented using partnership transaction on or adjacent to National Forest System (NFS) Lands. No Credentials or documents are required for title I or title III payments. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Deadlines:
Contact the headquarters or regional office, as appropriate, for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:
For title II, within 30 days of a rejection decision the Forest Supervisor shall notify the resource advisory committee in writing of the rejection and the reasons for the rejection.

Appeals:
A decision to reject a title II project is not subject to administrative appeal or judicial review. (16 U.S.C 7124).

Renewals:
Not Applicable.

Formula and Matching Requirements:
Statutory Formula: Statutory Formula: Statutory Formula: Under title I - Secure Payments for States and Counties Containing Federal Land, each county in an eligible state elected to receive one of the following payments: a share of the states 25- percent rolling average payment, or a share of the State payment calculated using the formula in the Secure Rural Schools Act. The payment to the state under the Secure Rural Schools Act is the sum of the county elections in that state. The 25-percent payments to states, is an amount equal to the annual average of 25-percent of amounts received for the applicable fiscal year and each of the preceding 6 fiscal years from each national forest. This amount is used to calculate a counties share of the states 25-percent payment. The sum of shares for counties that elect to receive this payment is paid to the state under the Secure Rural Schools Act. State payments for fiscal years 2008 through 2014 were calculated using a complex formula with multiple factors, including acres of proclaimed national forest within an eligible county, the average 3 highest 25-percent payments made to each eligible State for each eligible county for the eligibility period 1986 through 1999, and the annual per capita personal income for each county. The sum of shares for counties that elect to receive this payment is paid to the state under the Secure Rural Schools Act.

Matching Requirements: There are no matching requirements for the 25-percent payment to states or for the State payment. Acquisition management regulations and procedures applicable to the Forest Service for purchases, contracts, grants, and agreements may impose matching requirements on title II projects.

MOE requirements are not applicable to this program. Length and Time Phasing of Assistance (102):
The 25-percent payments and State payments for amounts allocated to title I and title III are generally made by December 31st or as soon thereafter as practicable each year after the close of the applicable fiscal year. Title II funds are not paid to the State but are reserved in a special account in the General Treasury available for projects recommended by a resource advisory committee and approved by the Forest Supervisor acting on behalf of the Secretary of Agriculture.

Certification of title II expenditures and funds not obligated within the calendar year are due by February 1st of the subsequent year for counties having received title II funding.

Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503. Formula and Matching Requirements:
Statutory formulas are not applicable to this program.

Matching Requirements: Funding for the Cooperative Forest health Protection program is provided to states to help support a base level of professional forest health expertise for non-federal forest managers. Grants for this program are allocated to states using a formula that is based on the number of acres of non-federal forest land within the states, other factors, and amount of funding available through annual appropriations.

Applicant matching for cooperative Forest Health Protection programs and projects that treat specific forest health problems on non-federal lands is required and is 50%. In cases where it is mutually agreed upon that an applicant will treat federal lands as part of a cooperative project or program, the Forest Service reimbursement is 100% for the federal portion. However, applicant matching rates may be adjusted in emergency or extraordinary situations. Forest Service cost-share rates for activities involving development of new and improved forest health protection methods and technologies, and the conduct of special projects and evaluations are negotiated on a project-by-project basis with the grantee. Exceptions from the 50% cost-share requirement must be approved by the Deputy Chief for State and Private Forestry. The applicant share of cooperative programs may be in the form of cash, services, or in-kind contributions. If a state elects to consolidate the annual Forest Service financial assistance, in lieu of functional cost sharing mechanisms, the total consolidated payment to any state during any fiscal year may not exceed the total amount of non-federal funds expended to implement its state forest resources program during that year. Treatment funds and activities cannot be a part of the consolidated payment and must stand alone to meet the 50% match requirement. (See FSM 3401.22).

MOE requirements are not applicable to this program.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:
Grants are typically awarded for one or two years and may be extended on request and with the approval of the program manager. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released: Payments made based on authorization and negotiation of provisions with cooperator.

10.681 WOOD EDUCATION AND RESOURCE CENTER (WERC) (WERC)
FEDERAL AGENCY:
Forest Service, Department of Agriculture

AUTHORIZATION:

OBJECTIVES:
To provide technical assistance and funds, on a cost-share basis, for projects that enhance opportunities for sustained forest products production for primary and secondary wood industries located in the eastern hardwood forest region of the United States. In order to maintain and improve the health and stewardship of our Nation's forests, local wood-using industries need to be vibrant and able to utilize a wide variety of resources from the forest. Priorities include:

- Maintain the economic competitiveness of primary and secondary wood industries. Examples include:
  1. Encouraging the adoption of new technology to improve competitiveness and profitability,
  2. Bringing information and technology about processing, marketing, and business-related skills as well as urban wood utilization to existing and emerging businesses, and
  3. Developing utilization options that improve forest stewardship and health.
- Support activities that maintain or enhance harvesting industry capacity to serve the wood industry.

Increase the knowledge and information about how the wood industry can contribute to the green building movement. Examples include chain of custody certification for sustainable wood products as well as life cycle analysis for a range of wood products.

Increase the knowledge, information, and promotion of how carbon sequestration by wood products can provide a competitive edge to a sustainable forest products industry. An example includes developing specific carbon storage factors for a range of wood products.

Develop technology and markets to address urgent issues on a global or domestic scale, including:
1) Sanitizing wood packaging materials, firewood, and similar products to eliminate these pathways for the transport of insect and disease pests, and
2) Developing markets for and using unexpected increases in the volume of urban and rural wood due to new pest introductions (for example, emerald ash borer) and weather events such as tornadoes and ice storms.

Increase the sustainable use of woody biomass to meet our Nations needs for energy, raw materials, and reductions of hazardous fuels. Examples include public/private partnerships for using woody biomass in heating and cooling, process energy, cogeneration, district energy systems, and solid and liquid fuel production. Projects may also develop or maintain local markets and forest industry infrastructure by using woody biomass for both energy and value-added products. Provide key information to address the economic, social and ecological aspects of woody biomass production and use: including sustainable supplies, harvesting techniques, forest management, plantation development, and environmental implications.

10.690 Lake Tahoe Erosion Control Grant Program

Federal Agency:

Forest Service, Department of Agriculture

Authorization:

Objectives:

To make annual payments to the governing bodies of each of the political subdivisions (including public utilities) located in the Lake Tahoe Basin to be used primarily for erosion control and water quality projects. The goal of the program is to provide federal assistance to address urban stormwater runoff pollution, the primary source of pollutants (fine sediment and nutrients) affecting the clarity of Lake Tahoe. This program addresses urban runoff from public roads and right of ways.

To fund a competitive grant award program for research projects high in technical merit and relevant to land management and regulatory agencies working in the Tahoe Basin. The goal of the program is to promote applied, timely, relevant research that addresses natural resource management needs in the basin. Research funded through this program addresses key management questions, includes input from agencies, produces decision-support tools that are useful and accessible, fosters collaboration and communication, builds on previous research, and ultimately addresses the science needs identified in the Lake Tahoe Environmental Improvement Program. The environmental goals of the Lake Tahoe Environmental Improvement Program are defined using thresholds that were established to protect the natural environment and maintain public health and safety within the basin. The threshold categories are: 1) water quality, 2) wildlife, 3) soil conservation, 4) scenic resources, 5) air quality, 6) recreation, 7) vegetation, 8) noise, and 9) fisheries.

Types of Assistance:

Cooperative Agreements; Project Grants

Uses and Use Restrictions:

Only after water quality and soil conservation thresholds have been achieved, funds may be used to address other environmental threshold categories. Payments shall be used only to carry out a project or proposed project that is part of the environmental improvement program adopted by the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency in 1998.

Applicant Eligibility:

Eligible applicants for National Forest System awards include State Forestry or equivalent agencies, tribes, non-profits, and municipalities in the local governing bodies of political subdivisions in the Lake Tahoe basin.

Eligible applicants for competitive research awards include State Agricultural Experiment Stations, universities and colleges, State and local governments, U.S. Territories, nonprofit research institutions or organizations, international organizations, individuals, and for-profit organizations.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Beneficiary eligibility for National Forest System awards include governing bodies of each of the political subdivisions (including public utilities) located in the Lake Tahoe Basin.

Beneficiary eligibility for competitive research awards include organizations and scientists involved in basic and applied research activities related to forest and rangeland renewable resources.

Credentials/Documentation:

No credentials or documentation are required. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Submittal of an annual list of priority projects, along with written proposals for each of the identified priority projects. The USFS has chosen to adopt the State guidelines for the format of these proposals, since they meet all the needs for project narratives for federal grant considerations, with one additional requirement. That additional requirement is clear identification of sources and amounts of proposed match funding.

Implementation of construction projects under awarded grants are not allowed until a signed project decision under NEPA has been made, allowing the use of federal grant funds for implementation. Local Office monitors grant awards to assure compliance of this restriction. Planning, design, and monitoring grants do not require an environmental impact assessment. An environmental impact assessment is required for this program.

For competitive research awards, applicants must adhere to the requirements of the current Request for Proposals as stipulated by the Pacific Southwest Research Station. An environmental impact assessment is required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Project narratives submitted through the pre-application process are reviewed by an interagency technical advisory committee convened by the Federal grants program managers. Projects are then identified for award, along with instructions for any needed revisions to the project narratives. At that time, eligible applicants submit revised narratives along with standard application forms and assurances to the Local Office, as furnished by the Federal agency.

For competitive research awards, a complete proposal must be submitted following guidelines provided by the Pacific Southwest Research Station. The proposal must explain in detail the work to be undertaken, the qualifications of key personnel involved in the work, other resources such as equipment, facilities, and services available or needed, and a proposed budget for each fiscal year during the life of the proposed grant. A short biographical sketch of the principal investigator and a list of his or her principal publications should be

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROJECTS:
Grants must address planning, construction, or monitoring of projects identified in the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency environmental improvement program (EIP). Projects submitted from this list are selected based on the annual priority list provided by the eligible local governments, and direction provided in the LTRA. 1) The total amounts appropriated for payments under this subsection shall be allocated by the Secretary of Agriculture based on the relative need for and merits of projects proposed for payment under this section. 2) To the maximum extent practicable, for each fiscal year, the Secretary of Agriculture shall ensure that each political subdivision in the Lake Tahoe basin receives amounts appropriated for payments under this subsection.
The Pacific Southwest Research Station (PSW) will complete an administrative review of all submitted proposals to ensure that proposal specifications as outlined in the Request for Proposals are met. Proposals passing the administrative review will be forwarded to the Tahoe Science Consortium (TSC). The TSC will coordinate technical reviews of the proposals. Proposals passing technical review will be forwarded to Tahoe Basin agency personnel for relevancy reviews. The TSC will coordinate a synthesis of the results from the technical reviews and agency relevancy reviews to create a list of proposals recommended for funding. PSW will review the suite of recommended proposals to finalize funding allocations; proposals recommended for funding are not guaranteed funding due to constraints on funding allocations. Final funding allocations for recommended proposals will be determined by the number of projects recommended for funding and individual project budgets. Some projects may be identified as alternates to receive support should funds become available during the negotiation of awards. PSW reserves the right to negotiate scopes of work, budget amounts, and deliverables with Principal Investigators based upon feedback from the review process and to comply with Forest Service policies. Projects may be required to modify their proposed indirect cost rates and/or demonstrate cost share contributions. Once the recommendations and funding allocations have been finalized, PSW will forward the package of recommended projects to the Tahoe Regional Executive Committee (TREX) and to the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) for final approval.

Programs and activities are the creation of partnerships in support of projects of mutual interest and mutual benefit to each party. Partnership agreements are considered non-assistance agreements and are not considered grants or cooperative agreements as those terms are used in the Federal Grants and Cooperative Agreements Act, 31 U.S.C. 6301 et seq.

The principal purpose of partner agreements is the creation of partnerships in support of projects of mutual interest and mutual benefit to each party. Mutual interest exists when both parties benefit in the same qualitative way from the objectives of the agreement. If one party independently has an interest in a project that is shared by the other party, and both parties pool resources to obtain the end result of the project, mutual interest exists. Most of authorities requires a mutual interest agreement.

The Forest Service partners with non-profits; for-profit; institutions of higher education; federal, state, local, and Native American tribe governments; individuals; foreign governments and organizations.

Beneficiary Eligibility:
The Forest Service has partnership authorities to enter into agreements and cooperative arrangements with willing members of the public, which include but are not limited to, for profit; non-profits; institutions of higher education; federal, state, local, and Native American tribe governments; foreign governments and organizations.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES:

This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles. Preapplication Coordination: The U.S. Forest Service may approach or be approached by a potential partner to enter into a partnership or cooperative agreement. Any party may initiate discussions to enter into an agreement. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards. A partnership agreement is not considered a procurement contract under the Federal Acquisition Regulations (FAR) or a grant as that term is used in the Federal Grants and Cooperative Agreements Act, 31 U.S.C. 6301 et seq. Partnership agreements do not incorporate 2 CFR Part 200 into the terms of the agreement. A partnership agreement is a mutually binding legal relationship between two or more parties creating obligations that are enforceable or otherwise recognizable at law.

Partnership agreements do not require competition as the partner is required to provide a contribution or match to the agreement. Contributions are necessary to meet the intent and requirements of mutual interest mutual benefit partnership as stated in the authorizing authority provided to the U.S. Forest Service by Congress. Contributions from either party may include cash, services, in-kind contributions, donation of equipment, volunteer labor, and so forth.
Award Procedure:
Partnership agreements and their supporting documentation are both negotiated and drafted in collaboration with prospective partners prior to entering into an agreement. Discussions cover at a minimum, the appropriate statutory authority; a description of the project, including methodology and technical specifications; contributions and the responsibilities of the parties; financial plan; the period of performance; monitoring and accomplishments reporting. Regardless of who initiates discussions, all elements of a project are subject to negotiation. Any party may terminate the agreement at any time.

Except for provisions necessary for legal compliance, all elements of a partnership agreement are subject to negotiation and modification. Both parties are expected to negotiate, resolve, and document differences in cost and/or proposed work in writing. Any party may terminate the agreement at any time. None of the parties should perform work outside the scope of the existing instrument or in excess of the funding prior to the execution of a modification.

Deadlines:
Contact the headquarters or regional office, as appropriate, for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:
Modification and extensions of agreements are subject to project requirements and available resources.

The partner may satisfy the matching requirement by providing cash, real or personal property, services, and/or in-kind contributions, such as volunteer labor. The only exception to the matching requirement is for agreements that take place primarily outside of National Forest System lands that cite the Wyden Authority. Contributions on these agreements are negotiable and may require competition.

There is no matching requirement for Forest Service Research & Development's Cost-Reimbursable Agreements. MOE requirements are not applicable to this program.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:
Partnership Agreements may last up to a maximum of 5 years. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released: Payment is generally made on a reimbursement basis. Cash advances are limited to agreements citing P.L. 94-148. Cash reports are not applicable. Progress reports are not applicable. Expenditure reports are not applicable. Performance monitoring is not applicable.

10.701 STEWARDSHIP AGREEMENTS
Stewardship End Result Contracting

FEDERAL AGENCY:
Forest Service, Department of Agriculture

AUTHORIZATION:

OBJECTIVES:
Stewardship End Result Contracting authorizes use of contracts and agreements to help achieve land management goals while meeting local and rural community needs, including contributing to the sustainability of rural communities and providing a continuing source of local income and employment. It focuses on the end result ecosystem benefits and outcomes, rather than on what's removed from the land.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:
Cooperative Agreements

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:
The general purpose of stewardship contracting is to achieve land management goals for National Forest System lands while meeting local and rural community needs. Stewardship agreement should be used when it is the most effective tool for accomplishing land management objectives.

Stewardship agreements are awarded on a best approach determination that takes into account a technical and cost evaluation. Stewardship agreements typically include the exchange of goods (such as forest products) for services, use of retained receipts, or a combination of both. Use of stewardship agreements requires that mutual interest and mutual benefit between the Forest Service and the partner exist in the same qualitative way. All stewardship projects must comply with the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA). Stewardship projects must be consistent with plans relevant to the project, including: land and resource management plans; range allotment plans; fire management plans; and facilities master plans. All projects must comply with applicable laws, regulations, and agency direction affecting the project areas, including those addressing wilderness areas, endangered species, clean air and clean water, inventoried roadless areas, minimum road system (36 CFR 212.5(b)/FSM 7710.3), designations for motor vehicle use (36 CFR 212.56), and any other requirements for designated special areas. All contracts and agreements must comply with applicable laws, regulations, and agency direction. All stewardship projects must comply with the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA). Stewardship projects must be consistent with plans relevant to the project, including: land and resource management plans; range allotment plans; fire management plans; and facilities master plans. All projects must comply with applicable laws, regulations, and agency direction affecting the project areas, including those addressing wilderness areas, endangered species, clean air and clean water, inventoried roadless areas, minimum road system (36 CFR 212.5(b)/FSM 7710.3), designations for motor vehicle use (36 CFR 212.56), and any other requirements for designated special areas. All contracts and agreements must comply with applicable laws, regulations, and agency direction.

Applicant Eligibility:
The Forest Service may enter into stewardship agreements with any entity that has the ability to either perform the work or contract it out. This can include, state and local governments, Federally recognized tribes and non-profit organizations.

Appropriate Stewardship Activities include (but are not limited to):
- Road and trail maintenance or obliteration to restore or maintain water quality; Soil productivity, habitat for wildlife and fisheries or other resource values; Setting of prescribed fires to reduce wildfire hazards, improve the composition, structure, condition, and health of forest stands, or to improve wildlife habitat; Removing vegetation or other activities to promote healthy forest stands, reduce wildfire hazards, or achieve other land management objectives; Watershed restoration and maintenance; Restoration and maintenance of wildlife and fish habitat; Control of noxious and exotic weeds and reestablishment of native plant species.

Beneficiary Eligibility:
Stewardship Agreements should not be used for:
- Forest Service overhead costs;
- Forest Service salaries for contract/agreement development, preparation, or administration;
- Project planning or environmental analysis;
- Construction of administrative facilities or major developed facilities;
- Utilization of forage within an allotment that could be authorized through a grazing permit;
- Protection, operation, or maintenance of improvements resulting from stewardship projects;
- Research;
- Preparation and planning of administrative studies;
- Land Acquisition.

Credentials/Documentation:
When negotiating Stewardship Agreements, the discussions must cover at a minimum, a description of the project, including methodology and technical specifications; both parties contributions; the responsibilities of the parties; deliverables, reporting requirements; the period of performance; and monitoring. Regardless of who initiates discussions, all elements of a project are subject to negotiation at any time.

The Forest Service will provide the partner, at a minimum, a map of the stewardship project area, a description of work to be accomplished; the desired outcome (end results) and the environmental analysis documents. This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles.

Preapplication Coordination:
Preapplication coordination is required. An environmental impact statement is required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:
This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards. When negotiating Stewardship Agreements, there are a number of resource activities to consider. The Forest Service will provide to the partner the necessary resource information in order to complete the technical proposal and any potential bid packages. The technical proposal will be submitted to the Forest Service for joint review and approval.

If timber will be removed, the Forest Service will provide the timber sale appraisal, end result work statements, and specifications similar to the A section of a timber sale contract, identified as Appendix E in the Stewardship Agreement.

If there is a technical component to the project the Forest Service will describe the desired end results and/or provide specifications to accomplish the work.

Throughout this process, the Forest Service and partner are communicating to work out the details to accomplish the project.

Award Procedure:
Stewardship projects are typically developed in a collaborative process between the Forest Service and stakeholders and approved by a regional forester or forest supervisor prior to execution of a Stewardship Agreement. A stewardship project may include one or many land management activities affecting areas from a few acres in size up to one or more watersheds. Many stewardship projects may be completed by a partner throughout the life of the (master) agreement.

In order to use a stewardship agreement, a few elements must exist: the regional forester must approve the stewardship proposal submitted by the national forest unit; mutual interest and mutual benefit between the Forest Service and the partner exist in the same qualitative way; and both parties are contributing to the project to achieve mutually beneficial results.

Retained receipts generated from stewardship projects can only be used on the same or other stewardship projects. We can use appropriated funds and retained receipts to accomplish stewardship activities with an emphasis on restoration, product removal is not required. Monitoring and support should be an integral part of the collaborative process when deciding which projects to pursue using retained receipts.

Deadlines:
Contact the headquarters or regional office, as appropriate, for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:
Other - Not Specified.

Appeals:
Not Applicable.

Renewals:
Stewardship agreements may be in place for up to 10 years; and may use retained receipts from other stewardship projects to accomplish work.

Formula and Matching Requirements:
This program has no statutory formula. Matching Requirements: Percent: 20%. Stewardship agreements are expected to have a 20 percent partner match. However, the Partner is only required to match at least 20 percent of the Total Federal Share column in the Stewardship FP tab of the stewardship agreement financial plan. The partner is not required to match the value of the Forest Product (Goods) for services tab in the financial plan. In the event of a low value of match and a high value of goods for services the Line Officer should carefully consider whether the project is better suited to a competitively awarded stewardship contract instead of a stewardship agreement.

MOE requirements are not applicable to this program.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:
Stewardship agreements may be in place for a period of up to 10 years. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released:
- Reimbursable payments are the standard, but advance payments are permitted on a case-by-case basis and the Partner must justify the need. Advances are limited to the minimum amount needed or no more than is anticipated for the next 30 days.

Reports:
No program reports are required. No cash reports are required. No progress reports are required. If the partner is requesting reimbursement, the partner should include on the invoice the actual costs incurred, not to exceed the maximum allowed by the pre-determined unit rate based on units completed. If costs come in above the maximum allowable rate, the partner must make up the difference in the amount. The total costs listed on the financial plan crosswalk per service item is the cap for that item and payments are made on a per invoice basis. Reimbursement is not made at an average or annual rate and frequency of billing should be outlined in the terms of the agreement. Program reporting (monitoring) should be submitted by the partner no less than annually and no more than quarterly based on the negotiated terms of the agreement.

Audits:
No audits are required for this program.

Records:
The partner should retain all records for a period of no less than three years from the expiration or termination date of the agreement. Records include books, documents, accounting procedures and practice, and other data, regardless of the type or format.

If any litigation, claim, negotiation, audit, or other action involving the records has been started before the end of the 3-year period, the records must be kept until all issues are resolved, or until the end of the regular 3-year period, whichever is later.

Records for nonexpendable property acquired in whole or in part, with Federal funds shall be retained for 3 years after its final disposition.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:
DIRECT PAYMENTS FOR A SPECIFIED USE

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:
Funds are provided to purchase conservation easements in partnership with States, Tribes, or local government entities, or eligible nongovernmental organizations (eligible entities). The Federal share for any easement acquisition is limited to a maximum of 50 percent of the appraised fair market value of the conservation easement. A conservation plan is required for highly erodible lands enrolled under an FRPP easement. Conservation easements are perpetual easements. A right of enforcement is incorporated in the conservation easement deed for the protection of the Federal investment. A failure of title would require the eligible entity to reimburse the United States for the Federal share of the easement value.

Applicant Eligibility:
An eligible entity was any local or State agency, county or groups of counties, municipality, town or township, soil and water conservation district, or Indian tribe or tribal organization, that has a farmland protection program that purchases conservation easements for the purpose of protecting agricultural use and related conservation values by limiting conversion to non-agricultural uses of land, and that has pending offers. This program was available in all 50 States, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, the Mariana Islands, and the Trust Territories of the Pacific Islands. The program was repealed by the Agricultural Act of 2014 effective February 7, 2014. No new enrollments are authorized after that date.
Beneficiary Eligibility:

Gross Income (AGI) limitations in the Farm Bill.

Credentials/Documentation:
Entities must prove their eligibility by providing documents indicating their commitment to long-term conservation of agricultural lands through legal devices, such as right-to-farm laws, agricultural districts, zoning, or land use planning; uses of voluntary approaches to protect farmland from conversion to non-agricultural uses; and their capability to acquire, manage, and enforce conservation easements. Programs must have a systematic plan for acquiring conservation easements, have a proven commitment to agricultural land protection, and sufficient funds and staff to monitor and enforce conservation easements. This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles.

Preapplication Coordination:
Entities must submit an application form and supporting data for each parcel to the appropriate State Office of the Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS). Environmental impact information is not required for this program.
This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:
This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for highest-ranked parcels. NRCS State Offices will obligate funds to the eligible entities associated with the highest-ranked parcels.

Deadlines:
Not Applicable.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

entity must contribute a minimum of 25 percent of the purchase price of the easement (appraised fair market value minus the landowner donation). Each eligible entity is required to fund its own administrative costs in acquiring easements, such as appraisals, surveys, title searches, and costs incurred in managing and enforcing the easements.
MOE requirements are not applicable to this program.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:
Easements must be closed within 18 months of the end of the fiscal year in which the cooperative agreement is signed. Federal funds must be disbursed within 2 to 5 years after signing the cooperative agreement. Technical assistance to maintain the conservation plan, however, is provided by NRCS through the life of the easement. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: lump sum.

10.922 HEALTHY FORESTS RESERVE PROGRAM (HFRP)

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Natural Resources Conservation Service, Department of Agriculture

AUTHORIZATION:

OBJECTIVES:

To assist landowners in restoring and enhancing forest ecosystems to: promote the recovery of threatened and endangered species; improve biodiversity; and enhance carbon sequestration.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

DIRECT PAYMENTS FOR A SPECIFIED USE

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

HFRP restoration agreements and easements are designed for working Agricultural lands. HFRP is a voluntary program to assist landowners in restoring, enhancing and maintaining forest ecosystems on private lands through easements, contracts and restoration agreements. Easements, contracts, and restoration agreements shall be maintained in accordance with HFRP goals and objectives for the duration of the restoration agreement and easement including the restoration, protection, enhancement, maintenance, and management of habitat for listed species within a forest ecosystem’s functions and values. For the duration of its term, the easement shall require, at a minimum, that the landowner, and the landowner's heirs, successors and assigns, shall cooperate in the restoration, protection, enhancement, management, and management of the land in accordance with the easement and with the terms of the HFRP restoration plan. In addition, the easement shall grant to the United States, through the NRCS: a right of access to the easement area; the right to permit compatible uses of the easement area if such use is consistent with the long-term protection and enhancement of the purposes for which the easement was established; the right to determine compatible uses on the easement area and specify the amount, method, timing, intensity and duration of the compatible use; the rights, title and interest to the easement area.
as specified in the conservation easement deed; and the right to perform restoration, protection, enhancement, maintenance, and management activities on the easement area. The landowner shall convey title to the easement which is acceptable to the NRCS. The landowner shall warrant that the easement granted to the United States is superior to the rights of all others, except for exceptions to the title which are deemed acceptable by the NRCS.

Applicant Eligibility:
To be eligible to enroll an easement or restoration agreement in the HFRP, a person must be the landowner of eligible private land for which enrollment is sought; agree to provide such information to the NRCS as the agency deems necessary or desirable to assist in its determination of eligibility for program benefits and for other program implementation purposes.

Beneficiary Eligibility:
Only landowners.

Credentials/Documentation:
Be the landowner of eligible land for which enrollment is sought; and agree to provide such information to NRCS as the agency deems necessary or desirable to assist in its determination of eligibility for program benefits and for other program implementation purposes. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:
Any owner meeting eligibility criteria may submit an application for participation. Applications are accepted in local USDA Service Center Offices during announced enrollment sign-up periods. USDA will establish criteria to evaluate and rank applications for easement and restoration agreement enrollment, criteria will be detailed in the sign-up notice. NRCS will identify through a sign-up notice process the geographic scope and ranking priorities for that particular sign-up. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:
2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. 2 CFR 200 applies only to the program activities implemented through a cooperative agreement.

Award Procedure:
NRCS will not acquire any easement unless the landowner accepts the amount of the easement payment which is offered by NRCS. The easement payment may or may not equal the fair market value of the interests and rights to be conveyed by the landowner under the easement. By voluntarily participating in the program, a landowner waives any claim to additional compensation based on fair market value.

Deadlines:
Contact the headquarters or regional office, as appropriate, for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:
Within a Federal fiscal year (October 1 September 30) based on funding availability.

Appeals:
A person participating in the HFRP may obtain a review of any administrative determination concerning eligibility for participation utilizing the administrative appeal regulations provided in 7 CFR Part 614.

Renewals:
The land offered may be re-offered in a future sign-up unless the land or landowner is ineligible.

Formula and Matching Requirements:
Statutory formulas are not applicable to this program. Matching Requirements: not specified. MOE requirements are not applicable to this program.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:
Land may be enrolled in HFRP in accordance with a 10-year restoration cost-share agreement, a 30-year easement, a 30-year contract, or a permanent easement or the maximum duration permitted by State law. 30-year contracts are only available to acreage owned by Indian Tribes. Financial assistance for easement acquisition is provided at closing. For restoration agreements, payments are made annually on the agreement anniversary date of USDA approval. For easements, contracts, and restoration agreements, if restoration activities are required, financial assistance for such activities is provided when required practices are established. Technical assistance is available for the length of the easement or restoration agreement. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released: Easement payments may be made in a single payment or not more than 10 annual payments of equal or unequal size, as agreed to between NRCS and the landowner.

Reports:
No reports are required.

Audits:
In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, non-Federal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503.

Records:
Records will be maintained in the county NRCS office, State NRCS office and Federal Record Centers for the length of the agreement. The easement (deed restriction) and applicable documents will be recorded in the local land records office for the duration of the easement. Agreements are filed with the Agency.

10.923 EMERGENCY WATERSHED PROTECTION PROGRAM (EWP)

FEDERAL AGENCY:
Natural Resources Conservation Service, Department of Agriculture

AUTHORIZATION:

OBJECTIVES:
The objective of the EWP Program is to assist sponsors, landowners, and operators in implementing emergency recovery measures for runoff retardation and erosion prevention to relieve imminent hazards to life and property created by a natural disaster that causes a sudden impairment of a watershed.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

PROJECT GRANTS

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:
All EWP work must reduce threats to life and property and must be economically, environmentally, and socially defensible and sound from a technical standpoint. NRCS may bear up to 75 percent (90 percent within limited resource areas as identified by the U.S. Census data) of the construction cost of emergency measures. The remaining 25 percent (10 percent within limited resource areas) must come from local sources as cash or in-kind services. EWP funds have restrictions. EWP cannot solve problems that existed before the disaster or to improve the level of protection above that which existed before a disaster. It cannot fund operation and maintenance work or repair private or public transportation facilities or utilities. The work cannot adversely affect downstream water rights and funds cannot be used to install measures not essential to the reduction of hazards. In addition, funds cannot be used to perform work on measures installed by another federal agency.

Applicant Eligibility:
Public and private landowners are eligible for assistance but must be represented by a project sponsor. Project sponsor means a State government or a State agency or a legal subdivision thereof, local unit of government, or any Native American tribe or tribal organization as defined in section 4 of the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (25 U.S.C. 450b), with a legal interest in or responsibility for the values threatened by a watershed emergency; is capable of obtaining necessary land rights, and permits; and is capable of carrying out any operation and maintenance responsibilities that may be required. Sponsors are also responsible for furnishing the local cost share and for accomplishing the installation of work. Work can be done either through Federal or local contracts. Emergency watershed protection is authorized in the 50 States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, Guam, the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, and American Samoa.

Beneficiary Eligibility:
None.

Preapplication Coordination:
Preapplication coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:
2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Potential sponsors submit formal requests for assistance to the NRCS state conservationist.

Award Procedure:
Project sponsors seeking EWP assistance must apply to the STC in writing within 60 days of the natural disaster occurrence. Project sponsors may use SF 424 Application for Federal Assistance but must ensure that following information is provided: (1) A description of the problems encountered; (2) Assistance needed, including the following: Nature of the problem; Location; Scope of the problem; Commitment by the sponsor to assume the following responsibilities: local cost-share; Land rights; acquisition; Permits; Operations and Maintenance (O and M), A statement indicating that funds have either been exhausted or are insufficient to provide adequate recovery measures from the applicable hazards; A statement identifying any other State or Federal funding received or application submitted. On receipt of a formal request for EWP assistance, the State Conservationist or designee shall immediately investigate the emergency situation to determine whether EWP is applicable and to prepare an initial cost estimation for submission to the NRCS Chief or designee. The cost estimation will be submitted no later than 60 days from receipt of the formal request from the sponsor. NRCS may not commit funds until notified by the Chief, or designee, of the availability of funds. Before the release of financial assistance, NRCS will enter into a Cooperative Agreement with a sponsor that specifies the responsibilities of the sponsor under this part, including any required operation and maintenance responsibilities. NRCS will not provide funding for activities undertaken by a sponsor prior to the signing of the agreement between NRCS and the sponsor.

Deadlines:
Contact the headquarters or regional office, as appropriate, for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:
Timeline is dependent upon when funding is appropriated. The EWP program is not a line-item funded program and is reliant upon emergency supplemental appropriations.

Appeals:
Only NRCS decisions relating to eligibility for the EWP Program can be appealed. These decisions may be appealed in accordance with 7 CFR Part 614 and 7 CFR 11, as applicable.

Renewals:
Not Applicable.

Formula and Matching Requirements:
Statutory formulas are not applicable to this program. Matching Requirements: Percent: 75%. NRCS may bear up to 75 percent (90 percent within limited resource areas as identified by the US Census data) of the construction cost of emergency measures. The remaining 25 percent (10 percent within limited resource areas) must come from local sources as cash or in-kind services. MOE requirements are not applicable to this program.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:
Continues until all EWP Program recovery measures are installed or their installation is terminated by mutual agreement. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: lump sum.

Reports:
Program reports are not applicable. Cash reports are not applicable. Final reports are prepared for each project within 90 days of completion. A benefit and accomplishment report is prepared for the fiscal year based upon final reports. Expenditure reports are not applicable. No performance monitoring is required.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:
EWP projects are eligible when it is determined that the current condition of the land or watershed impairment poses a threat to health, life, and property. Assistance includes EWP practices that provide runoff retardation and soil erosion prevention, safeguard lives and property, and relieve an imminent threat that is a result of a sudden impairment of a watershed due to a natural disaster.

10.924 CONSERVATION STEWARDSHIP PROGRAM
Conservation Stewardship Program (CSP)

FEDERAL AGENCY:
Natural Resources Conservation Service, Department of Agriculture

AUTHORIZATION:

OBJECTIVES:
Through CSP, NRCS provides financial and technical assistance to eligible producers to conserve and enhance soil, water, air, and related natural resources on their land. Eligible lands include cropland, grassland, prairie land, improved pastureland, rangeland, nonindustrial private forest lands, agricultural land under the jurisdiction of an Indian tribe, and other private agricultural land (including cropped woodland, marshes, and agricultural land used for the production of livestock) on which resource concerns related to agricultural production could be addressed. Participation in the program is voluntary. CSP encourages land stewards to improve their conservation performance by installing and adopting additional activities, and improving, maintaining, and managing existing activities on agricultural land and nonindustrial private forest land. The NRCS will make CSP available nationwide on a continuous application basis.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:
Cooperative Agreements

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:
CSP is available on Tribal and private agricultural lands, as well as nonindustrial private forest lands in all 50 States, the District of Columbia, and the Caribbean and Pacific Islands Areas. The entire operation must be enrolled and must include all eligible land that will be under the applicant's control for the term of the proposed contract that is operated substantially separate from other operations. Land enrolled in the Conservation Reserve Program (7 CFR part 1410), a Wetlands Reserve Easement through the Agricultural Conservation Easement Program, and the Conservation Security Program (CFR part 1469) are ineligible for CSP. Eligibility is limited to private agricultural land; as such, land that is owned by a Federal, State, or local unit of government, with the exception of agricultural land under the jurisdiction of an Indian Tribe, is ineligible, regardless of the status of the operator. Additionally, a participant may not receive payment for land used for crop production after February 7, 2014, that had not been planted, considered to be planted, or devoted to crop production for at least four of the six years preceding that date, unless the land was previously enrolled in the Conservation Reserve Program; maintained using long-term rotations, such as hayland in rotation; or incidental to the operation but needed for the efficient management of the operation. An example of land considered incidental to the operation that may be eligible for payment is land that had once been used for buildings and is now being used for crop production to square up a cropland field.

Applicant Eligibility:
The program provides equitable access to all producers, regardless of operation size, crops produced, or geographic location. Individual producers, legal entities, corporations, and Indian Tribes may be eligible for the program. Eligible lands include cropland, grassland, prairie land, improved pastureland, rangeland, nonindustrial private forest land, and agricultural land under the jurisdiction of an Indian tribe. As stated in the Federal Register, 1470.6a, Applicants must be the operator of record in the USDA farm records management system for the eligible land being offered for enrollment; have documented control of the land for the term of the proposed contract; include the eligible land in their entire operation as represented for other USDA programs; and be in compliance with the highly erodible land and wetland conservation provisions of 7 CFR Part 12, and adjusted gross income provisions of 7 CFR part 1400. The applicants operation must also meet a stewardship threshold.

Recipients are subject to audit by the Office of Inspector General, USDA.

Records:

As stipulated in 1470.6 (a), the applicant must make available to NRCS upon request appropriate records documenting applied conservation activity and production system information. NRCS will request records when conducting field verification with pre-approved applicants. The designated conservationist does not need to collect, store, or re-calculate the data contained in the applicants records, but instead will examine the field conditions and records to determine whether or not they substantiate the resource inventory information provided by the applicant during the application process.

Technical assistance and conservation payments may be provided to apply needed conservation practices and land use adjustments within a time schedule specified by the conservation CBWP plan of operations. A contract with a participant may apply one or more land management practices or one or more structural practices.

10.927 EMERGENCY WATERSHED PROTECTION PROGRAM - DISASTER RELIEF APPROPRIATIONS ACT
EWP - Disaster Relief (Hurricane Sandy)

FEDERAL AGENCY:
Natural Resources Conservation Service, Department of Agriculture

AUTHORIZATION:
Disaster Relief Appropriations Act, Public Law 113-2, 4 Stat. 127.

OBJECTIVES:
The objective of the EWP Program is to assist sponsors, landowners, and operators in implementing emergency recovery measures for runoff retardation and erosion prevention to relieve imminent hazards to life and property created by a natural disaster that causes a sudden impairment of a watershed.
TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:
- Project Grants (Cooperative Agreements or Contracts)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

All EWP work must reduce threats to life and property and must be economically, environmentally, and socially defensible and sound from a technical standpoint. NRCS may bear up to 75 percent (90 percent within limited resource areas as identified by the U.S. Census data) of the construction cost of emergency measures. The remaining 25 percent (10 percent within limited resource areas) must come from local sources as cash or in-kind services. EWP funds have restrictions. EWP cannot solve problems that existed before the disaster or to improve the level of protection above that which existed before a disaster. It cannot fund operation and maintenance work or repair private or public transportation facilities or utilities. The work cannot adversely affect downstream water rights and funds cannot be used to install measures not essential to the reduction of hazards. In addition, funds cannot be used to perform work on measures installed by another federal agency.

EWP funds from this appropriation can only be spent on damage recovery projects from Hurricane Sandy, with a Stafford Act Designation. (This means that a certain geographical area was declared a major disaster as a result of a Presidential Declaration.) 100% discretionary - emergency supplemental funds.

Applicant Eligibility:

For this appropriation, only applicants affected by Hurricane Sandy and only in those areas declared as a major disaster are eligible for assistance through the EWP program. Public and private landowners are eligible for assistance but must be represented by a project sponsor. Project sponsor means a State government or a State agency or a local subdivision thereof; local unit of government, or any Native American tribe or tribal organization as defined in section 4 of the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (25 U.S.C. 450b), with a legal interest in or responsibility for the values threatened by a watershed emergency; is capable of obtaining necessary land rights, and permits; and is capable of carrying out any operation and maintenance responsibilities that may be required. Sponsors are also responsible for furnishing the local cost share and for accomplishing the installation of work. Work can be done either through Federal or local contracts.

Beneficiary Eligibility: None.

Credentials/Documentation:

Sponsors must submit a formal request to the State Conservationist for assistance within 60 days of the natural disaster occurrence, or 60 days from the date when access to the sites becomes available. Requests must include a statement that the sponsors understand their responsibilities and are willing to pay its cost-shared percentage as well as information pertaining to the natural disaster, including the nature, location, and scope of the problems and the assistance needed. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Preapplication coordination is required. An environmental impact statement is required for this program. An environmental impact assessment is required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Potential sponsors submit formal requests for assistance to the NRCS state conservationist.

Award Procedure:

Project sponsors seeking EWP assistance must apply to the STC in writing within 60 days of the natural disaster occurrence. Project sponsors may use SF 424 Application for Federal Assistance but must ensure that following information is provided: (1) A description of the problems encountered; (2) Assistance needed, including the following: Nature of the problem; Location; Scope of the problem; Commitment by the sponsor to assume the following responsibilities: local cost-share; Land rights; acquisition; Permits; Operations and Maintenance (O and M); A statement indicating that funds have either been exhausted or are insufficient to provide adequate recovery measures from the applicable hazards; A statement identifying any other State or Federal funding received or application submitted. On receipt of a formal request for EWP assistance, the State Conservationist or designee shall immediately investigate the emergency situation to determine whether EWP is applicable and to prepare an initial cost estimation for submission to the NRCS Chief or designee. The cost estimation will be submitted no later than 60 days from receipt of the formal request from the sponsor. NRCS may not commit funds until notified by the Chief, or designee, of the availability of funds. Before the release of financial assistance, NRCS will enter into a Cooperative Agreement with a sponsor that specifies the responsibilities of the sponsor under this part, including any required operation and maintenance responsibilities. NRCS will not provide funding for activities undertaken by a sponsor prior to the signing of the agreement between NRCS and the sponsor.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional office, as appropriate, for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

Timeline is dependent upon when funding is appropriated. The EWP program is not a line-item funded program and is reliant upon emergency supplemental appropriations.

Appeals:

Only NRCS decisions relating to eligibility for the EWP Program can be appealed. These decisions may be appealed in accordance with 7 CFR Part 614 and 7 CFR 11, as applicable.

Renewals:

Not Applicable.

EMERGENCY WATERSHED PROTECTION PROGRAM - FLOODPLAIN EASEMENTS DISASTER RELIEF APPROPRIATIONS ACT

EWP-FPE Hurricane Sandy

Natural Resources Conservation Service, Department of Agriculture

AUTHORIZATION:

OBJECTIVES:
The Emergency Watershed Protection - Floodplain Easement Program (EWP-FPE) provides an alternative measure to traditional EWP recovery where it is determined that acquiring an easement in lieu of recovery measures is the more economical and prudent approach to reducing a threat to life or property (see 7 CFR Part 624). The easement must be restored to the extent practicable to the natural environment and may include both structural and nonstructural practices to restore the flood storage and flow, erosion control, and improve the practical management of the easement. Structures, including buildings, within the floodplain easement must be demolished and removed, or relocated outside the 100-year floodplain or dam breach inundation area.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:
Direct Payments for Specified Use

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:
NRCS may bear up to 100 percent of costs related to easement acquisition and related acquisition costs. NRCS will determine easement compensation in accordance with applicable regulation and other law. NRCS will not acquire any easement unless the landowner accepts the amount of the easement payment that is offered by NRCS. NRCS reserves the right not to purchase an easement if the easement compensation for a particular easement would be too expensive, as determined by NRCS. NRCS may provide up to 100 percent of the restoration and enhancement costs of the easement. NRCS may enter into an agreement with the landowner or another third party to ensure that identified practices are implemented. NRCS, the landowner, or other designee may implement identified practices. Restoration and enhancement efforts may include both structural and non-structural practices. An easement acquired under this EWP-Floodplain Easement regulations shall provide NRCS with the full authority to restore, protect, manage, maintain, and enhance the functions and values of the floodplain. EWP-FPE funds from this appropriation can only be spent on eligible Floodplain Easement projects that have suffered damage from Hurricane Sandy and are located within a Stafford Act Designation. (This means that a certain geographical area was declared a major disaster as a result of a Presidential Declaration). 100% discretionary funding - emergency supplemental.

Applicant Eligibility:
For this appropriation, only applicants affected by Hurricane Sandy and only in those areas declared as a major disaster are eligible for assistance through the EWP-FPE program. Pursuant to 7 CFR 624.10(b)(2), NRCS may determine land is eligible under for EWP-FPE if any of the following apply:
1) The floodplain lands were damaged by flooding at least once within the previous calendar year or have been subject to flood damage at least twice within the previous 10 years.
2) Other lands within the floodplain are eligible, provided the lands would contribute to the restoration of the flood storage and flow, provide for control of erosion, or that would improve the practical management of the floodplain easement.
3) Lands would be inundated or adversely impacted as a result of a dam breach.

NRCS may determine that land is ineligible under this section if any of the following apply:
1) Implementation of restoration practices would be futile due to onsite or offsite conditions.
2) The land is subject to an existing easement or deed restriction that provides sufficient protection or restoration, as determined by the Chief of NRCS, of the floodplains functions and values.
3) The purchase of an easement would not meet the purposes of this part.

Beneficiary Eligibility:
Private and non-federal landowners are eligible for EWP-FPE.

To be eligible for FPE, the NRCS will require participating landowners to:
1) Comply with the terms of the easement.
2) Comply with all terms and conditions of any associated agreement.
3) Convey title to the easement that is acceptable to NRCS and warrant that the easement is superior to the rights of all others, except for exceptions to the title that are deemed acceptable by NRCS.

For projects that include parcels with residential dwellings or other structures on nonagricultural lands (such as flood mitigation efforts intended to assist families in moving from flood-prone areas as part of EWP recovery efforts), a local sponsor will be identified and serve as the local cooperating entity for these efforts. A sponsor will be a local or State unit of government (city, county, conservation district, watershed conservancy district, or State agency) that has a local presence and staff available to assist in the implementation of the program.

Credentials/Documentation:
The landowner must provide a copy of the vesting deed to the land. If the landowner is an entity, the entity must provide a list of the individuals who comprise the entity, including the percent of ownership for each individual, to the Farm Service Agency (FSA). The entity must provide documents to FSA and NRCS that show the entity to be legal and valid in the State and which members have the authority to sign contractual documents on behalf of the entity. If funds are being requested for the purchase of easements on lands with residences or other nonagricultural structures, the State Conservationist (STC) must provide confirmation that the acquisition is part of a strategy that will facilitate the restoration of an entire reach of the floodplain. The relatively high cost of these transactions requires a greater level of documentation that the benefits to the floodplain outweigh the costs. In addition, the STC must provide confirmation that the project sponsor will acquire fee title to the easement area. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:
NRCS state offices in impacted states will submit an assessment of potential level of interest in areas with eligible lands. An environmental impact statement is required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under

10.931 AGRICULTURAL CONSERVATION EASEMENT PROGRAM
(ACEP)
FEDERAL AGENCY:
Natural Resources Conservation Service, Department of Agriculture

AUTHORIZATION:

OBJECTIVES:

To establish an agricultural conservation easement program for the conservation of eligible land and natural resources through easements or other interests in the land. The Agricultural Conservation Easement Program (ACEP) is comprised of two components: Agricultural Land Easements (ALE) and Wetland Reserve Easements (WRE). The ALE component provides funding to eligible entities to purchase conservation easements to protect the agricultural use and future viability, and related conservation values of eligible land by limiting nonagricultural uses of that land; and to protect grazing uses and related conservation values by restoring and conserving eligible land. The WRE component provides funding to eligible landowners to purchase easements to restore, protect, and enhance wetlands on eligible land.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:
- NRCS provides up to 75 percent of the eligible restoration costs.
- The use of a 30-year contract which shall be equivalent in value to a 30-year duration is 30 years or maximum duration allowed by State law; landowners must agree to a permanent retirement of crop acreage bases, allotments, and quotas to the extent that the sum of the crop acreage bases and allotments will not exceed the remaining cropland on the farm.

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:
- Participating landowners receive financial assistance for the purchase of the easement and NRCS shall share the cost of carrying out the establishment conservation measures and practices, and the protection of wetland functions and values including necessary maintenance activities to the extent that the Secretary determines that cost-sharing is appropriate and in the public interest. NRCS provides financial and technical assistance to the landowner or a third party as follows:
  - Permanent easements: Easement duration is in perpetuity; landowners receive up to 100 percent of the cost of the easement. NRCS provides up to 100 percent of the cost for establishment and maintenance of conservation measures and practices.
  - 30-year easements or maximum duration allowed by State law: Easement duration is 30 years or maximum duration allowed by State law; landowners receive the equivalent of 75 percent of the value for a permanent easement and NRCS provides up to 75 percent of the eligible restoration costs.
  - 30-year contracts: Acreage owned by Indian Tribes can be enrolled through the use of a 30-year contract which shall be equivalent in value to a 30-year easement. NRCS provides up to 75 percent of the eligible restoration costs. States with an approved Exhibit E may enroll easements with reserved grazing rights. The applicable compensation provided to the landowner for these easements will be reduced by 25%.

Cooperative Agreements

Credentials/Documentation:

Applicant Eligibility:
- For ACEP-ALE, applications are submitted by an eligible entity who will be the participant in the program.
- For ACEP-WRE, only private landowners, including individual landowners, partnerships, associations, corporations, estates, trusts, and other business or legal entities, and Indian tribes are eligible to apply.

Beneficiary Eligibility:
- All landowners applying for ACEP must be in compliance with the Wetland Compliance (WC) and Highly Erodible Land (HEL) provisions of the Farm Bill and, within the exception of FY2014, meet the Adjusted Gross Income (AGI) limitations in the Farm Bill.

Credentialed/Documentation:

- ACEP-ALE - Eligible applicants must be in compliance with the highly erodable land and wetland conservation provisions in 7 CFR part 12 and, except for FY 2014, the Adjusted Gross Income provisions in 7 CFR part 1400. They must be the landowner of the eligible land being offered for participation. For easement applications, the applicant must have owned the land for the 24 month period prior to the time the land is determined eligible for enrollment. Under limited circumstances a waiver of the 24 month ownership period may be granted from the Chief of NRCS.
- ACEP-ALE - Eligible entities must provide documents indicating: 1) they have the relevant experience and resources to administer an ALE easement; 2) commitment to long-term conservation of agricultural lands, ranchlands or grassland for grazing or related conservation purposes through legal devices, such as right-to-farm laws, agricultural districts, zoning, or land use planning; 3) use of voluntary approaches to protect farmland from conversion to non-agricultural uses; and 4) their capability to acquire, manage, and enforce conservation easements. NRCS evaluates an entities capacity to acquire, manage and enforce easements; its staffing and the ability of an entity to provide matching funds before entering into a cooperative agreement. If the eligible entity is a nongovernmental organization, they must be: 1) organized for, and at all times since, the formation of the organization and has been operated principally for one or more of the conservation purposes specified in clause (i), (ii), (iii), or (iv) of section 170(h)(4)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986; 2) an organization described in section 501(c)(3) of that Code that is exempt from taxation under 501(a) of that Code; and 3) described (i) in section 509(a)(1) and (2) of that Code, or (ii) is described in section 509(a)(3) of that Code and is controlled by an organization described in section 509(a)(2) of that Code. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination: All ACEP applicants must submit required documentation as evidence of eligibility. The land itself is evaluated and ranked in accordance with eligibility requirements and ranking criteria developed by NRCS. A programmatic environmental analysis is completed. Individual project selection may be made primarily at the State level by responsible NRCS officials. An environmental impact statement is required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures: 2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. ACEP-ALE - Applications are accepted on a continuous basis by the NRCS State Offices. Applicants are required to provide general information about the location of the project, contact information for the applicant, eligibility and ownership documentation, and designate the type of enrollment desired by the applicant (i.e. permanent easement, 30-year easement or maximum allowed by State law). Applicants and supporting information requirements for the application can be obtained from the State Offices of the (NRCS) and USDA NRCS home page. See www.nrcs.usda.gov. Select Programs from the menu.

ACEP-WRE - Applications are accepted on a continuous basis by the NRCS State or local Field Offices. Applicants are required to provide general information about the location of the project, contact information for the applicant, eligibility and ownership documentation, and designate the type of enrollment desired by the applicant.

Award Procedure: NRCS will rank parcels individually and award funding to the highest-ranked parcels based on ranking criteria established by NRCS in consultation with the State Technical Committee. The ranking factors are developed based on national and state criteria and priorities. NRCS conducts preliminary due diligence activities on the projects tentatively selected for funding and applicants are provided an offer of enrollment. Projects are enrolled in ACEP through agreements signed by NRCS and the eligible entity under ACEP-ALE or the landowner under ACEP-WRE.

Deadlines: Contact the headquarters or regional office, as appropriate, for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time: Within a Federal fiscal year (October 1 - September 30), based on funding availability, States establish a single or multiple application batching periods for consideration of current year funding. Eligible entity or landowner applications may remain on sign-up list for subsequent funding consideration.

Appeals: Applicants or participants may appeal certain determinations regarding this program in accordance with 7 CFR Part 614 and Parts 11 and 780.

Renewals: The land offered may be re-offered in a future sign-up unless land or landowner is ineligible.

Formula and Matching Requirements: Statutory formulas are not applicable to this program. Matching Requirements: ACEP-ALE NRCS may provide up to 50 percent of the fair market value of the agricultural land easement. An eligible entity will share in the cost of purchasing an agricultural land easement in an amount that is at least equivalent to the Federal share. An eligible entity may include as part of its share a charitable donation or qualified conservation contribution (as defined by section 170(h) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986) from the landowner if the eligible entity contributes its own cash resources in an amount that is at least 50 percent of the amount of the Federal share. NRCS may authorize a waiver to increase the federal share to 75 percent for grasslands of special environmental significance with respective adjustments to the eligible entity contribution. NRCS may also authorize a waiver of the eligible entity cash contribution requirement for projects of special significance. Each eligible entity is required to fund its own administrative costs in acquiring easements, such as appraisals, surveys, title searches, and costs incurred in managing and enforcing the easements.

ACEP-WRE - Matching Requirements: Lump sum payments for easements valued at $500,000 or less and the Secretary may provide payments in not more than 10 annual payments. Easements valued at more than $500,000 the Secretary may provide payments in at least 5, but no more than 10 annual payments, except that, if the Secretary determines it would further the purposes of the program, the Secretary may make a lump-sum payment for such an easement. Payments of up to 90 percent of the easement acquisition cost and cost of implementing the Wetland Restoration Plan will be provided for a permanent easement with up to 75 percent of permanent easement amounts being paid for 30-year easements, less-than-perpetual easements limited by State law, and 30-year contracts. NRCS pays up to 100 percent of all related acquisition costs for all enrollment types. MOE requirements are not applicable to this program.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance: ACEP-ALE - Easements must be closed within 18 months of the end of the fiscal year in which the cooperative agreement is signed. Federal funds must be disbursed within 2 to 5 years after signing the cooperative agreement. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: lump sum. Easement duration is either perpetual, 30-year, or the maximum duration permitted by State law. Financial assistance for easement acquisition is provided at closing.

ACEP-WRE - Cash easement payments will be made in a lump sum amount, or in annual installments beginning at closing. Payments for implementation of restoration practices will be made when a specific practice has been implemented by either the landowner or third party and certified by NRCS. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released. Cash easement payments will be made in a lump sum amount, or in annual installments beginning at closing. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released. Cash easement payments will be made in a lump sum amount, or in annual installments beginning at closing.

ACEP-WRE Annual monitoring reports on the status of each easement acquired will be prepared by NRCS in accordance with NRCS monitoring policy. Cash reports are not applicable. Progress reports are not applicable. Expenditure reports are not applicable. Performance monitoring is not applicable.

Audits: In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, non-Federal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503. 2 CFR 200 applies only to the program activities implemented through a Cooperative Agreement. Recipients are subject to audit by the Office of Inspector General, USDA.

Records: ACEP-WRE - Records will be maintained in the county NRCS office, State NRCS office and Federal Record Centers for the length of the agreement. The easement (deed restriction) and applicable documents will be filed in the local land records office for the duration of the easement. Agreements are filed with the Agency.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:
ACEP-ALE - Criteria used for selecting applications include: Percent of prime, unique, and other important farmland in the parcel to be protected; Percent of cropland, rangeland, grassland, historic grassland, pasturceland, or nonindustrial private forest land in the parcel to be protected; Ratio of the total acres of land in the parcel to be protected to average farm size in the county; Decrease in the percentage of acreage of farm and ranch land in the county in which the parcel is located; Percent population growth and density in the county; Existence of a farm or ranch succession plan or similar plan established to address farm viability; Proximity of the parcel to other protected land and to other agricultural operations and agricultural infrastructure; Maximizing the protection of contiguous acres devoted to agricultural use; Zoning; Eligible entity's performance; Geographic regions help achieve national, State, and regional conservation goals and objectives; Diversity of natural resources to be protected; Score in the land evaluation and site assessment system or equivalent measure for grassland enrollments; the parcels support of grazing operations; protection of grassland, land that contains forbs, and shrubland at the greatest risk from the threat of conversion to uses other than grazing; and plant and animal biodiversity.

ACEP-WRE - All offers are screened at both the local and State level to determine the acceptability of the application. Offers will be evaluated based on the environmental benefits and government expenditures on restoration and easement purchase and the requirement that wetland and wildlife functions and values benefits be maximized. Criteria for selecting applications include: The conservation benefits of obtaining an easement or other interest in the land; The cost effectiveness of each easement so as to maximize the environmental benefits per dollar expended; Whether the landowner or another person is offering to contribute financially to leverage Federal funds; The extent to which the purposes of this part would be achieved on the land; The productivity of the land; The on-farm and off-farm environmental threats if the land is used for the production of agricultural commodities; Obtaining permanent easements over shorter term easements; and Acquiring easements based on the value of the easement for protecting and enhancing habitat for migratory birds and other wildlife, in consultation with USFWS. NRCS, in consultation with the State Technical Committee, may place higher priority on certain land types or geographic regions of the State where restoration of wetlands may better achieve State and regional goals and objectives. Priority may also be given to land that is currently enrolled in CRP in a contract that is set to expire within one year from the date of application and is farmed wetland and adjoining land that has the highest wetland functions and values and is likely to return to production after the land leaves CRP.

The Wetlands Mitigation Banking Program is used to help establish wetland mitigation banks to help producers meet their wetland conservation compliance responsibilities needed to maintain eligibility for many USDA programs administered by the FSA and NRCS, and to maintain eligibility for the Federal crop insurance premium subsidy administered by the Risk Management Agency.

Types of assistance:

Cooperative Agreements; Project Grants

Uses and use restrictions:

NRCS will seek applications to establish wetlands mitigation banks for agriculture producers. The intent of the program is for qualified third-party wetlands bankers to operate and manage all aspects of a wetlands mitigation bank, with oversight by NRCS. Specific funding uses and restrictions will be identified in an agreement between NRCS and those selected to receive the funding. Mitigation banks established through this program are for the explicit and sole purpose of assisting agricultural producers with wetland conservation compliance requirements found in 7 CFR Part 12 (wetland conservation compliance is also referred to as Swampbuster compliance). Loss of wetland functions and lost wetland acres of agricultural wetlands associated with an active farming operation may be mitigated through the Wetlands Mitigation Banking Program. The targeted wetlands may be seasonal or occasionally cropped during years of low precipitation. Wetlands that fall under jurisdiction of the Clean Water Act are not eligible for mitigation through this program.

Applicant eligibility:

Eligible entities that may submit applications include Tribal Nations, State, and local units of government, and nongovernmental organizations (NGOs), including for profit NGOs. NRCS will accept proposals for the development and establishment of mitigation banks submitted under this notice by eligible applicants from all 50 States, the District of Columbia, the Caribbean Area (Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands), and the Pacific Islands Area (Guam, American Samoa, and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands).

Beneficiary eligibility:

Mitigation banks established through this program are for the explicit and sole purpose of assisting agricultural producers with wetland conservation compliance, also known as Swampbuster compliance.

Credentials/documentations:

Applications must contain the content, format, and information set forth in the Announcement for Program Funding to receive consideration. Selected applications will enter into individual agreements with NRCS. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication coordination:

Preapplication coordination is not applicable. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. The following items must be obtained prior to entering into an agreement with the Federal Government but do not need to be provided in the proposal. Applicants are encouraged to apply early for their Data Universal Numbering System (DUNS)/System for Award Management (SAM) number.

Award procedure:

NRCS will process and evaluate applications using the following process: An interagency technical team, including NRCS staff, will screen applications for completeness and compliance with the announcement for funding. Incomplete and noncompliant applications will be eliminated from competition. NRCS technical staff will evaluate and rank complete applications. The NRCS Chief will make the final award decisions.

Awardees will subsequently work with NRCS to develop a mitigation banking instrument which will provide full details for development, establishment, and operation of a mitigation banking program.

Fiscal Year 2016: In December 2016, NASS published the results from the Local Foods Survey. Data provided insights into four marketing channels; direct to customer, direct to retailer, direct to institutions, and sales to intermediate markets. In January 2016, NASS began a new survey to collect data to measure the cost of honey bee pollination to crop producers. The January survey collected data for 2015, and a second survey in November collected data for 2016. A publication for both years was released in December 2016. In May 2016, the first Honey Bee Colonies report was released, which included colony loss information along with colony health stressors. In April 2016, NASS released the Floriculture Crops, 2015 Summary. This release contains production, price, and whole value information for the 2015 crop year. Fiscal Year 2017: NASS will conduct the vital Federal Principle Economic Indicators at the core level. NASS will continue to respond to stakeholders to provide critical market sensitive data needs as they arise. Final planning year for the 2017 Census of Agriculture. Fiscal Year 2018: Fiscal Year 2018 marks the fourth year in the five-year funding cycle for conducting the 2017 Census of Agriculture (COA). The COA is conducted every five years to obtain agricultural statistics for each County, State, and the Nation.

Renewals:
Extension requests will be considered by the federal program office only if the recipient has submitted all required performance reports. At least sixty days prior to the end of the award, recipients must discuss with their federal program officer expected reprogramming and extensions requests. After preliminary negotiation on proposed projects and extensions, formal written reprogramming and extension requests should be received by the federal program office 45 days prior to the end date of the award. The federal program office will not recommend approval for any retroactive extension request (received after the end date of the award). Recipients should make every effort to submit one extension request for all projects needing an extension (when possible, multiple extension requests should be avoided). With sufficient justification, the federal program office will recommend approval of a six-month extension for the first extension request. First time or cumulative extension requests for more than six months but less than 12 months, will need more compelling justification as to why the project was not completed on time or could not be completed within the first six-month extension. Although the federal program office discourages extensions of more than 12 months, the federal program office will recommend approval in cases where the funds are already obligated. Renewal of an award to increase funding or extend the period of performance is at the total discretion of the Department.

11.019 STATE ALTERNATIVE PLAN PROGRAM

State Alternative Plan Program

FEDERAL AGENCY:
National Telecommunications and Information Administration, Department of Commerce

AUTHORIZATION:
The Middle Class Tax Relief and Job Creation Act of 2012 , Public Law 112-96, 47 U.S.C 1401.

OBJECTIVES:
To establish a spectrum capacity leasing right and radio access network (RAN) construction grant program for states that opt-out of the First Responder Network Authority's (FirstNets) proposed plan for building a RAN in that state, and assume the responsibility to construct, operate, maintain, and improve its RAN that is interoperable with the nationwide public safety broadband network (NPSBN) subject to the provisions of the Middle Class Tax Relief and Job Creation Act of 2012 (Act).

As described in the Act, after receiving approval from the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), an opt-out state shall apply to the National Telecommunications and Information Administration (NTIA) for a grant for the right to enter into a spectrum capacity lease agreement with FirstNet and may apply for RAN construction grant funding. First, a state must submit its alternative plan for the construction, maintenance, operation, and improvements of its RAN to the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) and meet specific interoperability criteria established by the FCC. Second, if the FCC approves the state alternative plan, that state must make five separate technical and financial demonstrations to NTIA. The state must demonstrate: 1) that it has the technical capabilities to operate and the funding to support its RAN; 2) that it has the ability to maintain ongoing interoperability with the NPSBN; 3) that it has the ability to complete the project within specified comparable timelines specific to the state; 4) the cost-effectiveness of the state alternative plan submitted to the FCC; and, 5) comparable security, coverage, and quality of service to that of the NPSBN. Third, assuming the state has successfully made such demonstrations to NTIA, the state then must enter into a spectrum capacity lease with FirstNet, which will be required for operation of the state RAN.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

- Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

NTIA grants of the authority to enter into a spectrum capacity lease with FirstNet does not confer access to spectrum for an opt-out state to implement its RAN, nor does it guarantee the execution of a spectrum lease agreement with FirstNet.

Grant funds will be limited to categories of costs, such as equipment, construction, installation, contractual, and other associated costs related to construction of the states RAN as detailed in the state alternative plan approved by the FCC. Grant funds may not be used for ongoing RAN maintenance, operation (inclusive of all recurring costs), and improvement costs. Discretionary funds are available for the costs described above. 100% of the discretionary funds will be used for these purposes.

Applicant Eligibility:

Eligible applicants for Lease Authority or a RAN Construction Grant will be those states, territories and the District of Columbia whose alternative state plan was approved by the FCC pursuant to the Act.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Beneficiaries of the grants are state, local and tribal governments that employ public safety officials, including police officers, fire fighters, emergency medical professionals and others, as well as the general public, who will receive improved communications capabilities from the deployment of State RANs that connect to the nationwide interoperable public safety broadband network.

Credentialed/Documented:

No Credentials or documentation are required. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Preapplication coordination is required. An environmental impact statement is required for this program. An environmental impact assessment is required for this program. PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS:
The Office of Exporter Services (OEXS) is the Bureau of Industry and Security (BIS) front line unit in providing exporter counseling and plays a major role in guiding exporters through complex licensing transactions. Through a variety of seminar programs offered at locations throughout the United States, OEXS instructs and assists new and established exporters through basic and advanced level courses. OEXS also provides specialized workshops on topics of specific interest (e.g., commercial encryption licensing, technology controls, how to classify your products, export management systems and freight forwarder programs). In fiscal year 2005, BIS conducted 45 domestic seminars in 17 states, which were attended by over 3,318 participants. In fiscal year 2006, we anticipate over 3,200 exporters will be counseled through 45 export licensing seminars. These estimates should also apply in fiscal year 2007 as limited resources will prevent us from expanding the seminar program. Through our headquarters in Washington, DC and our Western Regional Offices in Los Angeles and San Jose, California, BIS will provide one-on-one counseling 11 hours a day through meetings, telephone counseling sessions and responses to e-mail and fax inquiries. In addition, the BIS Web site (www.bis.doc.gov) provides exporters constant access to timely information and services.

FEDERAL AGENCY:
Economic Development Administration, Department of Commerce

AUTHORIZATION:

OBJECTIVES:
Public Works grants support the construction or rehabilitation of essential public infrastructure and facilities necessary to generate or retain private sector jobs and investments, attract private sector capital, and promote regional competitiveness, innovation, and entrepreneurship, including investments that expand and upgrade infrastructure to attract new industry, support technology-led development, accelerate new business development, and enhance the ability of regions to capitalize on opportunities presented by free trade.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:
Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:
Characteristic projects include investments in facilities such as water and sewer systems, industrial access roads, business parks, port facilities, rail spurs, skill-training facilities, business incubator facilities, brownfield redevelopment, eco-industrial facilities, and telecommunications and broadband infrastructure improvements necessary for business creation, retention and expansion. To be eligible, a project must be located in or benefit a region that, on the date EDA receives an application for investment assistance, satisfies one or more of the economic distress criteria set forth in 13 C.F.R. 301.3(a) and 13 C.F.R. 300.3 to revitalize, expand, or upgrade their physical infrastructure to attract new industry, encourage business expansion, diversify their local economies, and generate or retain long-term private sector jobs and capital investments.

CREDENTIALS/DOCUMENTATION:
Applicants should refer to the specific requirements of the current Federal Funding Opportunity (FFO) to determine what documents must be submitted at the time of submission. EDA employs a two-phase review process for proposals/applications submitted under this FFO. All submissions under this FFO must proceed through the two-phase review process. Phase I, the Proposal Phase, of EDAs process is designed to provide applicants with an economical and efficient means of determining if their proposed project meets the essential criteria to be considered responsive to this FFO. In Phase I, potential applicants are able to provide EDA with general project information, as detailed in the FFO, to allow EDA to make a Phase I Determination, i.e., whether the proposed project meets the most essential criteria to be considered responsive to this FFO. Proposal packages submitted for Phase I consideration may be presented at any time during the fiscal year. All complete Phase I proposal packages will be reviewed by the respective regional office Proposal Review Committee (PRC), and the applicant will be advised of EDAs Phase I Determination. If the regional office PRC determines that a proposal is responsive to this FFO (Phase I Responsive Determination), EDA will inform the applicant that it may submit a complete application to proceed to Phase II of the process. In Phase II, the Application Phase, an applicant must submit a complete application, as detailed in the FFO, to be considered for funding. If an applicant submits an application in lieu of or concurrent with a proposal package, the regional office PRC must first make a Phase I Determination regarding the applicants submission before moving to Phase II, the Application Phase. In either Phase I or II, EDA may seek information or documentation from the applicant to clarify information presented in the proposal/application. Please refer to the current FFO for more information on EDAs review and selection process. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:
Preapplication coordination is required. An environmental impact assessment is required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review.

Application Procedures:
2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. For information on the application process you may access the applicable federal funding opportunity (FFO) announcement for Public Works investment assistance at www.grants.gov and at www.eda.gov. EDA will review each application for Public Works application in accordance with the evaluation criteria, funding priorities, and selection procedures set forth in the applicable FFO.

Award Procedure:
Staff in the applicable EDA regional office review complete applications for eligibility and compatibility with EDAs mission and funding priorities.
Applications deemed eligible and at least minimally consistent with EDA’s mission and funding priorities are referred to an Investment Review Committee, which recommends applications for funding to the Regional Director. 11.302 ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT SUPPORT FOR PLANNING ORGANIZATIONS
Planning Investments and Comprehensive Economic Development Strategies

FEDERAL AGENCY:
Economic Development Administration, Department of Commerce

AUTHORIZATION:

OBJECTIVES:
Through the Planning program, EDA provides assistance to eligible recipients to create regional economic development plans in order to stimulate and guide the economic development efforts of a community or region. As part of this program, EDA supports Partnership Planning investments to facilitate the development, implementation, revision, or replacement of Comprehensive Economic Development Strategies (CEDS), which leverage the unique assets of their respective regions to help create and retain higher-skill, higher-wage jobs, particularly for the unemployed and underemployed in the Nations most economically distressed regions.

To facilitate CEDS, EDA provides Partnership Planning grants to the designated planning organization (e.g., District Organization) serving EDA-designated Economic Development Districts (EDDs) throughout the Nation. These planning organizations are typically recognized by the State in which they reside as multi-jurisdictional councils of governments, regional commissions, or planning and development centers. Partnership Planning grants enable planning organizations to manage and coordinate the development and implementation of CEDS. In addition, EDA provides Partnership Planning grants to Indian Tribes to help organize and assist with the implementation of economic development activities within their areas. The majority of funding under the Planning program is for Partnership Planning grants for Indian Tribes and EDA-designated EDDs.

The Planning program also helps support planning organizations and other eligible recipients, including District Organizations and Indian Tribes, with short-term and State Planning efforts in order to stimulate and guide the creation and/or retention of higher-skill, higher-wage jobs, particularly for the unemployed and underemployed in the Nations most economically distressed regions. For example, EDA might provide Short-Term Planning funding to a coalition of Tribal and regional organizations to plan a coordinated response to the sudden loss of a major employer in the affected area(s).

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

PROJECT GRANTS

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

EDA Planning investments support the preparation of CEDS that guide EDAs Public Works and Economic Adjustment Assistance implementation investments, including Revolving Loan Funds. Sound local planning also attracts other Federal, state, and local funds plus private sector investments to implement long-term development strategies. In this way, EDAs Planning program plays a foundational role in helping communities develop important strategies that inform future economic development decisions.

Comprehensive, market-based, local and regional planning is an essential component of successful economic development. Effective planning creates a road map for community growth and development with a focused approach towards creating higher-skill, higher-wage jobs. The Planning Program provides a foundation for EDAs infrastructure investments, which are designed to stimulate economic growth in distressed regions. The planning process supports an assessment of the regions economic conditions and the development of a CEDS to guide resource allocation and project development. The key value of this process is that it is locally determined and involves participation from all the diverse interests in the community. Planning activities supported by these Investments must be part of a continuous process involving the active participation of Private Sector Representatives, public officials and private citizens, and include:

(a) Analyzing local economies;
(b) Defining economic development goals;
(c) Determining Project opportunities; and
(d) Formulating and implementing an economic development program that includes systematic efforts to reduce unemployment and increase incomes. All EDA grants are discretionary grants. EDA does not award any formula grants.

Applicant Eligibility:

Pursuant to PWEDA, eligible applicants for and recipients of EDA investment assistance include a(n): (a) District Organization (as defined in 13 CFR 304.2); (b) Indian Tribe or a consortium of Indian Tribes; (c) State, city, or other political subdivision of a State, including a special purpose unit of a State or local government engaged in economic or infrastructure development activities, or a consortium of political subdivisions; (d) institution of higher education or a consortium of institutions of higher education; or (e) public or private non-profit organization or association acting in cooperation with officials of a political subdivision of a State. See section 3 of PWEDA (42 U.S.C. 3122) and 13 CFR 300.3. As used in this paragraph, State includes the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, the Republic of the Marshall Islands, the Federated States of Micronesia, and the Republic of Palau. See 13 CFR 300.3 and 310.2.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

EDA Planning investments provide support to Planning Organizations for the development, implementation, revision, or replacement of a CEDS. They also may provide support for related short-term planning investments and State plans designed to create and retain higher-skill, higher-wage jobs, particularly for the unemployed and underemployed in the nation’s most economically distressed regions.

Credentials/Documentation:

To be considered for EDA assistance, applicants must first submit a complete EDA application package. The applicant must provide a list of its proposed Strategy Committee members. The Committee must represent the main economic interests of the Region and must include Private Sector Representatives as a majority of its membership. The applicant should ensure that the Strategy Committee includes public officials, community leaders, representatives of workforce development boards, institutions of higher education, minority and labor groups, and private individuals. The Strategy Committee representing Indian Tribes or States may vary. Applicants must also submit documentation of matching fund availability. Finally, non-profit applicants will be asked to provide additional documentation. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Preapplication coordination is not required, but EDA offers applicants assistance in developing applications through its network of field-based Economic Development Representatives (EDRs). Environmental impact information is not required for this program. FEDERAL AGENCY:
Economic Development Administration, Department of Commerce

AUTHORIZATION:
Section 209 of the Public Works and Economic development Act of 1965, as amended (PWEDA), (42 U.S.C. 3149).

OBJECTIVES:
To address the needs of distressed communities experiencing adverse economic changes that may occur suddenly or over time, and generally result from industrial or corporate restructuring, new Federal laws or requirements, reduction in defense expenditures, depletion of natural resources, or natural disaster. Economic Adjustment Assistance grants are intended to enhance a distressed community’s ability to compete economically by stimulating private investment in targeted areas. Current investment priorities include proposals that focus on (a) Collaborative Regional Innovation, (b) Public/Private Partnerships, (c) National Strategic Priorities, (d) Global Competitiveness, (e) Environmentally-Sustainable Development, (f) Economically Distressed and Underserved Communities. For more information on these investment priorities and current funding opportunities, go to http://www.eda.gov.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:
Project Grants (Cooperative Agreements)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:
The Economic Adjustment Assistance Program provides a wide range of technical, planning and public works and infrastructure assistance in regions experiencing adverse economic changes that may occur suddenly or over time. This program is designed to respond flexibly to pressing economic recovery issues and is well suited to help address challenges faced by U.S. communities and regions. To be eligible, a project must be located in or benefit a region that, on the date EDA receives an application for investment assistance, satisfies one or more of the economic distress criteria set forth in 13 C.F.R. 301.3(a). All investments must be consistent with a current EDA-approved Comprehensive Economic Development Strategy (CEDS) or equivalent strategic economic development plan for the region in which the project will be located, and the applicant must have the required local share of funds committed, available, and unencumbered. Applicants must be able to start and complete proposed projects in a timely manner consistent with award terms and conditions. Recipients must award contracts in accordance with proper procurement procedures and ensure that contractors pay Davis-Bacon wage rates. Indirect costs are not allowed on construction projects. All grants awarded are competitive in nature. EDA does not award formula grants.

Applicant Eligibility:
Pursuant to PWEDA, eligible applicants for and recipients of EDA investment assistance include a State, city, county, or other political subdivision of a State, including (a): (a) District Organization as defined in 13 CFR 304.2; (b) Indian Tribe or a consortium of Indian Tribes; (c) State, city, or other political subdivision of a State, including a special purpose unit of a State or local government engaged in economic or infrastructure development activities, or a consortium of such political subdivisions; (d) institution of higher education or a consortium of institutions of higher education; or (e) public or private non-profit organization or association acting in cooperation with officials of a political subdivision of a State. See section 3 of PWEDA (42 U.S.C. 3122) and 13 CFR 300.3. Projects eligible for Economic Adjustment investment assistance also include those located in regions meeting Special Need criteria as defined in 13 CFR 300.3. For-profit, private sector entities do not qualify for Economic Adjustment assistance under PWEDA. Therefore, EDA will not provide investments directly to individuals or for-profit entities. Such requests may be referred to State or local agencies, or to non-profit economic development organizations. As used in this paragraph, 'State' includes the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, the Republic of the Marshall Islands, the Federated States of Micronesia, and the Republic of Palau.

Beneficiary Eligibility:
Beneficiaries of investments made under Economic Adjustment are those communities who satisfy one or more of the economic distress and/or Special Need criteria set forth in 13 C.F.R. 301.3(a) and 13 C.F.R. 300.3 to revitalize, expand, or upgrade their economic development assets to attract new industry, encourage business expansion, diversify their local economies, and generate or retain long-term private sector jobs and capital investments. Investments are intended to alleviate long-term deterioration and sudden and severe economic dislocation in distressed communities and regions.

Credentials/Documentation:
Applicants should refer to the specific requirements of the current Federal Funding Opportunity (FFO) to determine what documents must be submitted at the time of submission. EDA employs a two-phase review process for proposals/applications submitted under this FFO. All submissions under this FFO must proceed through the two-phase review process. Phase I, the Proposal Phase, of EDAs process is designed to provide applicants with an economical and efficient means of determining if their proposed project meets the essential criteria to be considered responsive to this FFO. In Phase I, potential applicants are able to provide EDA with general project information, as detailed in the FFO, to allow EDA to make a Phase I Determination, i.e., whether the proposed project meets the most essential criteria to be considered responsive to this FFO. Proposal packages submitted for Phase I consideration may be presented at any time during the fiscal year. All complete Phase I proposal packages will be reviewed by the respective regional office Proposal Review Committee (PRC), and the applicant will be advised of EDAs Phase I Determination. If the regional office PRC determines that a proposal is responsive to this FFO (Phase I Responsive Determination), EDA will inform the applicant that it may submit a complete application to proceed to Phase II of the process. In Phase II, the Application Phase, an applicant must submit a complete application, as detailed in the FFO, to be considered for funding. If an applicant submits an application in lieu of or concurrent with a proposal package, the regional office PRC must first make a Phase I Determination regarding the applicants submission before moving to Phase II, the Application Phase. In either Phase I or II, EDA may seek information or documentation from the applicant to clarify information presented in the proposal/application. Please refer to the current FFO for more information on EDAs review and selection process. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E – Cost Principles applies to this program.

Formula and Matching Requirements:
Statutory Formula: Title 15 - Commerce and Foreign Trade, Chapter IX - National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, Part 923 - Coastal Zone Management Program Regulations, Subpart B. As required by Section 306(a) of the CZMA (16 U.S.C. 1455(a)), matching funds requirements for CZMA administrative grants may be found at 15 C.F.R. 923.110. In general, match is required at a ratio of 1:1 for administrative grants. For enhancement grants under Section 309 of the CZMA (16 U.S.C. 1456b), non-federal match is not required. Matching requirements are not applicable to this program.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:
Assistance is typically available to formula recipients for 12 to 18 months with a possible extension not to exceed a project period of 3 total years. Extension requests will be considered by the federal program office only if the recipient has submitted all required performance reports. At least sixty days prior to the end of the award, recipients must discuss with their federal program officer expected reprogramming and extension requests. After preliminary negotiation on proposed projects and extensions, formal written reprogramming and extension requests must be submitted to the NOAA at least 30 days prior to end date. Recipients should make every effort to submit one extension request for all projects needing an extension (when possible, multiple extension requests should be avoided). With sufficient justification, the federal program office will recommend approval of an extension up to 1 year for the first extension request. First time or cumulative extension requests for more than six months but less than 12 months, will need more compelling justification as to why the project was not completed on time or could not be completed within the first six-month extension. Although the federal program office discourages extensions of more than 12 months, the federal program office will recommend approval in cases where the funds are already obligated. Renewal of an award to increase funding or extend the period of performance is at the total discretion of the Department. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released: Funds are released as agreed to in the Standard Terms and Conditions document required for each grant; and special award conditions as applicable.

PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS:
Fiscal Year 2016: In fiscal years 2015 and 2016 the Office for Coastal Management, Pacific Islands, located in Honolulu, provided competitive grants through the Bay Watershed Education and Training (B-WET) Hawaii program to foster the development of innovative science programs, partnerships and products throughout the State of Hawaii, as well as support environmental education efforts that align with national and state education standards. B-WET Hawaii projects focused on providing meaningful outdoor experiences for students and professional development opportunities for teachers that target understanding earth system sciences, hazards, community resilience, and climate change.

The Bay Watershed and Education Program, sponsored a 2015 grant with the University of Hawaii to support student investigations in marine science. The He‘eia Ahupua‘a project provided a framework for both developing Science, Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM) education programs in a new way, and a model for cross-disciplinary work within the university culture. It also catalyzed partnerships between the university, local schools and communities, and provided valuable K-12 teaching experiences for young emerging scientists, fostered future interdisciplinary interests and improved abilities in communicating science to diverse audiences.

The Bay Watershed, Education, and Training program sponsored a 205 project with the University of Hawaii titled The Kaneohe Ahupuaa Ridge-to-Reef Project (KARRP): An Environmental Science Education, Stewardship and Research Program for High School Juniors and Seniors in Hawaii. The project offered college-level summer experience in environmental science education and research for high school juniors and seniors during the summer of 2015. Through an intensive six-week summer program, the investigators broadened students understanding of the Kaneohe Bay watershed and coral reef ecosystem, introduced them to new scientific research areas, added to their knowledge of current scientific methodology, research techniques, and scientific tools, and encouraged environmental stewardship.

The Office for Coastal Management Hawaii, is continuing to manage the competitive Bay Watershed Education and Training (B-WET) Hawaii program to foster the development of innovative science programs, partnerships and products throughout the State of Hawaii, as well as support environmental education efforts that align with national and state education standards (subject to the availability of funding). Fiscal Year 2017: The NOAA Office for Coastal Management funded $10,000,000 in NOAA Coastal Resilience Grants in FY 2016 and 2017 to ramp up the nations ability to address existing and emerging coastal challenges. Recipients include state and local government agencies and nonprofits. They will use these funds to improve their respective regions ability to prepare for and recover from a variety of coastal threats, including hurricanes, tsunamis, and sea level rise. Project focus areas include flood protection, infrastructure improvement, restoration of coastal habitat, and proactive community planning initiatives. The emphasis is on protecting life and property, safeguarding people and infrastructure, strengthening the economy, and conserving and restoring coastal and marine resources.

The awards cover 17 states and Puerto Rico. Over 350 coastal communities will be impacted, and 1,100 acres of habitat will be restored and used to enhance flood protection. Fiscal Year 2018: In fiscal year 2017 the Office for Coastal Management, Pacific Islands, located in Honolulu, provided competitive grants through the Bay Watershed Education and Training (B-WET) Hawaii program to foster the development of innovative science programs, partnerships and products throughout the State of Hawaii, as well as support environmental education efforts that align with national and state education standards. B-WET Hawaii projects focused on providing meaningful outdoor experiences for students and professional development opportunities for teachers that target understanding earth system sciences, hazards, community resilience, and climate change.

Specific notices of funding opportunity require additional research-related and administrative documentation, and may also require safety, environmental, and other regulatory documentation prior to the award of any grant or cooperative agreement. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:
Each notice of funding opportunity specifies applicable pre-application requirements. Notices of funding opportunity typically require the applicants Principal Investigator to submit a pre-application through the Electronic Biomedical Research Application Portal (eBRAP, available at https://eBRAP.org/). Pre-applications are screened for military relevance and technical merit against criteria stated in each notice of funding opportunity. Following pre-application screening, the applicants Principal Investigator will be notified regarding whether the applicant is invited to submit a full application. Applicants can find specific application procedures, including necessary forms and instructions for application submission, in each notice of funding opportunity. Notices of funding opportunity are available at Grants.gov by searching CFDA Number 12.420 on the Search Grants tab.

Award Procedure:
All invited applications are evaluated by USAMRMC scientists, other Federal agency representatives, outside scientists with diverse expertise, clinicians, consumers, or combinations thereof, using a two-tier review process. The first tier is a peer review of applications against criteria stated in each notice of funding opportunity to determine technical merit. The second tier is a programmatic review that makes recommendations for funding based on technical merit, military relevance, the specific intent of the funding opportunity, and any other criteria specified in the notice of funding opportunity. The best-scoring applications from the first tier of review are not automatically recommended for funding. Award amount will be negotiated for those applications recommended for funding. Awards depend upon the availability of funding and priorities which USAMRMC determines to exist at the time of award. Only the Grants Officer has the authority to issue awards and obligate funds on behalf of the Federal government.

Deadlines:
Contact the headquarters or regional office, as appropriate, for application deadlines.

Awards are normally made within 9-12 months from funding notification.

Appeals:
If an application is not recommended for funding and the Principal Investigator feels that a factual or procedural error was made by the reviewers, (s)he can submit an inquiry. Each notice of funding opportunity will include instructions for submitting an inquiry and the timeframe for submission.

Renewals:
An award may be extended one time up to 12 months with no additional funds. Additional extensions may be considered. Follow on awards are treated as new awards. Once an award ends, if continued funding is desired, a new application must be submitted under an applicable funding opportunity announcement and competitively reviewed. 12.582 OFFICE FOR REINTEGRATION PROGRAMS
Yellow Ribbon Reintegration Program

FEDERAL AGENCY:
Office of the Secretary of Defense, Department of Defense

AUTHORIZATION:

OBJECTIVES:
To conduct data collection, trend analysis, and curriculum development and to prepare reports in support of activities under Section 582 of Public Law 110-181, Sec. 582 (2008), as amended by Public Law 114-92 (2016).

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:
Cooperative Agreements; Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:
Statutory authority for issuing grants is provided to the Office for Reintegration Programs (ORP), Yellow Ribbon Reintegration Program (YRRP), through Public Law 110-181, Sec. 582 (2008), as amended by Public Law 114-92 (2016) stating that the Office for Reintegration Programs may make grants to conduct data collection, trend analysis, and curriculum development and to prepare reports in support of activities under this section.

The National Defense Authorization Act of 2008 established the Yellow Ribbon Reintegration Program (YRRP) to assist National Guard and Reserve members as they transition between their military and civilian roles. By providing deployment cycle information, resources, and programs, YRRP addresses the unique challenges facing the Guard and Reserve community, including geographic dispersion away from military support networks and fewer deployment resources than the Active Component.

YRRP events provide National Guard and Reserve Service members and those who support them with dynamic and engaging delivery of information before, during, and after deployments. Events connect attendees with local information on health care, education/training opportunities, and financial and legal benefits. These resources help to prepare and guide attendees through the hardships of deployment, then enable Service members to successfully reintegrate back into their families, communities and careers.

Applicant Eligibility:
The Yellow Ribbon Reintegration Program is a DoD-wide effort to promote the well-being of National Guard and Reserve members, their families and communities, by connecting them with resources throughout the deployment cycle. Through Yellow Ribbon events, Service members and loved ones connect with local resources before, during, and after deployments. Reintegration during post-deployment is a critical time for members of the National Guard and Reserve, as they often live far from military installations and other members of their units. Commanders and leaders play a critical role in assuring that Reserve Service members and their families attend Yellow Ribbon events where they can access information on health care, education and training opportunities, financial, and legal benefits. We work in government and non-government partners, including the Small Business Administration and Departments of Labor and Veterans Affairs, to provide up-to-date and relevant information to the members of the All-Volunteer force and their families.

Eligible applicants must be able to satisfy the needs of the Office for Reintegration Programs as outlined in Public Law 110-181, Sec. 582 (2008), as amended by Public Law 114-92 (2016) stating that the Office for Reintegration Programs may make grants to conduct data collection, trend analysis, and curriculum development and to prepare reports in support of activities under this section.

Beneficiary Eligibility:
Beneficiaries must be able to conduct data collection, trend analysis, and curriculum development and to prepare reports in support of activities of the Yellow Ribbon Reintegration Program as established by Public Law 110-181, Sec. 582 (2008), as amended by Public Law 114-92 (2016).
