e) Provide research space (to include laboratory space when applicable) for conducting research to support the OPA program if proposed by faculty.

*The term University is used throughout this Program Announcement to refer to a post-secondary regionally accredited college or university.

The OPA RFP will further science and technology through basic and applied research, studies, analysis and evaluations with this research having the potential for both civilian and military applications. It will also enable the university, faculty and student researchers the benefit of learning by using OPA data. Under the OPA RFP, candidates are sought to conduct collaborative research, applying their knowledge and talent to research areas that are of interest to them and potentially to OPA. Fellows will perform scholarly research at OPA, which should embody research ideas of the individual and which are of interest to OPA. To facilitate the Fellow selection, the Applicant should propose a competitive application process that incorporates OPA evaluation of the research and capability provided. It is important that a research application be consistent and complimentary with OPA facilities and interests, supporting or stimulating OPA basic and applied research programs. The term Fellows refers to faculty, students, or post-doctoral researchers who will perform scholarly research under the OPA Research Fellowship Program cooperative agreement. NOTE: No Fellow under this program will be considered an employee of OPA or the Department of Defense under any circumstance.

DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT

14.008 TRANSFORMATION INITIATIVE: CHOICE NEIGHBORHOODS DEMONSTRATION SMALL RESEARCH GRANT PROGRAM

FEDERAL AGENCY:
Office of Policy Development and Research, Department of Housing and Urban Development

AUTHORIZATION:
Consolidated and Further Continuing Appropriations Act, 2012, This program is approved by HUDs authority and administered under the Transformation Initiative (TI) account., Public Law 112-55.

OBJECTIVES:
The purpose of this effort is to develop and implement small scale research projects that build upon the larger Choice Neighborhood Demonstration research project. The goal of this research program is to fund research related to Choice Neighborhoods that complements the work already being funded by HUD through the Choice baseline research project (C-CHI-01127/T0001). Since the Choice baseline research project will focus on implementation grants in Boston, Chicago, and New Orleans, applicants are encouraged to identify research projects in other Choice Neighborhood implementation or planning... grant sites. Research projects in Boston, Chicago, and New Orleans will be eligible but the applicant must demonstrate how the proposed research would complement research already planned through the Choice baseline research project.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Eligible costs include, but are not limited to, the researchers salary; assistants to work on the project; protected release time for researchers who demonstrate the need for a period of intensive research; computer software; purchase of data; transcription services, and compensation for interviews. 1. Funding will only be provided to applicants who meet the standards for eligible applicants.

2. Grant funds awarded under this program may not be used to pay for computer hardware and/or meals.

3. Funds will not be used to pay for activities outside of the scope of the NOFA.

4. Fee or profit will not be paid for work done under this program.

5. Applicants must comply with the Delinquent Federal Debt Requirement.

6. Honorariums cannot be charged against awards under this program.

7. Entities or individuals already involved in HUD-funded Choice Neighborhoods research under Tasks Order C-CHI-01127/T001 cannot directly be funded.

8. Travel expenses are not an eligible cost, in order to encourage applications from researchers located in the vicinity of the Choice Neighborhoods sites.

Applicants may fund travel from other sources of funding.

Applicant Eligibility:

Since one purpose of this NOFA is to broaden the community of researchers working on Choice Neighborhoods, HUD will not directly fund entities or individuals already involved in HUD-funded Choice Neighborhoods research under Task Order C-CHI-01127/T0001.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

The goal of this research program is to fund research related to Choice Neighborhoods that complements the work already being funded by HUD through the Choice baseline research project (C-CHI-01127/T0001). Since the Choice baseline research project will focus on implementation grants in Boston, Chicago, and New Orleans, applicants are encouraged to identify research projects in other Choice Neighborhood implementation or planning grant sites. Research projects in Boston, Chicago, and New Orleans will be eligible but the applicant must demonstrate how the proposed research would complement research already planned through the Choice baseline research project. 4 There are some substantial challenges in evaluating a program like Choice Neighborhoods. First, it is difficult to establish a convincing counterfactual of what would have happened to the neighborhood and its residents in the absence of the Choice Neighborhoods intervention. Second, because Choice Neighborhoods combines a variety of services and investments related to housing, education, public safety, job training, etc., it is difficult to explain why a particular approach does or doesn't work. Third, neighborhoods are dynamic—the people and businesses that participate in, or rely upon, a neighborhood are constantly changing. The Choice Neighborhoods investment may have benefits that accrue to individuals, businesses, or other entities not captured in the Choice baseline research project, which focuses on the neighborhood and the individuals living there at baseline. Applicants are encouraged to identify research that will overcome these challenges and provide clear evidence of the impact of Choice Neighborhoods. HUD is using this NOFA rather than a contract (or task order under the existing BPA) for two reasons:

1. To solicit research ideas that are related to Choice Neighborhoods, but that are not already apparent to HUD, and

2. To broaden the community of researchers working on Choice Neighborhoods. Proposals should identify research questions that will help to demonstrate the impacts of Choice Neighborhoods or to help improve the program.

Credentials/Documentation:

No Credentials or documentation are required. This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles.

Preapplication Coordination:

Preapplication coordination is not applicable. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. None

Award Procedure:

Applications will be rated, ranked and awards will be made to the highest ranked applications. HUD reserves the right to reduce the amount of funding requested in order to fund as many highly ranked applications as possible. Additionally, if funds remain after funding the highest ranked applications, HUD may fund part of the next highest-ranking application. If an applicant turns down the award offer, HUD will make an offer to the next highest-ranking application.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional office, as appropriate, for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

HUD does not intend to fund research that would be duplicative of work being funded through the Choice baseline research project, so applicants are advised to review HUDs RFQ R-CHI-01091, published on February 22, 2011. Specifically, see Section G Attachment 1 Initial Task Order. This is available by email from Paul.A.Joice@hud.gov.

Appeals:

Not Applicable.

Renewals:

Not Applicable.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory formulas are not applicable to this program. Matching requirements are not applicable to this program. MOE requirements are not applicable to this program.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Cash reports are not applicable. All applicants that receive grant funds under this program are required to submit quarterly progress reports which describe the progress of the effort and the likelihood that it will be completed on time. Financial reports must be included that reflects the cost incurred by budget line, as well as a cumulative summary of costs incurred during the reporting period. Each grant's performance will be monitored.

The annual action plan must include the local community development objectives and show the proposed use of the funds. If the grantee makes a complete submission within the established deadlines, the Department will make a grant award unless a determination is made by HUD that the grantee's performance is unsatisfactory. HUD will approve the submission generally within 45 days of receipt of the annual action plan and required certifications unless a determination has been made that the grantee has failed to carry out its CDBG program in a timely manner or has failed to conform to the requirements of the statute or other applicable laws. Under such circumstances, HUD may take appropriate actions, including a reduction in the amount of the original formula-allocated grant.

14.228 COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT BLOCK GRANTS/STATE’S PROGRAM AND NON-ENTITLEMENT GRANTS IN HAWAI'I

State CDBG

FEDERAL AGENCY:
Office of Community Planning and Development, Department of Housing and Urban Development

AUTHORIZATION:

OBJECTIVES:
The primary objective of this program is the development of viable urban communities by providing decent housing, a suitable living environment, and expanding economic opportunities, principally for persons of low- and moderate-income. Each activity funded must meet one of the program’s National Objectives by: Benefiting low- and moderate-income families; aiding in the prevention or elimination of slums or blight; or meeting other community development needs having a particular urgency because existing conditions pose a serious and immediate threat to the health or welfare of the community where other financial resources are not available.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:
FORMULA GRANTS

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:
Thirty percent of funds available for distribution under each annual appropriation for the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program is allocated among the States and Puerto Rico (which is considered to be a state for the State CDBG program) for use in areas which are not a metropolitan city or part of an urban county (nonentitlement areas). All States except Hawaii have elected to administer these CDBG funds for areas that do not receive CDBG entitlement grants (14.218). HUD awards the formula grants to these States under the CDBG/State Program. In Hawaii, HUD awards the state's share of these funds to the three non-entitlement counties by formula. States must distribute CDBG funds to units of general local government (counties, towns, etc.) in nonentitlement areas. States develop their own programs and funding priorities. Units of general local government then carry out community development activities funded by the State. Eligible activities are directed toward neighborhood revitalization, economic development, or provision of improved community facilities and services. Specific activities that can be carried out with block grant funds include: Acquisition, rehabilitation or construction of certain public works facilities and improvements, such as streets, water and sewer facilities, neighborhood centers, recreation facilities, and other public works; demolition and clearance; rehabilitation of public and private buildings including housing; code enforcement; relocation payments and assistance; economic development; planning activities; certain public services with some restrictions; and administrative expenses. The projected use of funds must be developed to ensure that all activities will meet one of the three national objectives described under “OBJECTIVES”. Communities receiving CDBG funds from a state may select subgrantees to carry out approved projects. Such subgrantees may include: Neighborhood-based nonprofit organizations; local development corporations; Small Business Investment Companies; or other nonprofit organizations serving the development needs of nonentitlement areas. Grant recipients may provide assistance to for-profit entities when the recipient determines that the provision of such assistance is appropriate to carry out an economic development project. Communities are restricted from constructing or rehabilitating public facilities for the general conduct of government and from making housing allowances or other income maintenance-type payments. Each State may use a limited portion of its grant, subject to a matching requirement, to administer the program. Each State may also use a limited portion of its grant, with no matching requirement, to provide technical assistance to local governments and nonprofit program recipients. At least seventy percent of the funds received must benefit low and moderate income persons.

Applicant Eligibility:
Forty-nine State governments and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico receive funds from HUD under this program. The state of Hawaii does not participate and HUD allocates the state’s share of funds to the three Hawaii non-entitled counties. Funds are allocated to each state based on a statutory formula. States must distribute the funds to units of general local government in non-entitlement areas.

Beneficiary Eligibility:
The principal beneficiaries of CDBG funds are low- and moderate-income persons. For non-metropolitan areas, low- and moderate-income is generally defined as 80 percent of the median income for non-metropolitan areas of the State or of the county, whichever is higher, adjusted for family size. For eligible localities in metropolitan areas, low- and moderate-income is generally defined as 80 percent of the median income for the metropolitan area, adjusted for family size.

Credentials/Documentation:
Grantees must certify that they will comply with program requirements specified in 24 CFR Part 91. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:
Preapplication coordination is not applicable. An environmental impact assessment is required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:
2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. 2 CFR Part 200 applies as implemented to the non-entitled grants in Hawaii. See the following for information on the implementation of grants to recipients. See 24 CFR 91. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Deadline:
Nov 16, 2015 to Aug 17, 2016 Consolidated Plans may be submitted between November 15 and August 16 of each fiscal year in which the grantee will administer funds.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:
HUD will review plan submissions for completeness and consistency with the purposes of the Act, within 45 days of receipt from a grantee.

Appeals:
The procedure is described in regulations (24 CFR Part 570 Subpart I for states and 24 CFR Part 570 Subpart O for non-entitlement counties in Hawaii).

Renewals:
Not Applicable.

Formula and Matching Requirements:
Statutory Formula: Title 24, Chapter V, Part 570, Subpart A, Public Law 93-383.

Matching Requirements:
For state administration of the program, an initial allowance of $100,000 with no match, states may take an additional allowance of up to 3% of the grant amount but must match such expenditures on a dollar for dollar basis. There is no matching requirement for the non-entitlement counties in Hawaii. This program does not have MOE requirements.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:
Assistance is provided to States and non-entitlement counties in Hawaii on an annual basis. Individual States may impose time limitations on the implementation of grants to recipients. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released: Grant agreement.

Reports:
Annual performance report covering all programs included in the Consolidated Plan as prescribed at 24 CFR 91. For Hawaii counties, SF-425 Federal Cash Transactions Report is required. States must subgrant all of their ESG funds (except for funds for administrative costs and, under certain conditions, HMIS costs) to units of general purpose local government and/or private nonprofit organizations. Each recipient must consult with the Continuum(s) of Care operating within the jurisdiction in determining how to allocate ESG funds.

Beneficiary Eligibility:
The minimum eligibility criteria for ESG beneficiaries are as follows: For essential services related to street outreach, beneficiaries must meet the criteria under paragraph (1)(i) of the homeless definition under 576.2. For emergency shelter, beneficiaries must meet the homeless definition in 24 CFR 576.2. For essential services related to emergency shelter, beneficiaries must be homeless and staying in an emergency shelter (which could include a day shelter). For homelessness prevention assistance, beneficiaries must meet the requirements described in 24 CFR 576.103. For rapid re-housing assistance, beneficiaries must meet requirements described in 24 CFR 576.104. Further eligibility criteria may be established at the local level in accordance with 24 CFR 576.400(e).

In addition to meeting the application submission requirements in 24 CFR part 5, subpart K, each State, urban county, or metropolitan city must submit a consolidated plan, an annual action plan, and certifications to HUD, in accordance with the requirements in 24 CFR part 91, and each territory must submit a consolidated plan, an annual action plan, and certifications to HUD, in accordance with the requirements that apply to local governments under 24 CFR part 91. The Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards at 2 CFR Part 200, apply.

Award Procedure:
The HUD field office reviews the grantee’s Consolidated Plan and, upon plan approval, notifies the applicant of the award and prepares the grant agreement.

Deadlines:
Contact the headquarters or regional office, as appropriate, for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:
Each jurisdiction should submit its consolidated plan to HUD at least 45 days before the start of its program year, unless affected by Notice CPD-16-01: Guidance on Submitting Consolidated Plans and Annual Action Plans for FY 2016. In no event will HUD accept a submission earlier than November 15 or later than August 16 of the federal fiscal year for which the grant funds are appropriated.

The plan will be deemed approved 45 days after HUD receives the plan, unless before that date HUD has notified the jurisdiction the plan is disapproved. If the plan is disapproved, the jurisdiction may revise or resubmit a plan within 45 days after the first notification of disapproval. HUD must respond to approve or disapprove the plan within 30 days of receiving the revisions or resubmission.

Appeals:
Formula allocations may not be appealed. Disapproved plans may be resubmitted in accordance with 24 CFR 91.500.

Renewals:
Not Applicable.

Formula and Matching Requirements:
Statutory Formula: The formula for this program is part statutory and part regulatory (see section 414 of the McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act and 24 CFR 576.3). HUD will set aside for allocation to the territories up to 0.2 percent, but not less than 0.1 percent, of the total amount of each appropriation in any fiscal year. The remainder will be allocated to States, metropolitan cities, and urban counties. The percentage allocated to each, state, metropolitan city, and urban county will be equal to the percentage of the total amount available under section 106 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 for the prior fiscal year that was allocated to the State, metropolitan city or urban county. If an allocation to a metropolitan city or urban county would be less than 0.05 percent of the total fiscal year appropriation for ESG, the amount is added to the allocation of the State in which the city or county is located. If the recipient or subrecipient is a unit of general purpose local government, its ESG funds cannot be used to replace funds the local government provided for street outreach and emergency shelter services during the immediately preceding 12-month period, unless HUD determines that the unit of general purpose local government is in a severe financial deficit in accordance with 24 CFR 576.101(c).

Matching Requirements: Metropolitan city and urban county recipients must match grant funds with an equal amount of funds from cash or the following in-kind sources: services contributed by volunteers, the donation of materials and buildings, or the value of any lease on a building. States must match all but $100,000 of their awards, but must pass on the benefit of that $100,000 exception to their sub-recipients that are least capable of providing matching amounts. Territories are exempt from the match requirement. This program does not have MOE requirements.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:
Metropolitan cities, urban counties and territories must obligate all funds, except for the amount for administrative costs, within 180 days after HUD signs the grant agreement. States must obligate all funds, except the amount for administrative costs, to subrecipients within 60 days after the date that HUD signs the grant agreement. Each subrecipient that is a unit of general purpose local government must obligate its grant funds within 120 days after the date the State obligates its funds. All grant funds must be expended within 24 months after HUD signs the grant agreement with the recipient. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: by letter of credit.

Reports:
Each recipient must report its program accomplishments for each program year in the Consolidated Annual Performance and Evaluation Report (CAPER). Each recipient’s efficient expenditure of grant funds is evaluated through information provided in the program management’s information system, known as the Integrated Disbursement and Information System (IDIS). Each recipient must also comply with the reporting requirements under the Federal Funding Accountability and Transparency Act of 2006, (31 U.S.C. 6101 note), which are set forth in appendix A to 2 CFR part 170. Monitoring is “risk-assessment based” with high-risked grantees receiving priority status for monitoring and review. The performance report shall be submitted to HUD within 90 days after the close of the jurisdiction's program year. Recipients draw down ESG funds from the Integrated Disbursement and Information System (IDIS). This is HUD's primary method of capturing financial and expenditure data from the recipients. Progress reports are not applicable. Through the CAPER and IDIS draw down information, recipients provide reports on expenditures. In accordance with 2 CFR Part 200, recipients are required to monitor their subrecipients for compliance with the ESG requirements. Audits: In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, non-Federal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503. Records: Sufficient records must be established and maintained to enable the recipient and HUD to determine whether ESG requirements are being met. All records pertaining to each fiscal year of ESG funds must be retained for the greater of 5 years or the period specified under 24 CFR 576.500(y). Account Identification: 86.0192.0.1-6.04.

Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended, Title 24, Part 576, Section Subpart M.

OBJECTIVES:
To provide communities with a source of financing for economic development, housing rehabilitation, public facilities, and large scale physical development projects.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:
GUARANTEED/INSURED LOANS

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:
For purposes of determining eligibility, the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) rules and requirements apply. As with the CDBG program, all projects and activities must either principally benefit low- and moderate-income persons, aid in the elimination or prevention of slums and blight, or meet urgent needs of the community. The guaranteed loan funds are subject to restrictions that are imposed under annual appropriations bills. The assistance is also subject to restrictions that preclude the direct or indirect guarantee of tax-exempt financing. Section 108 recipients may use the guaranteed loan funds to make loans to third parties (e.g., businesses when appropriate to carry out an economic development project). Such loans generally must match the terms of the Section 108 loan to the recipient.

Applicant Eligibility:
Eligible Applicants include: metropolitan cities and urban counties, i.e., CDBG entitlement recipients; nonentitlement communities that are assisted in their submission of applications by States that administer the CDBG program; nonentitlement communities eligible to receive CDBG funds under the HUD-Administered Small Cities CDBG program; and Insular Areas (American Samoa, Guam, Northern Mariana Islands, and the Virgin Islands). The commitment will be subject to compliance with applicable requirements and such conditions as HUD may specify in the commitment document. Furthermore, borrowers are required to pledge current and future CDBG funds as security for the loan guarantee. HUD also requires that the loan guarantee be secured with other collateral. Beginning in FY 2016, borrowers are required to pay a fee based on a percentage of the loan amount (2.59% in FY 2017). The fee is applied only at the time of loan disbursement and may be financed as part of the guaranteed loan.

14.265 Rural Capacity Building for Community Development and Affordable Housing Grants

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

Applications are reviewed according to the Threshold Requirements and Rating
USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:
Types of Assistance:
Authorization:
Federal Agency:

Objectives: Community Compass is HUD’s integrated technical assistance and capacity building initiative. Community Compass is designed to help HUD’s customers navigate complex housing and community development challenges by equipping them with the knowledge, skills, tools, capacity, and systems to implement HUD programs and policies successfully and be more effective stewards of HUD funding. The goal of Community Compass is to empower communities by providing effective technical assistance and capacity building so that successful program implementation is sustained over the long term. Recognizing that HUD’s customers often interact with a variety of HUD programs as they deliver housing or community development services, Community Compass brings together technical assistance investments from across HUD program offices, including the offices of Community Planning and Development, Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity, Housing, and Public and Indian Housing. This cross-funding approach allows technical assistance to address the needs of grantees and subgrantees across multiple HUD programs, often within the same engagement, as well as address cross-agency issues.

Types of Assistance: Cooperative Agreements

Uses and Use Restrictions: All successful applicants must operate within the structure of the demand-response system. Under the demand-response system, HUD identifies technical assistance and capacity building needs and prioritizes them based on Departmental, programmatic and jurisdictional priorities. HUD is solely responsible for determining the entities to be assisted, the location, and the nature of the assistance to be provided. Successful applicants may be funded to conduct the following eligible activities: Needs Assessment; Direct TA and Capacity Building Engagements; Tools and Products; Self-Directed and Group Learning; Knowledge Management; Data Analysis, Reporting, and Performance Measurement; and NAHASDA Allocation Formula Administration and Negotiated Rulemaking and Consultation. These activities are further described in the Program Notice of Funding Availability. Funds may only be used to assist organizations to improve their ability to manage HUD funds. Funds may not be used to assist individuals or families.

Applicant Eligibility: Awardedes tasked to provide technical assistance to PHAs must have at least one staff, subcontractor, or consultant that has at least five years of demonstrated Public Housing programs experience, including agency operations, voucher programs, property management operations, and capital investment programs including capital improvements and various methods of housing development. In addition, awardees tasked to provide technical assistance to PHAs must have at least one staff, subcontractor, or consultant that has at least two years of demonstrated finance and underwriting experience related to RAD conversions.

Funds may only be used to assist organizations to improve their ability to manage HUD funds. Funds may not be used to assist individuals or families.

Beneficiary Eligibility: Selected providers will be deployed as HUD deems most necessary across the country to assist organizations receiving HUD funds to improve performance and management of HUD funds.

Credentials/Documentation: No Credentials or documentation are required. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination: Preapplication coordination is not applicable. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures: 2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. All applicants are required to submit a one-page application summary cover page with the application. The requested funding amount should be based on the number of available staff, the range and quality of their skills and knowledge, and the ability of the applicant to manage these resources to successfully execute multiple TA or capacity building engagements involving several covered programs simultaneously over a three-year period and indicate if the organization is a small business.

Award Procedure: In determining the amount awarded to a successful applicant, HUD will take into consideration the amount of funds available, the final score assigned to the application by HUD reviewers, and HUD’s overall technical assistance needs, including establishing a range of subject matter expertise and geographic coverage, as well as an applicants capacity to serve HUD’s customers across multiple programs or topics. For prior awardees, HUD may consider information from a Contracting Officer, GTR, GTM, POTAC, and/or other HUD staff, as appropriate, on past performance, as well as award balances not committed to TA tasks or work plans. These considerations may reduce an applicants award. There may be insufficient funds available to make an award to every application scoring within the fundable range.

HUD will send written notifications to both successful and unsuccessful applicants. A notification sent to a successful applicant is not an authorization to begin performance. Upon notification that an applicant has been selected for award, HUD will request additional information to be submitted or may work with the applicant to amend information that was already submitted as part of the application.

Deadlines: Jul 24, 2017 to Sep 07, 2016 Applications submitted through http://www.grants.gov must be received by Grants.gov no later than 11:59:59 pm eastern time on the application deadline date.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time: Not Applicable.

14.269 HURRICANE SANDY COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT BLOCK GRANT DISASTER RECOVERY GRANTS (CDBG-DR)

Community Development Block Grant Disaster Recovery program for Hurricane Sandy and other qualifying disasters occurring in 2011, 2012 and 2013

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Office of Community Planning and Development, Department of Housing and Urban Development

AUTHORIZATION:

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

- Formula Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Recipients may undertake a wide range of activities directed toward addressing unmet needs of disaster relief, long-term recovery, restoration of infrastructure and housing, and economic revitalization. However, CDBG-DR funds may not be used for activities reimbursable by other sources of funds, such as those made available by the Federal Emergency Management Agency, the Army Corps of Engineers, or private insurance. Grantees must conduct an assessment of community impacts and unmet needs to guide the development and prioritization of planned recovery activities and develop their own programs and funding priorities as long as programs/activities conform to the statutory standards and program regulations. Some of the specific activities that can be carried out with Community Development Block Grant Disaster Recovery (CDBG DR) funds include buying damaged properties in a flood plain and relocating residents to safer areas; relocation payments for people and businesses displaced by the disaster; debris removal not covered by FEMA; rehabilitation of homes and buildings damaged by the disaster; buying, constructing, or rehabilitating public facilities such as streets, neighborhood centers, and water, sewer and drainage systems; code enforcement; homeownership activities such as down payment assistance, interest rate subsidies and loan guarantees for disaster victims; public services (generally limited to no more than 15 percent of the grant); helping businesses retain or create jobs in disaster impacted areas; and planning and administration costs (limited to no more than 20 percent of the grant). Eligible activities must meet at least one of three program national objectives: benefit persons of low and moderate income, aid in the prevention or elimination of slums or blight, or meet other urgent community development needs because existing conditions pose a serious and immediate threat to the health and welfare of the community where other financial resources are not available. CDBG Disaster Recovery grants primarily benefit low-income residents in and around communities that have experienced a natural disaster. At least 50 percent of each grantee’s CDBG-DR grant award must be used for activities that benefit low- and moderate-income (LMI) persons. These can be either activities in which all or the majority of the people who benefit have low or moderate incomes or activities that benefit an area or service group in which at least 51 percent of the population are of low- and moderate-income. Recipients may contract with other local agencies or nonprofit organizations to carry out components of their programs. Grantees must meet the 50 percent LMI expenditure requirement unless a waiver; alternative requirement has been granted by the Secretary, based upon a determination that good cause exists and that the waiver or alternative requirement is not inconsistent with the overall purposes of Title I of the HCD Act. Recipients may only carry out eligible activities as listed in 24 CFR 570.201-207 or for which a waiver or alternative requirement has been granted by the Secretary, based upon a determination that good cause exists and that the waiver or alternative requirement is not inconsistent with the overall purposes of Title I of the HCD Act.

APPLICANT ELIGIBILITY:

CDBG Disaster Recovery funds are made available to States and units of general local governments designated by the President of the United States as disaster areas. These communities must have significant unmet recovery needs and the capacity to carry out a disaster recovery program (usually these are governments that already received HOME or Community Development Block Grant allocations). Grantees may use CDBG Disaster Recovery funds for recovery efforts involving housing, economic development, infrastructure and prevention of further damage to affected areas. However, CDBG DR funds may not be used for activities reimbursable by or for which funds are made available by the Federal Emergency Management Agency or the Army Corps of Engineers.

BENEFICIARY ELIGIBILITY:

The principal beneficiaries of CDBG DR funds are low- and moderate-income persons (generally defined as a member of a family having an income equal to or less than the Section 8 low income limit established by HUD) in communities that have experienced a disaster event. At least 50 percent of each grantee’s CDBG-DR grant award must be used for activities that benefit low- and moderate-income (LMI) persons. These can be either activities in which all or the majority of people who benefit have low or moderate incomes or activities that benefit an area or service group in which at least 51 percent of the population are of low- and moderate-income. Grantees must meet the 50 percent LMI expenditure requirement unless a waiver has been requested by the grantee and approved by HUD.

CREDENTIALS/DOCUMENTATION:

Recipients must certify they will meet program requirements and applicable federal requirements. 2 CFR 225, Cost Principles for State, Local, and Indian Tribal Governments (previously OMB Circular A-87) applies to this program. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. 2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Recipients submit an Action Plan for Disaster Recovery, SF Form 424, and certifications to HUD. In the Action Plan for Disaster Recovery, grantees must describe uses and activities that are authorized under Title 1 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 (42 U.S.C. 5301 et seq.) (HCD Act) or allowed by a waiver or alternative requirement published in the federal register notice covering the grant funds and also respond to a disaster-related impact. HUD reviews grantee Action Plans within 45 days of receipt and approves the Plan according to criteria identified in the federal register notice covering the grant funds.

AWARD PROCEDURE:

- P.L. 113-2 provides that funds shall be awarded directly to a State or unit of general local government (UGLGI) at the discretion of the Secretary. To comply with statutory direction that funds be used for disaster-related expenses in the most impacted and distressed areas, the Department computed direct allocations to eligible grantees totaling $14,181,892,000 based on the best available data that cover all the eligible affected areas. States and local governments receiving a CDBG-DR allocation may carry out programs and/or activities directly or through subrecipients, including local governments, governmental agencies, and non-profit entities. The remaining $999,108,000 appropriated under P.L. 113-2 has been awarded to eligible grantees based on a competition and is allocated under a separate CFDA number (14.272).

To ensure the timely expenditure of funds, section 904(c) under Title IX of P.L. 113-2 requires that all funds be expended within two years of the date HUD obligates funds to a grantee (funds are obligated to a grantee upon HUD's signing of the grantee CDBGDR grant agreement). Action Plans must demonstrate how funds will be fully expended within two years of obligation. For any funds that the grantee believes will not be expended by the deadline, it must submit a letter to HUD justifying why it is necessary to extend the deadline for a specific portion of funds. Additionally, P.L. 113-2 requires that HUD obligate all funds provided under Chapter 9, Community Development Fund, not later than September 30, 2017. However, NDR grantees have requested extensions of the expenditure deadline up until September 30, 2022. Those expenditure extensions will be published in a subsequent expenditure Federal Register notice. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: by letter of credit.

HUD requires grantees to enter information in HUD's Disaster Recovery Grant Reporting (DRGR) system in sufficient detail to permit the Departments review of grantee performance on a quarterly basis through a Quarterly Performance Report (QPR). HUD reviews these quarterly reports to assess grantee compliance and performance. Quarterly reports include information on obligation, expenditures, leveraging, drawdowns, and accomplishments for all grantee activities. Each grantee must submit a QPR through the DRGR system no later than 30 days following the end of each calendar quarter. Cash reports are not applicable. The Quarterly Performance Report (QPR), submitted by grantees on a quarterly basis through HUD's Disaster Recovery Grant Reporting (DRGR) system include information on expenditures for all their activities. The Department performs regular performance monitoring of grantees both remotely and through annual on-site reviews. The Department determines on-site monitoring priorities based on a risk-analysis of the grantees portfolio of activities or known high-risk areas. For all Headquarters-held grants under this appropriation, HUD staff will conduct at least one annual on-site monitoring review.

The Office of Community Planning and Development's CPD Notice CPD -12-02, 'Implementing Risk Analyses for Monitoring Community Planning and Development Grant Programs' describes the Department's risk analysis process. Monitoring exhibits can be found in Chapter 6 of HUD's Community Planning and Development (CPD) Grantee Monitoring Handbook.

The grantee of the SC2 Network, will have five categories of eligible activities:
1. Structure Development: Develop the SC2 Network structure that would include a team of expert technical service providers (pro bono or paid) that represent the breadth of relevant expertise needed to address the long-term economic challenges of communities. This responsibility also includes developing a Peer-to-Peer network to share lessons learned and best practices.
2. Engagement: Develop the engagement strategy for how the network will assist economically distressed cities. This responsibility also includes systematizing how cities are engaged, prioritizing the level of assistance for each city, and matching the level of assistance based on the needs of each city.
3. Capacity building: Increase the capacity of participating governments in the area of intervention, not just to provide a one-time service that they cannot replicate. This responsibility might also include establishing a Local Resource Network (LRN) for communities with potential private and philanthropic resources to sustain local capacity building over a longer term.
4. Evaluation: Carefully document and evaluate interventions to build a series of best practice strategies that can benefit places with similar challenges, and develop forums for sharing this knowledge.
5. Policy Recommendation: Identify for the SC2 Council how federal policy changes could help local governments better achieve their economic development visions, and other policies, systems, and practices that support holistic and sustainable economic development.

In addition to these five categories, the Administrator will also work with the other three components of SC2 (described under I.A.1 SC2 Components), as well as the SC2 Council (described under I.A.2 Executive Order) to meet the broad goals and objectives of the initiative.

Beneficiary Eligibility:
The grantee must also have a demonstrated ability to obtain other community, private sector, and federal resources that can be combined with HUDs program resources to achieve program objectives. In general, an ideal Administrator will have most or all of the following characteristics:

Place-based: The selected applicant, buoyed by support of agencies and the philanthropic community, will have experience working in many distressed communities, and will be able to match these communities to relevant technical experts quickly and efficiently.

Resource-maximizing: The selected applicant will have a national scope and will be well-accustomed to the challenge of distributing scarce resources across communities with distinct needs. The ability to effectively evaluate requests for service will be paramount to using the SC2 Networks resources to their greatest potential.

Nimble, responsive, and service-oriented: The SC2 Network will be designed to provide very timely assistance that can thoroughly understand and adapt to needs on the ground. Therefore, the selected applicant will have, or can quickly pull together a deep team of technical experts, and, when necessary, develop partnerships between experts on issues that require multiple skill sets and excellent customer service skills.

Objective: In some cases, procedures or regulations may be a barrier to local capacity building. The selected applicant will facilitate local partnering and provide honest feedback to HUD and the other SC2 agencies for relieving burdens on local governments, while retaining accountability for results. Sustainable: The selected Administrator will have the nonprofit management expertise required to make the SC2 Network financially sustainable, and as an outside entity, can attract philanthropic funding and leverage HUDs investment several times over.

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:
Funding levels for Real Estate Services and Real Estate Appraisals are determined by the individual Tribe through participation in the BIA's budget formulation process. All applicants meeting the criteria in 25 CFR Part 901 will be funded. Appraisals are conducted for all transactions involving trust property. The time required to complete an appraisal depends on the number of requests being processed by a specific office and the resources available to meet the requests. Lease Compliance funds are distributed to the Regional offices based on three factors: (1) total number of leases, (2) total number of acres, and (3) total amount of income derived from leases. Awards for lease compliance are determined by the number of qualifying leases reported to the Agency and Regional Offices. Minimum funding of $50,000 is allocated to each Regional office. In allocating program resources, priority is given to activities involving agriculture, oil and gas, mining, industrial, business, recreational, and other income-producing leases.

ARRA projects also are subject to additional requirements related to performance, funding, and compliance through implementation of ARRA in the areas of transparency and reporting, oversight, risk accountability, accelerated timeframes and other statutory objectives. Projects are prioritized before the funds are appropriated. Funds must be appropriated before the award can be made. The award is made in accordance with the procedures contained in 25 CFR Part 900 "Contracts under the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act," and the Tribally Controlled Schools Act of 1988, as amended, 25 U.S.C. 2501 et seq., as applicable.

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:
Fiscal Year 2016: Stewardship projects that removed vegetation to promote healthy forest stands and reduced fire hazards. Projects that promote an integrated approach to resource management and include local community participation in developing strategies for biomass utilization, recognizing the connections between biomass utilization and forest restoration, and encourage sustainable development through a variety of enterprises at various scales. Projects that cooperatively support common goals and interests in managing, developing and protecting Federal, State, and private lands and water resources in an environmentally and economically sound manner.

The BLM continues to partner with Trinity County Resource Conservation District on the Weaverville Community Forest Stewardship project, a typical example of a stewardship cooperative agreement. This project has treated over 1,000 acres of forest adjacent to the community of Weaverville, California. Project objectives have been to thin the forest in the wildland urban interface and improve forest resilience. Timber value from the thinning has been used to offset the thinning of precommercial trees as well as trail maintenance of local hiking and biking trails. One of the primary employers in Weaverville is a lumber mill which relies on timber supplied from project like this to continue operation. Fiscal Year 2017: No Current Data Available. Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement, Department of the Interior

AUTHORIZATION:
43 U.S.C. 1345 (e); 43 U.S.C. 1346 Section 20.

OBJECTIVES:
The Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement (BSEE) program provides major economic and energy benefits on a national and local level to the taxpayers and states. The Agency oversees the exploration and development of oil, natural gas and other materials and renewable energy alternatives on the Nation's outer continental shelf. BSEE continues to look for better ways to serve the American people and to ensure that the nation receives the best oversight and regulation of National resource development now and into the future. The program not only supports decisions made within the Department of the Interior, but also provides coastal states and local governments with the information necessary to ensure that all stages of offshore energy and mineral activities are conducted in a manner to protect both the human and natural environments. The Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act (OCSLA) Sections 1347 and 1348 respectively mandate the development and enforcement of regulations that protect safety, health and the environment. OCSLA Section 1345 authorizes the use of cooperative agreements with affected States to meet the requirements of OCSLA, including sharing of information, joint utilization of available expertise, formation of joint monitoring arrangements to carry out applicable Federal and State laws, regulations, and stipulations relevant to outer continental shelf operations both onshore and offshore. PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

The mission of the OESI is provide a forum for dialogue, shared learning and cooperative research among academia, government, industry and other non-government organizations in offshore-related technologies and activities that help ensure environmentally safe and responsible offshore operations. OESI represents a cooperative agreement partnership between BSEE, Texas A&M University, University of Texas and University of Houston.

OESI stems from a recommendation from the Ocean Energy Safety Advisory Committee, a federal advisory group comprised of representatives from industry, federal government agencies, non-governmental organizations and the academic community. OESI is an important source of unbiased, independent information and will not have any regulatory authority over the offshore industry. OESI is a collaborative venture that will also include involvement on science and technology issues from the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management.

OESI will promote collaboration among Federal agencies, industry, standards organizations, and academia in order to provide technical assistance to BSEE, BOEM, and the industry in areas related to emerging technologies, the best available and safest technologies (BAST), and the identification of gaps in safety research. In addition, it will assist in the development of databases to measure and assess the reliability of safety systems and train Federal employees to enable them to remain current on state-of-the-art technology. Information on issues related to offshore safety and best practices will be shared with industry, government, and the public through OESI held forums. Fiscal Year 2017: To date, OESI has conducted eight forums which include Risk, Data Collection, Research, Human Factors, Shallow Water Blowouts, SEMS Next Steps, Keeping a Focus on Barriers for Safer Offshore Operations and Alarm Management Best Practices and Focus on Managing Drilling Margin and Well Control Risk. These forums have created a forum for dialogue for shared learning and cooperative research among academia, government, industry and other non-governmental organizations, in ocean energy related technologies and activities that ensure safe and environmentally responsible ocean energy operations. OESI supported BSEE as they hosted the 2015 BSEE Domestic and International Standards Workshop in Houston, Texas in May 2015. OESI also supported BSEE by hosting a BAST Forum on November 12, 2015 in Houston, Texas. On May 5, 2017, OESI will host a second International and Domestic Standards workshop in support of BSEE, the theme for the event is Integrity Management. Their expertise assisted BSEE as we shared the BAST Determination draft process with industry stakeholders. BSEE has also engaged OESI to assist in the hosting of a forum on BSEE Technology Assessment. The event occurred in February 2017, in Houston. BSEE has recently invited OESI assistance in hosting a phase 2 public forum on BAST with focus on Early Kick Detection (EKD) and Methane Gas Detection (MGD) in April 2017. OESI has also published a draft white paper to highlight potential application for real-time monitoring on drilling operations. OESI is conducting a presentation on this topic at a separate forum on April 17, 2017 in Houston.

Through the work of Director of Operations of OESI and the Primary Investigator, there is now an established Advisory Committee in place. The latest AC meeting was held in January 2017; the next one is scheduled for April 25, 2017 which will be hosted by Weatherford. The AC is in place to further assist in establishing future directions of the Safety Institute. The Advisory Committee consists of stakeholders from the four representative groups oil and gas, which are academia, industry, federal agencies and Non-Governmental Organizations (NGOs). Recent members to join the committee are from Department of Energy, United States Coast Guard and (NGO) Resources for the Future. OESI has conducted recent discussions with Louisiana State University
OESI will be reviewing recommendations prepared by the National Academy of Science (NAS) and how RTM should be implemented as it pertains to best available and safest technologies (BAST).

Latest monitoring report reflected task associated with year two of the BSEE Tech Challenge. Year one was a tremendous success, and recognized by the Secretary of DOI as well as the public. OESI is a partner with BSEE in conducting the youth initiative, and serves as the project manager. This event is in support of DOIs Youth initiative. This years challenge will be expanded to allow students in the Gulf of Mexico and Pacific Region areas to participate.

This event highlights the work of BSEE and provides the opportunity to engage and serve/impact the communities geographically located in our areas of operations. OESI staff briefed BSEE Senior Management in December 2016, and obtained approval for the execution of tech challenge year two. The project management team at BSEE worked with OESI staff over the past year to develop the next generation of lifelong conservation stewards and protect, restore, and enhance Americas Great Outdoors. Specifically, this cooperative agreement will give young people the opportunity to learn about the importance of the BSEE mission to promote safety, protect the environment and conserve resources offshore through vigorous regulatory oversight and enforcement while exploring future career options with BSEE.

The Alaska Native Science and Engineering Program (ANSEP) are designated as tax exempt under the IRS for Institutions of Higher Education. ANSEP moves Native American and Alaskan Native students into science, technology, engineering and mathematics degree programs, and fosters a stronger Indigenous American representation within the science workforce of BSEE. Established in 1995, ANSEP has evolved into a longitudinal education model that provides a continuous string of components beginning with students in sixth grade and continuing on through high school, into science and engineering undergraduate and graduate degree programs through PhD. ANSEP has received numerous recognitions for successfully preparing students for professional science and engineering careers including the U.S. Department of Energy's Minority in Energy Initiative, the U.S. Department of the Interior Partners in Conservation Awards, and the Ash Center for Democratic Governance and Innovation, Harvard University-Top 25 Innovations in Government. ANSEP, through this cooperative agreement, provides an opportunity to further engage Alaska Native professionals, and develop the future scientific and engineering employment pool required to support the BSEE mission.

The overall objective is to expand the professional science employment preparedness of ANSEP students and to develop a more diversified pool of highly educated professionals with the BSEE workforce to reflect the rich diversity of the Nation.

Title XVI of Public Law 102-575, as amended (Title XVI), directs the Secretary of Interior, acting through the Commissioner, to undertake a program to identify and investigate opportunities to reclaim and reuse wastewaters and naturally impaired ground and surface waters in the 17 Western States and Hawaii. Title XVI also provides authority for the Secretary to provide up to the lesser of 25 percent of, or the Federal appropriations ceiling (typically $20 million), for the cost of planning, design, and construction of specific water recycling projects, as well as up to 50 percent of the cost of Title XVI feasibility studies and 20 percent of the cost of Title XVI water reclamation and reuse research studies.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:
Formula Grants (Cooperative Agreements)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:
The Title XVI Program applies to reclamation, recycling, and reuse of municipal, industrial, domestic, and agricultural wastewater and to naturally impaired ground and surface waters. Through this program, Reclamation provides financial and technical assistance for feasibility studies, water reclamation and reuse research, and full-scale construction of facilities to deliver and/or treat wastewater or naturally impaired ground or surface water for reuse applications. For purposes of the Title XVI Program, a water reuse project is a project (including the necessary facilities and features) that reclaims and reuses municipal, industrial, domestic, or agricultural wastewater or naturally impaired groundwater and/or surface waters. Consistent with State law, reclaimed water can be used, for a variety of purposes including, but not limited to, environmental restoration, fish and wildlife, groundwater recharge, municipal, domestic, industrial, agricultural, power generation, or recreation. Funds can be used for water treatment features where the improvement of the water quality is necessary to allow for reuse. Reclamation has general authority to participate in planning, research and demonstration of water recycling projects. Specific project authority is required for Reclamation to participate in the construction of a project.

Applicant Eligibility:

Eligible recipients of Title XVI funding are identified under the 1992 Act and include a State, regional, or local authorities; Indian tribes or tribal organizations; or other entities such as a water conservation or conservancy district, wastewater district, rural water district, or water district, all located within the 17 Western States or Hawaii. To be eligible to receive funding for construction activities, a water reclamation and reuse project must be specifically authorized under Title XVI.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Water users, including municipal, industrial, and agricultural, that benefit from the additional drought resistant water source created.

To be eligible to receive funding for construction activities, a water reclamation and reuse project must be specifically authorized under Title XVI. Funds for construction activities associated with an individual project will not be disbursed until Title XVI construction requirements have been met for that project. These include: (1) a finding that the feasibility study meets the requirements of Title XVI; (2) complete compliance with the National Environmental Policy Act and other environmental clearances; (3) an approved determination of financial capability; and (4) an executed grant or cooperative agreement for financial assistance. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

To be eligible to receive funding for construction activities, a water reclamation and reuse project must be specifically authorized under Title XVI. Funds for construction activities associated with an individual project will not be disbursed until Title XVI pre-construction requirements have been met for that project. These include: (1) a finding that the feasibility study meets the requirements of Title XVI; (2) complete compliance with the National Environmental Policy Act and other environmental clearances; (3) an approved determination of financial capability; and (4) an executed grant or cooperative agreement for financial assistance between Reclamation and the project sponsor. An environmental impact assessment is required for this program. An environmental impact assessment is required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Discretionary funding opportunities will be posted on Grants.gov and will be subject to competitive funding process.

Award Procedure:

Reclamation will work with the funded recipient to negotiate a grant or cooperative agreement.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional office, as appropriate, for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

Not Applicable.

Appeals:

Not Applicable.

Renewals:

Continuation of funding from one fiscal year to the next to complete a project is contingent on the final Federal appropriations.

Statutory Formula: Title XVI, Public Law 102-575. Reclamation can pay up to 50% for feasibility study costs and 25% for research studies. Federal funding for Title XVI construction projects is limited to 25% of the total project or a specified maximum amount, whichever is less. The maximum amount varies by project. Generally, projects authorized after 1996 have a ceiling of $20 million or less; the specific details are available in the authorizing legislation. If a project conducted under the Title XVI Program includes planning, design, and construction, the Reclamation Wastewater and Groundwater Study and Facilities Act of 1992 (the Act) requires the sponsor to provide at least 75 percent of all the costs incurred, including Reclamations administrative costs. In addition, the sponsor must pay all operation, maintenance and replacement (OM&R) costs of the project.

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:
Fiscal Year 2016: Inland Empire Utilities Agency, in association with the Chino Basin Desalter Authority, received $7,200,000 in Federal funding to expand the capacity of the existing Chino II Desalter plant. The water produced by this project will replace water that would otherwise be imported from the Colorado River and/or Sacramento-San Joaquin Bay-Delta.

The Sweetwater Authority Water Reclamation Project in California received $3,700,000 to expand the Richard A. Reynolds Groundwater Desalination Facility to provide a more secure, local water supply. This phase of the project will expand the Reynolds Facility from the current capacity of 3,600 acre-feet per year to a total capacity of 8,000 acre-feet of locally-produced desalinated groundwater annually. Water that is produced by the Reynolds Facility supplements potable water supplies, and directly offsets imported water from the Sacramento-San Joaquin Bay-Delta and Colorado River systems. Fiscal Year 2017: Information not available. Fiscal Year 2018: Information not available.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:
Reclamation will place priority on funding projects that reduce existing water diversions or address specific water supply issues in a cost-effective manner, address environmental and water quality concerns, are economically justified, and meet other program goals.

15.506 WATER DESALINATION RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

FEDERAL AGENCY:
Bureau of Reclamation, Department of the Interior

AUTHORIZATION:
Water Desalination Act of 1996, Public Law 104-298, as amended, Reclamation Act of 1902, Sec 1 and Sec 2, and Public Law 111-11, Section 9509.

OBJECTIVES:
There are three goals for the program: (1) augment the supply of usable water in the United States; (2) understand the environmental impacts of desalination and develop approaches to minimize these impacts relative to other water supply alternatives; (3) develop approaches to lower the financial costs of desalination so that it is an attractive option relative to other alternatives in locations where traditional sources of water are inadequate.

The three principal parts of the program are: (1) perform research on desalination technologies and related issues to advance the state of the art forward (research and studies), and (2) conduct development and demonstration activities to test technological advancements, confirm economics, and gain public acceptance (development projects), and (3) support operation and maintenance at the Brackish Groundwater National Desalination Research Facility (BGNDRF).

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

OBJECTIVES:
- To make funding available for eligible applicants to leverage their money and resources by cost sharing with Reclamation on three different types of projects: projects that conserve and use water more efficiently, increase the use of... renewable energy and improve energy efficiency, and support sustainability benefits such as making conserved water available to address endangered species issues; development of water marketing strategies that will help prevent water conflicts and will contribute to water supply sustainability; and small-scale water efficiency projects to implement that have been identified through previous planning efforts to conserve, better manage, or otherwise make more efficient use of water supplies.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements (Discretionary Grants)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

WaterSMART Grants provide cost-shared financial assistance on a competitive basis to carry out water and energy efficiency improvements, small-scale water efficiency improvements, development of water marketing strategies, and other water management improvements. Reclamation may also provide financial assistance for these types of water conservation projects under this CFDA using this statutory authority, either competitively or non-competitively, for other non-WaterSMART projects when another Reclamation CFDA is not available. In addition, Section 9504 of Public Law 111-11 requires the following:

(1) The Recipient shall not use any associated water savings to increase the total irrigated acreage of the Recipient or otherwise increase the consumptive use of water in the operation of the Recipient, as determined pursuant to the law of the State in which the operation of Recipient is located.

(2) The Recipient must develop a project cost proposal, including a budget with the total cost required, demonstrating a 50 percent cost share requirement, and an official resolution adopted by the Recipient's governing board of directors, resolving that, if approved, the Recipient shall not be liable for monetary damages of any kind for any injury arising out of an act, omission, or occurrence that is integral to the existing operations of a federally owned facility.

(3) The recipient must develop a project cost proposal, including a budget with the total cost required, demonstrating a 50 percent cost share requirement, and an official resolution adopted by the Recipient's governing board of directors, resolving that, if approved, the Recipient shall not be liable for monetary damages of any kind for any injury arising out of an act, omission, or occurrence that is integral to the existing operations of a federally owned facility.

(4) A detailed written technical proposal including background data regarding the applicant, such as location, total project diversions, and relevant water use efficiency measurements, a detailed scope of work separating the work into major tasks, including any engineering or design work already completed, and describing data responsive to the evaluation criteria listed in the announcement.

(5) When applicable, a funding plan showing how the applicant will pay for its 50 percent cost share requirement, and an official resolution adopted by the irrigation or water district's governing board of directors, resolving that, if selected, it will negotiate and execute a grant or cooperative agreement with Reclamation.

(6) A detailed project cost proposal, including a budget with the annual estimated project costs, including salaries and wages, fringe benefits, travel, equipment, supplies, contracts, and indirect costs, an estimate of annual operation and maintenance costs, and the value of in-kind contributions of goods and services. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Environmental compliance for this program may be required depending on the scope of the specific project funded. This may result in the need for an environmental impact assessment or environmental impact statement prior to the commencement of project activities. An environmental impact statement is required for this program. An environmental impact assessment is required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Funding opportunity announcements are posted annually on Grants.gov. Submission of a complete technical proposal and projects budget is mandatory by the due date identified in the announcement. In addition, applicants must submit all applicable SF-424 forms referenced in the Announcement.

Award Procedure:

Proposals received in response to the announcement are reviewed on the basis of a competitive, merit-based review process, and are rated in accordance with the evaluation criteria stated in the announcement. Reclamation will make awards to the highest rated proposals based on the amount of funding available each year. For non-WaterSMART awards made under this CFDA using this statutory authority, the awards may be made competitively or non-competitively.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional office, as appropriate, for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

Contact Reclamation for the range of time when proposals are approved or disapproved.

Appeals:

Not applicable. Upon request, Reclamation will provide all applicants with information on why their proposals were not selected.

Renewals:

Most awarded projects are fully funded at the time of award. Some Water and Energy Efficiency Grant projects (i.e. phased project) may be funded each year for up to three years.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory formulas are not applicable to this program. Matching Requirements: The Federal share of the cost of a project or activity carried out under the Program shall not exceed 50 percent of the total cost of the project or activity. Costs of operation, maintenance, repair and rehabilitation of facilities funded under the authority for this Program shall be nonfederal responsibilities.

MOE requirements are not applicable to this program.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

In general, projects should be completed within 2 years of award. Applicants for Water and Energy Efficiency Grants must select one of two funding streams and must therefore propose either a project that can be completed within 2 years of award or a phased project that can be completed within 3 years of award with Federal funding to be provided separately for each phase. Applications for projects requiring more time will be considered for funding only under limited circumstances. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released: Payment terms vary by agreement awarded under this program.

Reports:

Unless otherwise stated in the agreement document, recipients shall submit Program Performance Reports, on a semi-annual basis. Upon completion of the agreement, recipients shall submit a final Program Performance Report and other specific reports that may be applicable to the agreement such as property inventories, and patent and invention disclosures. Cash reports are not applicable. Progress reports are not applicable. Recipients shall submit the Federal Financial Report, SF-425 during the term of the agreement and a final report upon completion of the agreement. Performance monitoring is not applicable.

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:
Fiscal Year 2016: The Huntley Project Irrigation District near Billings, Montana, will use $1 million in Federal funding to complete a $3.7 million project line 1,623 feet of diversion tunnel with steel and concrete, significantly improving operational efficiency. The improvements are expected to result in annual water savings of 14,000 acre-feet, which will help offset groundwater use. The project will help the Company to comply with an agreement between the Idaho Ground Water Users Association and the Surface Water Coalition to reduce groundwater diversions of the Eastern Snake Plain Aquifer. Examples of all projects funded to date are available at http://www.usbr.gov/WaterSMART/weeg/ Fiscal Year 2017: Information not available. Fiscal Year 2018: Information not available.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:
Criteria vary by funding category. See http://www.usbr.gov/WaterSMART/weeg/ for details. Depending on funding category, projects should seek to conserve and use water more efficiently, increase the use of renewable energy and improve energy efficiency, protect endangered and threatened species, result in the development of water marketing strategies, or carry out other activities to address climate-related impacts on water or prevent a water-related crisis or conflict.

15.50B PROVIDING WATER TO AT-RISK NATURAL DESERT TERMINAL LAKES

Desert Terminal Lakes Program

FEDERAL AGENCY:
Bureau of Reclamation, Department of the Interior

AUTHORIZATION:

OBJECTIVES:
Under this authority, Reclamation will fund various activities for the benefit of at-risk terminal lakes to provide water and assistance to a terminal lake to carry out research, support, and conservation activities for associated fish, wildlife, plant, and habitat resources in Nevada and California.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:
Project Grants (Cooperative Agreements or Contracts)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:
Funding is directed to be used for terminal lakes and associated watersheds in the State of Nevada and California. For further information please contact the regional office.

Applicant Eligibility:
State and local public agencies, Indian tribes, nonprofit organizations, educational institutions, and individuals may submit a proposal which will be considered by Reclamation. Foreign entities and Federal agencies are not eligible to apply.

Beneficiary Eligibility:
State and local entities, public nonprofit institutions/organizations, other public institutions/organizations, Federally recognized Indian Tribal Governments, individuals, small businesses, profit organizations, private organizations, quasi-public nonprofit organizations, other private institutions/organization, general public, native American organizations, higher education institutions, irrigation districts, municipal water authorities, farmers/ranches/agriculture producers, and land/property owners.

Credentials/Documentation:
(1) A detailed written technical proposal including background data regarding the applicant, technical approach proposed to accomplish the work, a scope of work that separates the work into major tasks, type of personnel implementing the proposal, experience in performing this type of work, benefits to be received by implementation of the project(s), environmental impact(s), timeline(s), the level of cooperation with other parties involved in the proposal, and other information that may be useful for proposal evaluation. (2) A detailed cost proposal by project including a budget covering labor categories, salaries and wages with estimated hours, fringe benefits, travel, equipment, supplies, subcontracts, indirect cost rates, other funding sources and commitments, cost-sharing, value of in-kind contributions of goods and services, and a narrative discussion. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:
Funding is allowed for work that will be for the benefit of at-risk terminal lakes and to carry out research, support, and conservation activities for associated fish, wildlife, plant, and habitat resources in Nevada and California. An environmental NEPA document may be required depending on the nature of the proposal and its impact on the environment. Compliance with National Historic Preservation Act and Endangered Species Act may also be required.

Pre-application Coordination: Although it is not mandatory, Reclamation strongly encourages offerors to submit a pre-proposal to eliminate the possibility of submitting a full proposal that would not be considered for award. The pre-proposal should describe 1) how the proposal will provide benefits to a terminal lake or associated watershed, 2) the quantity of water anticipated to be provided if part of the proposal or benefit to the associated riparian and watershed resources, 3) the associated estimated cost, 4) potential environmental impacts, 5) state, local and other permits or approvals needed to implement the proposal. Pyramid Lake Pre-application Coordination: Initially pre-proposal solicitation announcement was issued by Reclamation; the initial solicitation occurred in FY05. No additional solicitation announcements have occurred.

This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372. No additional solicitation is planned in FY14. An environmental impact statement is required for this program. An environmental impact assessment is required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Funding is allowed for work for the benefit of at-risk terminal lakes and to carry out research, support, and conservation activities for associated fish, wildlife, plant, and habitat resources in Nevada and California. For Summit Lake, Reclamation will only accept proposals from the Summit Lake Paiute Tribe, since the lake is entirely within the reservation boundaries and any proposal affecting the lake would need the consent of the Tribe; the exception is if DTL funding is reprogrammed in another DTL grant for Summit Lake. For all other terminal lakes, Reclamation may accept applications after the applicant provides enough pre-application information to Reclamation to assure that the proposed work will be for the benefit of at-risk natural desert terminal lakes and associated riparian and watershed resources in Nevada and California or fund designated activities, the associated cost is reasonable, and it is likely Reclamation can satisfy its federal Indian trust, endangered species, environmental, and other responsibilities. Discretionary funding opportunities will be posted on Grants.gov. Submission of a complete technical proposal and a project budget proposal in accordance with the instructions in the FOA is mandatory. In addition, applicants must submit all applicable SF424 forms, which are referenced in the FOA. Reclamation does not anticipate accepting unsolicited applications in FY14.

Award Procedure:
Terminal Lakes Proposals will be evaluated using a merit-based review process. Some past Pyramid Lake proposals were also reviewed on the basis of a competitive, merit-based review process, and were rated in accordance with the evaluation criteria stated in the FOA. Reclamation made awards to the highest-rated proposals based on the amount of funding available at that time. Reclamation reserves the right to prioritize projects based on availability of funds and to ensure balance among the program objectives listed in the FOA.

Deadlines:
Contact the headquarters or regional office, as appropriate, for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:
Contact Reclamation for the range of time when proposals are approved or disapproved.

Appeals:
Reclamation will, however, provide all applicants with information on why their proposals were not selected.

Any request for a time extension must be in writing in accordance with the provisions stated in the agreement. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released: Payment terms vary by agreement awarded under this program.

Reports:
Unless otherwise stated in the agreement document, recipients shall submit on a quarterly or semi-annual basis Program Performance Reports. Upon completion of the agreement recipients shall submit a final Program Performance Report; and other specific reports that may be applicable to the agreement such as property inventories, and patent and invention disclosures. Cash reports are not applicable. Progress reports are not applicable. Unless otherwise stated in the agreement document, recipients shall submit on a quarterly or semi-annual basis the SF-425, Federal Financial Report. Upon completion of the agreement recipients shall submit a final SF-425. Performance monitoring is not applicable.

This may result in the need for an environmental impact assessment or environmental impact statement prior to the commencement of project activities. An environmental impact statement is required for this program. An environmental impact assessment is required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." Award Procedure:
Reclamation will solicit proposals and award funding through a Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA) process. The FOA will request proposals from public and private sectors that would control salinity based on cost per ton. The proposals will be ranked based on their cost effectiveness for preventing salt from entering the Colorado River system. The ranking would consider risk factors that might affect the project’s performance. Upon receipt of applications/proposals by the date identified in the announcement(s), the applications will be reviewed to determine if application/proposal(s) are consistent with requirements identified in the announcements. The application/proposal(s) are reviewed against identified criteria by a Federal technical team of experts, that may include representatives of states as advisors. EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:
Fiscal Year 2016: One example of a current funded project is the Grand Valley Irrigation Company Phase 4 Project. Selected under the 2015 FOAs, the GVIC was awarded a $2.8 million cooperative grant to line approximately 1.65 miles of their main irrigation canal within the Grand Valley. This will result in a salt load reduction of approximately 2,363 tons annually at a cost effectiveness of $49.64 per ton. The canal lining will consist of a 30-mil PVC membrane with 3.4 inches of shotcrete cover. The cooperative agreement was executed in August 2016, and construction will begin in November of 2017. It is expected to be completed in 2019. Fiscal Year 2017: No information available. Fiscal Year 2018: No information available.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:
In 1984, the Salinity Control Act was amended to direct the Secretary of the Interior to give preference to units which reduce salinity at the least cost per unit of salinity reduction (or cost-effectiveness). Cost-effectiveness is defined as the Salinity Program’s annual cost per ton of salt prevented from entering the Colorado River System. Conceptually, cost-effectiveness is analogous to determining the cost per mile to own and operate a car. That computation combines the annual expenses (loan payments, gas, maintenance, etc.) and
uses and use restrictions:

Uses and Use Restrictions:
The Bureau of Reclamation is specifically authorized to: (1) Construct a reservoir, a pumping plant, a reservoir inlet conduit, and appurtenant facilities with sufficient capacity to divert and store water from the Animas River to provide for an average annual depletion of 57,100 acre-feet of water to be used for a municipal and industrial water supply. (2) Meet specific annual depletion rates for water allocation delivery. (3) To supply 4,680 acre-feet per year to the Navajo Nation through a pipeline from Farmington to Shiprock, NM. The design and construction functions of the Bureau of Reclamation with respect to the Dolores and Animas-La Plata Projects shall be subject to the provisions of the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (ii Stat. 2203; 25 U.S.C. 450 et seq.) to the same extent as if such functions were performed by the Bureau of Indian Affairs; and for projects not awarded subject to Public Law 93-638: State, local, Federally recognized Indian Tribal governments, small businesses, individuals, and profit organizations.

Beneficiary Eligibility:
Federally recognized Indian Tribal Government members and the general public in southwestern Colorado and northwestern New Mexico.

No Credentials or documentation are required. This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles.

Preapplication Coordination:
Preapplication coordination is required. An environmental impact statement is required for this program. An environmental impact assessment is required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:
2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. The Bureau of Reclamation is required by Public Law 100-585 to use Public Law 93-638 procedures to contract for construction of the Animas-La Plata Project with the Ute Mountain Ute Tribe and the Southern Ute Indian Tribe. Construction contracts for estimated quantities and with firm fixed unit pricing are issued to accomplish the work. For projects under this program that are not required to be awarded subject to Public Law 93-638, funding opportunity announcements, along with registration procedures, application packages and instructions, SF-424 forms and any other forms to be used to submit application information, points of contact, and procedures for submitting applications will be available on http://www.grants.gov.

Award Procedure:
An initial statement of work is issued to the Tribe for review and pricing by the Contract Specialist. The Tribe reviews the initial statement of work, and submits a proposal with an estimate for completion of the work. The proposal with cost estimate is evaluated by the Government Technical Team, the Government Cost & Price Analyst, Contract Specialist, Contract Administrator, and Contracting Officer. Negotiations are held on the various elements until an agreement is reached and an award is then made. For projects not awarded subject to Public Law 93-638, all applications will be initially screened for eligibility and compliance with the requirements stated in the program funding announcement. Applications passing this screening process will be forwarded for review by a proposal evaluation panel comprised of qualified experts in the program area. Applications will be reviewed against the proposal evaluation criteria, and any additional review factors, as stated in the funding announcement. Final selection will be determined by the Commissioner, Bureau of Reclamation, or regional officials, as applicable to the project.

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:
Fiscal Year 2016: The examples of funded projects include agreements with the University of Texas San Antonio and the Institute of the Great Plains for cataloging and curating of Reclamation museum property; University of Northern Colorado for curation of two sets of human remains from Pueblo Reservoir; Colorado Historical Society for public education efforts; University of Nebraska State Museum for testing sites at Red Willow Reservoir; Kansas State University for cultural resource inventory, evaluation and excavation of sites at Red Willow Reservoir and other Reclamation lands; University of North Dakota for archaeological investigations at Reclamation Shadhill, Jamestown, and Heart Butte Reservoirs and McClellan Canal and producing electronic versions of cultural resource site records; University of Oklahoma for archaeological fieldwork and investigation of unanticipated discoveries; Sam Noble Oklahoma Museum of Natural History and Wichita State University for curation of Reclamation collections and NAGPRA remains; and archaeological fieldwork for unanticipated discoveries; and Wyoming Department of State Parks and Cultural Resources for analysis and development of a restoration plan for the smokestack at the Heart Mountain Relocation Center National Historic Landmark. Fiscal Year 2017: Information not available. Fiscal Year 2018: Information not available.
CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:
Criteria used for selecting a recipient are based on a balanced and informed review of program needs and sources of information. For example, states have mandatory responsibilities to cooperate with Federal agencies to maintain statewide inventories of cultural resources, so states are sole sources funded to maintain databases under the various National Historic Preservation Act sections requiring data sharing and cooperation. Indian tribes are often sole source because only they can identify properties of religious and cultural concern to tribal members. For other cultural resources activities, a technical proposal, budget proposal, and relevancy to program objectives are required. The specific evaluation criteria for each project will be included in the funding announcement posted on www.grants.gov.

EXAMLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

Fiscal Year 2016:
This program funds collaborative Drought Contingency Plans that will help provide water managers prepare in advance of a drought. For example, the Dolores Water Conservancy District in Colorado will develop a Drought Contingency plan in partnership with the Ute Mountain Ute Tribe Farm and Ranch Enterprise, and the Montezuma Valley Irrigation Company. The plan will include the areas served by the Bureau of Reclamation’s Dolores Project, located in southwest Colorado, which provides irrigation water for approximately 36,600 acres of irrigated land, provides municipal and industrial water to the Ute Mountain Ute Tribe, the tribal community of Towaoc, several other towns and cities, and serves downstream fish and wildlife purposes. The Dolores Project suffered severe shortages (25%) from drought in 2013. The plan will include a comprehensive evaluation of mitigation and response actions to reduce water shortages and improve drought resiliency for water users through collaboration with local agricultural districts, tribal farmers, municipal and industrial users, non-governmental organizations, and Federal and state agencies.

This program also funds Drought Resiliency Projects that help provide water managers with flexibility during periods of drought. For example, in Arizona, the City of Phoenix, will purchase components for a well as part of an Aquifer Storage and Recovery Well Restoration project at their Deer Valley Water Treatment plant. The City will construct a dual-purpose well that will directly inject under-utilized surface water supplies into the aquifer for later withdrawal during times of drought. The City, which services more than 1.5 million residents, is currently experiencing drought conditions. This project enables the City to maintain a supply of surplus water while offering operational flexibility during times of drought. The City estimates the groundwater recharge to be 2,400 gallons per minute, or approximately 3,874 acre-feet per year. Fiscal Year 2017: No information available. Fiscal Year 2018: No information available.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:
Drought contingency plans must include input and participation by multiple stakeholders. Plans will also consider climate change impacts to drought conditions and identify potential drought mitigation and response actions to build resilience to drought as exacerbated by climate change.

Drought resiliency projects supported by an existing drought contingency plan (e.g., an existing state, county, municipal, or other plan is acceptable) receive prioritization. Projects that are eligible for funding should address at least one of the following goals:
1) Increase the reliability of water supply and sustainability;
2) Improve water management;
3) Implement systems to facilitate voluntary sale, transfer, or exchange of water;
4) Provide benefits for fish and wildlife and the environment; and
5) Mitigate poor water quality caused by drought.

These projects were identified primarily through existing resource management plans (RMPs), budget availability, and in coordination with managing partners. Many of the projects funded promote active and health youth opportunities on public lands and waters through development and/or expansion of outdoor day-use and camping facilities, water access points to enjoy fisheries, etc. Provided below are just some of the many examples of cost-share funded projects in Reclamation.

The Tri-Cities Joint Job Development Authority (JJDA) of North Dakota (ND) completed cost share projects consisting of a fish cleaning station, a playground, a hiking trail, and camper cabins at Heart Butte Reservoir. Dickinson Parks and Recreation Department of ND contributed funding towards the Crooked Crane hiking trail at Edward A. Patterson Lake which is currently in progress. The Stutsman County Parks Board in ND began the development of the Pelican Point recreation site at Jamestown Reservoir. USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:
The Las Vegas Wash Coordination Committee has decided that the SNWA will be the lead agency for receiving funding for this program due to the high costs and types of environmental improvement and enhancement, and ability to maintain restoration projects. The Las Vegas Wash Program plays an important role in environmental and water resource issues in Southern Nevada. Historically, the Las Vegas was an ephemeral stream carrying storm flows from the Las Vegas Valley to Lake Mead and the Colorado River. Urban development over the past 60 years has resulted in the formation of the wetlands that helped remove nutrients from these wastewater flows. As the rate of discharges increased, erosion also increased, gradually destroying the existing natural treatment systems and wildlife habitat and creating a large delta in the Las Vegas Bay of Lake Mead. Accelerating erosion, declining water quality, and loss habitat are some of the more pressing issues. Proposals submitted will be reviewed and awarded based on priority fulfillment of the 44 action items identified in the Plan and the availability of funding appropriations.

PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS:
Fiscal Year 2016: In Fiscal Year (FY) 2013 and 2014, Applied Science Grants for the Desert and Southern Rockies LCCs combined more than $2.1 million in Federal funding to enhance the management of natural and cultural resources that have a nexus to water resource management. For example, once completed, the funded projects are expected to develop decision support tools and methodologies to incorporate ecological flows into water management models used for basin-wide water supply planning; develop new biological information about springs and seeps; and develop a web-based tool to facilitate conservation planning. In Fiscal Year (FY) 2015 and 2016, the LCCs did not post an Announcement for financial assistance. Instead, the LCCs worked on building their technical capacity to assist their partners. For example, the Desert LCC invested in data and website platform development to more efficiently communicate data and research to resource managers. Fiscal Year 2017: Information not available. Fiscal Year 2018: Information not available.

Fiscal Year 2016: Examples of projects funded in FY 2014 include: (Note: the last announcement for the LCCs was made in FY 2014, which is why these examples date back to 2013 and 2014. New examples will be provided after FY 2017 projects are selected).

Desert LCC: The Environmental Defense Fund (EDF) will use modeling tools and data from the 2014 Minute 319 pulse flow to develop an integrated system that will assist with future pulse flow release experimental determinations. The Minute 319 pulse flow is a temporary release of water to mimic natural spring floods in the Colorado River Delta to study how best to restore native riparian habitat. The new system will integrate data and models such as environmental conditions and designed pulse flow releases with targeted environmental variables to predict the environmental reaction to future pulse flow releases, thereby supporting adaptive management and planning in the future. By linking data and models together into an integrated system, EDF intends to reduce the time required to analyze scenarios and to provide data that would help guide the pulse flow design.

Southern Rockies LCCs: The Museum of Northern Arizona will leverage tools previously developed through its Springs Stewardship Initiative to help resource managers in the southwestern U.S. collect, analyze, report upon, monitor and archive the complex and inter-related information associated with springs and spring-dependent species in the region. Building upon those past efforts, the project will include compilation of existing springs-related information to make the information more readily available online and further development of interactive online maps and climate change risk assessment tools of springs-dependent sensitive plant and animal species. This project builds on an effort funded in FY 2013 to complete similar work for the Desert LCC. Fiscal Year 2017: Information not available. Fiscal Year 2018:
CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

All applications will be evaluated using criteria that give priority to a project's technical merit, the relevance to the LCC, disseminate results to Reclamation and LCC partners, connections to Reclamation activities and exceed the minimum 50 percent non-Federal cost-share requirement.

PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

Fiscal Year 2016: The primary objective of the Dixie Valley Ground Water Export Study is to determine how much water is available for export from Dixie Valley. The original plan of study included evaluating the feasibility of conveying the water to various points of use within Churchill County, Nevada. It was to be completed in three phases over a 5 year period, beginning in early 2009, concluding in 2014. The first phase included data collection/analysis to develop an understanding of the study areas hydrogeologic framework, ground-water flow, and water quality. The second phase was to include development of groundwater models for estimating hydrologic impacts and analyses of associated economic and environmental impacts. The third phase was contingent on Phase 2 results and would include pipeline design and cost estimating activities. Phase 1 is complete and reports of findings are either published or in publishing. The Phase 2 groundwater modeling is ongoing. The Phase 2 economic and environmental analyses, as well as the Phase 3 design and cost estimating work, will not be completed due to inadequate funds.

In 2016, the groundwater model report was finalized and findings were presented to the Churchill County Commissioners who approved/accepted all study findings. The project has been completed.

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

Fiscal Year 2016: Alabamas Department of Conservation and Natural Resources Marine Resources Division (AMRD) uses $165,000 in Sport Fish Restoration funds annually, with a non-federal match of $55,000 to operate and maintain the Claude Pettet Mariculture Center (CPMC). Located in Gulf Shores, Alabama, Alabamas finfish hatcheries can play a significant role in replenishing depleted fish stocks as degraded habitats negatively impact fish populations and are a cause for concern among fisheries managers. AMRD will culture and stock red drum (Sciaenops ocellatus), Florida pompano (Trachinotus carolinus), and Southern flounder (Paralichthys lethostigma) to satisfy sport fishing demand. Due to this facility, anglers will benefit with increased catch rates; the local economy will benefit from increased expenditures, and there will be invaluable benefits to the restoration of the Gulf of Mexico.

Nine States Partner on Largemouth Bass Project - Nine state fish and wildlife agencies are partnering on a project Estimation of Fishing Mortality and Development of Live Well Management Procedures to Improve the Survival of Largemouth Bass. State agencies include: Arkansas Game and Fish Commission, Kansas Department of Wildlife, Parks, and Tourism, Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries, Maryland Department of Natural Resources, Mississippi Department of Wildlife, Fisheries, and Parks, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, West Virginia Division of Natural Resources, and Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency. This three year research project aimed at improving the quality of largemouth bass populations (LMB) throughout the United States by providing useful information to fisheries managers to effectively manage populations and inform recreational anglers and tournament anglers and organizations about best practices for handling LMB, a frequently sought fish species by recreational anglers throughout the country. Decreased survival of LMB following capture and handling has not been measured. Further, the effect of water temperature on the survival of LMB caught and immediately released has not been measured. This project will help to ensure that LMB across continue to be managed with the best available science-based management strategies to help ensure continued conservation and management for current and future generations of anglers.

The District of Columbia Department of Energy and Environment (DOEE) Aquatic Resources Education Center (AREC) offers interpretive exhibits, educational programs, and coordinates teacher trainings for government and non-governmental organizations. It is one of only three facilities like it in the Northeast Region. They host special events throughout the year including: an open house that focuses on teaching basic fly fishing and spin casting skills to public school teachers, RiverSmart Educational Boat Tours where the public can learn about the history of the river and the wildlife that use the river, a year-round fishing club that will use the Hooked on Fishing Not on Drugs curriculum, and Project Aquatic Wild and Growing Up WILD teacher trainings so that these educators can use these national curricula to teach aquatic resources education lessons with their students. The staff provides a multitude of education materials including a full curriculum for grades Pre K-12, brochures, and self-guided tour booklets. They attend outreach events including science fairs and environmental education trainings and offer angler education classes to teach the public how to fish safely, and partner with other organizations including Anacostia Riverkeeper, Anacostia Watershed Society, and the Smithsonian Anacostia Museum. The Districts aquatic resources are under the constant threat of increasing population and urbanization. This project has been successful in getting school groups to participate in programs. Staff is integrating aquatic resource lessons into the DC school system in order to instill the importance of DCs aquatic resources on youth, and also teach basic angling skills that build confidence and promote safe and ethical fishing.

Massachusetts Division of Marine Fisheries (DMF) used $110,250 of Sport Fish Restoration funds and $36,700 of State saltwater license funds to build an artificial reef in Nantucket Sound. The reef was constructed in March of 2016 using 1600 cubic yards of concrete rubble material, including 1000 cubic yards of repurposed material from the Harwich High School demolition. The material covers 11 percent of the total 9.9 acre permitted area, is located two miles south of the entrance to Saquatucket Harbor, and is easily accessible for small boat anglers. The artificial reef provides habitat for invertebrate and finfish species, and provides saltwater angling opportunities. The DMF has prohibited commercial fishing in a 39.5 acre closed area surrounding the reef to protect recreational angling. This project is a continuation of the statewide Marine Artificial Reef Plan that provides a framework for long-term management of reefs within the Commonwealth. Following the reef construction in March of 2016, DMF divers revisited the site in May and June and recorded an abundance of marine life, including black sea bass, scup, tautog and several crab species. The rapidity at which the marine species claimed the reef suggests the reef was a productive habitat enhancement. The newly established fish populations have also encouraged private and for-hire boat recreational anglers to visit Nantucket Sound.

Puerto Ricos Department of Natural and Environmental Resources Aquatic Resources Education Program (AREP) at the count of four, cast event is a collaborative project between with the Puerto Rico Department of Education, which has endorsed the program as part of their curriculum. AREP recruits new anglers, retains active anglers, and promotes outdoors ethics and increases the understanding of water resources and aquatic species. AREP develops and offers fishing clinics and tournaments, aquatic resources and fishing techniques workshops, and educational materials relevant to aquatic ecosystems and sport fishing. So far, this project has reached 46 public and private schools, 162 teachers and 984 students. Fiscal Year 2017: The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department (TPWD) will use its aquatic education grant and program to recruit, train, and retain a Volunteer Network of at least 500 volunteers that teach the Angler Education Program and assist at school and community outreach events that will reach approximately 35,000 Texan anglers and potential anglers. TPWD provides resources for instructors and the general public, including a Tackle Loaner program.

The Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources (KYDFW) is developing the Lake Cumberland Tailwater into one of the best trout fisheries in the South. They stock various strains of brown trout and evaluate stocking success and growth rate. Fall electrofishing sampling evaluates population levels. They stock about 20,000 rainbow trout per month into the Cumberland Tailwater from April through November. Recently, KYDFW purchased shoreline along the Tailwater to improve angler access to one of the best fishing areas. These Sport Fish Restoration efforts provide anglers from Kentucky and other States with quality trout fishing.

The South Carolina Department of Natural Resources produces and stocks 500,000 fingerling and catchable size rainbow, brown, and brook trout per year in cold water rivers, streams, lakes, and ponds across the state. As many as 50,000 trout anglers contribute approximately $18 million to the states economy as a result of trout angling in South Carolina.

In Massachusetts, a fishing pier was needed in Oak Bluffs on Martha Vineyard - a recreational fishing hotspot. The pier project was fully permitted, but required funding. At the same time, a new state salt water fishing permit was implemented that dedicated a minimum of 30% of each years proceeds to recreational fishing access. The Massachusetts Division of Marine Fisheries and the Massachusetts Office for Boating and Fishing Access partnered with the Services WSFR Region 5 (Northeast) Office to make the Oak Bluffs Recreational Fishing Pier a reality. A huge success, recreational anglers have already begun using the newly completed pier - even before the ribbon cutting ceremony. The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) compliant sport fishing pier extends 317 feet from the seawall into Nantucket Sound and includes a 60 foot long section parallel to the shoreline. Sport Fish Restoration monies allowed us to complete a greatly needed, handicapped accessible, recreational fishing access pier in one of the states top tourist destinations.

In Alaska, the Alaska Department of Fish and Game (ADF&G), uses Sport Fish

Restoration funds to contribute to Chinook salmon research across the state including population assessments on rivers in Southeast Alaska. Chinook salmon management and research in Alaska focuses on spawning and juvenile abundance estimates. Spawning abundance has been estimated in several indicator stocks in Southeast Alaska since the early 1970s and estimates of juvenile abundance first began in the early 1990s. Combined, these programs produce estimates of marine survival, total harvest, harvest rate, and total run which facilitate abundance-based management as dictated through the Pacific Salmon Treaty.

Also in Alaska, the William Jack Hernandez Sport Fish Hatchery sits on three acres and replaces the ADF&G's Elmdorf and Ft. Richardson hatcheries. At full capacity, it will increase historic stocking levels by 50 percent. All rearing tanks at this facility are located indoors. Hatchery programs include coho and Chinook salmon smolt, Chinook salmon catchables, rainbow trout catchables, Arctic char catchables, grayling and lake trout in addition to rainbow and Arctic char brood stock. Fish produced at this hatchery will be stocked in over 200 locations, contributing to a large number of fisheries throughout the state and annually provide approximately 400,000 angler days of fishing time for residents and visitors to the state. Fiscal Year 2018: Program has not yet selected projects for funding. Program anticipates funding projects that increase sport fishing and boating opportunities through wise investment of excise tax dollars in sport fishery development, research, and management projects.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

The States, the District of Columbia, Commonwealths, or territorial agencies having lead responsibility for the management of their fish resources must submit the projects. If approved, projects must meet the basic criteria outlined in the regulations and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service Manual.

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

Fiscal Year 2016: FY16: Alaskas Intensive Management (IM) is a management objective established in Alaska statute and can be applied to ungulate populations in which hunter harvest has inexplicably declined. Populations managed under IM are assessed to determine limiting factors for abundance. Sitka black-tailed deer (SBTD) in Prince William Sound (PWS) Alaska are an introduced population which exists at the northernmost latitude of their range. A study of SBTD in PWS was recently initiated to estimate adult deer abundance, survival rates, nutritional status, and evaluate population objectives. Fifteen deer were successfully net-gunned from a helicopter, tagged with GPS collars, assessed for body condition, and released. Ability to capture (net) deer from a helicopter was experimental, but successful in PWS. Ability to obtain very high-resolution color-infrared imagery (CIR) was successful and will be used for habitat classification. Collared deer provide the basis to learn about their habitat selection, nutritional condition, population abundance, and... the effect of winter conditions. Ultimately, these study results will inform management actions. Harvest of deer is extremely important in the coastal communities of PWS and southeastern Alaska.

Georgias Wildlife Resources Division currently manages more than 1 million acres of land for wildlife and hunter access. One of many examples of recent ground level enhancements includes pine savannah restoration activities ongoing on Wildlife Management Areas in southwest Georgia. These projects will positively benefit bobwhite quail, which is the state game bird, other game species such as deer and wild turkey, and other wildlife that depend on open pine savannah habitat. Also in Georgia, Wildlife Restoration funds were used help build the Shooting Sports Education Center at Georgia Southern University. Within the last year, this 30,000 square foot facility was open to the public and equipped to serve a variety of shooting sports interests through the 16 lane, 25 meter firing range, 16 lane, 25 meter archery center, and two training / seminar rooms.

Marylands Department of Natural Resources is playing a major role in the recovery of the endangered Delmarva fox squirrel with the use of Wildlife Restoration and Section 6 funds over the past four decades. On December 16, 2015, Delmarva fox squirrel was removed from the endangered species list after 48 years of recovery efforts. It was placed on the original list of endangered species in 1967 along with the bald eagle, California condor, and black-footed ferret, and is the 31st species to recover and become delisted. Wildlife Restoration funds are used to monitor populations, document the fox squirrels range expansion, study its natural history, and re-establish populations in portions of its historic range from which the Delmarva fox squirrel had disappeared. Beginning in 1978, wild caught Delmarva fox squirrels were translocated to 15 different locations in Maryland (11), Delaware (2), Virginia (1), and Pennsylvania (1). Ultimately, 11 populations were successfully established and the range now includes 8 Maryland counties, and a Delaware and Virginia county as well. These populations continue to grow and expand into new areas.

Mississippi Department of Wildlife, Fisheries & Parks (MDWFP) is constructing a shooting range facility (McDlr Creek Shooting Range) in northern Mississippi at the Charles Ray Nix Wildlife Management Area (WMA) in Panola County, Mississippi. The MDWFP seeks to provide a safe, quality, clean, and family friendly public shooting range facility; provide more educational and shooting range facilities to support classroom training and live fire opportunities for Hunter Education classes and support the expansion of programs that will encourage participation in shooting sports and hunting. As proposed, the facility will include a 3-D archery range, 15-station sporting clays course, trap and skeet complex, pistol range, 100 and 300 yard rifle ranges, and a duck flush (five-stand). The project is being funded in& #38;2015 grant utilizing $1,406,111 in Wildlife Restoration funds and in partnership with the Olin Corporation (Winchester Ammunition), which contributed over $1,400,000 to the project. The groundbreaking ceremony was held on August 30, 2016.

Pennsylvanias Game Commission has launched a prescribed fire program on their state lands game system that has over 800,000 acres of fire-dependent wildlife habitats. Fire shaped Pennsylvanias wildlife habitats for thousands of years with recurring fires that maintained oak forests, open woodlands, and grassy meadows the perfect mix for turkeys, deer, and other wildlife. But such habitats are actually threatened with fire removed from the equation. After 70 100 fire-free years, formerly open habitats are now clogged with rank vegetation and oak forests are being replaced by fire-tolerant birch and maple; all to wildfires detriment. Thats why prescribed burning is an essential tool that is being used to restore vibrant wildlife habitats. Prescribed burns also reduce the risk of wild fire because prescribed burns are normally repeated every 3 10 years, so fuels cannot build to dangerous levels. Pennsylvania first requested Wildlife Restoration funds to jumpstart its prescribed fire program in 2010. Since then the agency has used prescribed fire to improve habitat and hunting opportunity on 26,738 acres. The program goal is to burn 20,000 acres annually by the year 2020, and funds are instrumental in training over 200 staff to National Wildlife Coordinating Group (NWCG) standards, purchasing wildlife fire equipment, and developing fire breaks and mechanical fuel reductions.

Virginia Department of Game and Inland Fisheries (VDGIF) used Wildlife Restoration funds, combined with funds from other partners, to purchase of over 2,600 acres of land in eastern New Kent County, Virginia. This acquisition, approved by the VDGIF board for the price of $9.3 million dollars, includes more than two miles of frontage on the York River in addition to five miles along the Ware and Phiblales creeks. The property includes over 720 acres of tidal wetlands, 1,800 acres of upland forested habitats, and 100 acres of croplands. These valuable ecosystems are home to a variety of wildlife, including deer and turkey, small game such as rabbits and squirrels, waterfowl, black ducks, teal, mallards, and a host of neotropical songbirds including warblers, thrushes, tanagers, and vireos. The property also contains substantial tidal and upland wildlife habitat. Coastal wetlands protect against flooding, provide habitat for wildlife, and contribute to outdoor recreational opportunities. This property will be a significant addition to the VDGIFs Wildlife Management Area system, serve as a crucial filter for runoff entering waterways, and provide public access for outdoor recreation in perpetuity.

Fiscal Year 2017: FY17: Idaho Department of Fish and Game (IDFG) is researching the population drivers of pronghorn in various habitat types including native shrub-steppe, altered shrub-steppe, and agricultural communities. This project will evaluate factors affecting pronghorn herds in eastern Idaho, and develop a reliable, cost-effective technique for monitoring status and trend of pronghorn herds in Idaho. Pronghorns will be captured, fitted with radio collars, have their body condition assessed, and be monitored with telemetry. Habitat quality, nutritional condition of vegetation, neonatal survival and cause specific mortality will be assessed. Monitoring methods will focus on the vital rates deemed most likely to influence populations. This information is necessary for conservation and management decisions, including hunting seasons, habitat improvement efforts, and technical assistance to public and private landowners.

Oregon has a Statewide Habitat Management grant that covers habitat restoration efforts in seven distinct Watershed Districts (Deschutes, John Day, Malheur, Klamath, Rogue, South Willamette, and Umpqua). Goals of the project are to (1) maintain, restore, or enhance wildlife habitat on public and private lands to optimize wildlife populations, while paying particular attention to listed species; (2) evaluate, protect, or enhance existing habitat conditions or restore lost habitats on private and public lands; (3) assist landowners by providing resources to restore and improve fish and wildlife habitat; and (4) provide technical advice and assistance to local, State, and Federal agencies regarding land-use activities and proposed developments to promote conservation of fish and wildlife habitats. The areas managed under this grant are designed to provide year-round habitat for wildlife species and to reduce and/or minimize agricultural damage and depredation to surrounding communities by wildlife. By coordinating with agencies and private landowners to implement and administer the proposed activities, the general public can benefit from healthier habitats for many species.

The Indiana Department of Natural Resources, in partnership with Hamilton County Parks and Recreation Department, recently completed construction of the Koteewi Park Archery Range. The facility includes beginner archery ranges with 10-25 yard targets, advanced archer ranges with up to 90 meter targets, practice shooter ranges, and a 3-D target shooting trail. The facility provides a safe environment to learn about archery, shooting sports, and bow hunting that serves the local, regional, and national communities. This range is one example of many ranges that have been constructed throughout the country with Wildlife Restoration funds.

The Arkansas Game and Fish Commission (AGFC) is renovating 11 Wildlife Management Areas to benefit waterfowl. In addition to replacing and upgrading pumps and pipeline for increased water management ability, AGFC is also establishing new moist-soil units and expanding or renovating at least 20 more. More than 1,300 acres of waterfowl habitat will be created or improved and the ability to control water levels greatly enhanced on thousands of additional acres. Fiscal Year 2018: FY18: The Program is not selected projects for funding. The Program anticipates funding projects to restore, conserve, manage and enhance wild birds and mammals and their habitats and to provide hunter development and safety programs.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

The State, Commonwealth, or territorial agency having lead responsibility for the management of their wildlife resources must submit the projects. The State, Commonwealth, or territorial agency selects those projects submitted for funding under the program. If approved, projects must meet the basic criteria outlined in the regulations and the Fish and Wildlife Service Manual.

RELATED PROGRAMS:
15.605 Sport Fish Restoration Program; 15.611 Wildlife Restoration; 15.614 Coastal Wetlands Planning, Protection and Restoration Act; 15.635 Neotropical Migratory Bird Conservation

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:
Fiscal Year 2016: Example of US Standard Grant project, Lowcountry Protection II, South Carolina. The proposal is located in the Atlantic Coast Joint Ventures ACE Basin and South Lowcountry Waterfowl Focus Areas and significantly contributes to the goals of national and regional bird conservation plans. This phase will protect 3,779 acres including 646 acres of palustrine emergent wetlands, 88 acres of estuarine emergent wetlands, 949 acres of palustrine forested wetlands and 2,015 acres of associated forested uplands to benefit breeding, migrating and wintering birds in accordance with the recommendations of South Atlantic Migratory Bird Initiative. This proposal will complement a growing protected landscape where substantial federal investments including 19 standard NAWCA grants in the past ten years have created and expanded public ownership, restoration and management throughout the Lowcountry. Two separate acquisition tracts, consisting of 1,261 and 2,018 acres, are located within a two county area of south coastal South Carolina. The closest U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service facility is the Savannah River National Wildlife Refuge, located approximately 15 air miles from the southernmost tract. These tracts lie outside the approved boundary of the refuge. Non-Service ownership of the proposal tracts eliminates the need for increased staff for separate refuge units and reinforces local participation in the long-term acquisition planning/management of this region.

Fiscal Year 2017: Example of US Standard Grant project, Southwest Wetlands Initiative of Minnesota (SWIM) III. SWIM III provides an efficient and effective partnership to deliver long term wetlands and wetland-associated upland habitat for the benefit of waterfowl and other wildlife. This proposal focuses on wetlands in the Prairie Coteau of Minnesota and works primarily on restoring converted wetlands and enhancing degraded wetlands through permanent habitat protection efforts on both public and private lands. This is the third proposal of a multiple year initiative with an overall goal to accelerate the permanent protection of prairie wetland complexes open to the public and to ensure every Waterfowl Production Area and Wildlife Management Area is providing the maximum benefits for waterfowl and wetland dependent species. More specifically, SWIM III accelerates efforts to permanently protect in fee title and easement 690 acres of Waterfowl Production Areas and Wildlife Management Areas and 61.9 acres via Re-Invest in Minnesota perpetual conservation easement. Further, this partnership restores 40 acres on Hurricane Lake WMA and enhances another 270 acres of wetland habitat on Chen Bay and Sioux Valley WMAs. Projects within this proposal will address both reproductive and migration habitat needs of waterfowl and wetland dependent species within the area. The project area and project components are important to successful implementation of the NAWMP and the PPFV Implementation Plan. Several statewide conservation plans are served by the work outlined in this proposal as well, including the Minnesota Prairie Conservation Plan and Minnesota’s duck and pheasant plans. Fiscal Year 2018: Program has not yet selected projects for funding. Program anticipates funding projects that protect and improve habitat for migratory birds and other wetland-associated species. More examples of NAWCA projects can be found at http://www.fws.gov/birds/grants/north-american-wetland-conservation-act.php.

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

The Archery Trade Association (ATA) is working on a project titled, "Exploration of the Archery Industry's Role in Hunter Recruitment and Retention," which is focused on specific recruitment efforts for Hispanics and also improving our understanding of the model and how individuals specifically transition from a non-hunter to a hunter. The case studies developed under the R3 model depend on a detailed understanding of public trust. Development and adoption of successful hunter recruitment and retention programs under the R3 model depends on a detailed understanding of public trust.

The Max McGraw Wildlife Foundation is working on a project titled, "Recruitment of Hispanic Hunters: Using a Case Studies approach to gain significant benefit to the nation's natural resources, with opportunities to increase that percentage to cover more or all of the United States, and potentially Canada.

The Council to Advance Hunting and the Shooting Sports (CAHSS) will be starting a project titled, "Implementation of the National Hunting and Shooting Sports Action Plan." The objective is to conduct facilitated workshops necessary to develop state-level recruitment, retention, and reactivation (R3) plans. These collaborative sessions will serve to enhance cooperative efforts between nonprofits, industry and state fish and wildlife agencies to achieve conservation results through strategic actions and allow further critical collaboration to occur among the Fish Habitat Partnerships.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

Projects will be reviewed and evaluated for scope, significance, feasibility, and cost effectiveness. In addition, projects must address one or more focus areas as described in the National Conservation Needs established annually by the Association of Fish and Wildlife Agencies (AFWA).

PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

Fiscal Year 2016: Ocelot Recovery Los Fresnos, Texas: Once found in Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana, the federally-endangered ocelot is now found only in southern Texas preferring dense coastal shrub. Habitat loss and fragmentation are the greatest challenge to their recovery. In Texas, ocelots have lost more than 95% of their habitat to timber harvests, agriculture, and urban development. The Services ocelot recovery efforts are being led by the Laguna Atascosa National Wildlife Refuge and Lower Rio Grande Valley National Wildlife Refuge. The Coastal Program worked with partners to improve nearly 134 acres of habitat in southern coastal Texas. The project involved using of prescribed fire to control invasive species, planting of native trees and shrubs (i.e., coyotillo and thornshrub), and protecting the project in a permanent conservation easement. In addition to benefiting the ocelot, this project may also benefit the Texas jaguaronundi and Texas aynia.

Harts Light Spawning Reef St. Clair, Michigan: Once found in the Mississippi River, Hudsun Bay and Great Lakes basin, only a remnant population of lake sturgeon can be found today in the Great Lakes region. Overfishing, habitat loss, dams, and pollution caused their population collapse. Lake sturgeon one of the Services Regional priority species, are listed as threatened or endangered in 19 of the 20 states within its original range in the United States. The Coastal Program worked with the Environmental Protection Agency, U.S. Geological Survey, and other partners to construct the Harts Light Reef. Larger than previously constructed reefs, the limestone cobble structure covers almost four acres. The Coastal Program assessed baseline fish use, supported project planning and partnership development, and post restoration monitoring. Project monitoring, which will continue through 2017, documented sturgeon eggs on the reef for the last two years.

Dune Restoration, City of Seaside, California: The Coastal Program collaborated with partners to restore 1.5 acres of dune habitat, along southern Monterey Bay. Over the next four years, this partnership will restore an additional 10 acres of dune habitat also on state park lands that will benefit the western snowy plover, Smith's blue butterfly, Monterey spinyflower, and the California legless lizard. This project connects people with nature by educating and training 1,600 children and adults in the classroom and at volunteer planting events. It also supports the Department of the Interior's Pollinator Protection Plan by removing invasive vegetation and replanting 24,000 native flowering plants, which will provide habitat for the endangered Smith's blue butterfly. By removing the invasive vegetation and maintaining dune habitat, this project addresses the effects of climate change by enhancing biodiversity, habitat connectivity, and coastal resiliency. The Coastal Program will continue to assist with project design and implementation, environmental compliance, and project monitoring. Fiscal Year 2017: The Program anticipates funding projects that help protect and restore fish and wildlife habitats that benefit Federal trust species. Fiscal Year 2018: The Program anticipates funding projects that help protect and restore fish and wildlife habitats that benefit Federal trust species.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:
All projects must benefit Federal trust species and be cost effective. Project selection occurs at the field level. See the annual "Notice of Availability of Federal Assistance" in http://grants.gov for more details.

REGULATIONS, GUIDELINES, AND LITERATURE:

Headquarters Office:

Matt Filsinger Branch of Habitat Restoration, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service,
EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

1) Monarch/Pollinator Initiative
To complement each of the initiatives listed above The New Mexico (NM) Partners for Fish and Wildlife (PFW) program worked with 14 high school students from Albuquerque, NM to plant native pollinator plants, fruit trees, construct 2 greenhouses, 2 native bee sanctuaries (bee motels), created 2 outdoor classrooms, helped build 1 rainwater harvesting system and completed 38 hours of classroom time. PFW staff helped directly with organizing the hands-on field work activities, project implementation, trees, propagation logistics and curriculum delivery. The work took place on four (4) organic community farms. This was a win-win for the students, the landowners, the community and the land!

2) Prairie Management Using Proper Ranching Techniques
The goal of this 1,320-acre private land project located in south central Kansas was to improve habitat conditions for grassland and aquatic wildlife species while benefiting working agricultural lands and surrounding communities through increased livestock forage, water quantity, economic growth and reduced risk of catastrophic wildfire. This project site is native mixed-grass prairie. The PFW Program provided technical and financial assistance for mechanical removal of invasive trees. Additionally, the project included guidance on prescribed grazing and prescribed burning for long-term maintenance of the project site. The PFW Program coordinated with locally lead community-based partnerships to leverage resources and develop long-term plans while incorporating goals of the ranch.

3) Drexel Town Square Project
The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Services PFW Program in Wisconsin is not only working with rural landowners across Wisconsin, but assisting project managers in urban areas to connect people and the environment while improving water quality and wildlife habitat. A great example of this is within the City of Oak Creek, a suburb of Milwaukee, WI. Here the biologist worked with City planners and administrators to restore and enhance upland and wetland habitats located at the Drexel Town Square Project to create an amenity for the future redevelopment. The Project site is approximately eighty-five acres of a former industrial development that is now being redeveloped into a mixed use Town Center that will include the City of Oak Creek’s new City Hall and Library, a large format retail store, a variety of smaller retailers, restaurants, commercial office buildings, multiple high quality residential developments, a public town square, and the enhanced wetland park and other public recreational amenities. Fiscal Year 2017: The Program has not yet selected projects to support. The Program anticipates funding projects that help protect and restore fish and wildlife habitats to benefit Federal trust species and declining species. Fiscal Year 2018: The Program has not yet selected projects to support. The Program anticipates funding projects that help protect and restore fish and wildlife habitats to benefit Federal trust species and declining species.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:
All projects must benefit Federal trust species, involve partnerships, be cost effective, and where applicable involve on-the-ground habitat restoration. Specific criteria for reviewing and ranking projects were established in the national Partners policy, at https://www.fws.gov/policy/640fw1.html. The program gives high priority to proposed projects that benefit the National Wildlife Refuge System, species at risk, conserve globally or nationally imperiled habitats; and reduce habitat fragmentation. Please review the annual Notice of Availability of Federal Assistance for additional selection criteria referenced in http://www.grants.gov.

PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

Fiscal Year 2016: SWG Program funds are positively impacting many Endangered Species Act listing decisions. The Program has likely helped to curtail growth of State and Federal expenditures on Federally-listed species since the Program was first created in 2001. The Service de-listed thirteen domestic fish and wildlife species due to recovery since 2001. SWG Program funding was a key funding source for the conservation and recovery of seven more than 50 percent of these species. The SWG Program has also helped States contribute to Service removal or withdrawal of a significant portion of Candidate species listing those species found by the Service to be warranted for listing but not yet listed as Threatened or Endangered. Of the 58 domestic Candidate fish and wildlife species that were removed or withdrawn from the list for conservation-related reasons since 2001, at least 19 species about 33 percent were conserved by State fish and wildlife agencies using SWG Program funds. The discretionary (competitive) subprogram received 21 applications and issued 14 awards. Fiscal Year 2017: The discretionary (competitive) subprogram anticipates receiving 25 applications and issuing 12 to 18 awards. The number of applications for mandatory grants varies annually based on State priorities and capacity. Fiscal Year 2018: The discretionary (competitive) subprogram anticipates receiving 35 applications and issuing 15 to 18 awards. The number of applications for mandatory grants varies annually based on State priorities and capacity.

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:
Fiscal Year 2016: Conservation Strategy for the Grasslands of the Chihuahuan Desert III In this phase, partners will attend to the most urgent restoration needs identified in the Mountain Plover (MOPL) Conservation Business Plan 2015. The long term goal is to increase by 10% the MOPL populations in Janos-Casas Grandes through protection, habitat restoration, and threats mitigation such as the decline of prairie dogs colonies that represent optimal habitat for MOPL. Additionally, partners will strengthen the Regional Alliance of Producers in Janos Region through community collaboration and participation between livestock organizations, governmental agencies at a local, state and national level.

Ensuring Conservation Status for Last Unguarded Forests in Caribbean Guatemala The forests within Guatemala's Caribbean Rainforest Corridor are a vital link in the Mesoamerican Biological Corridor and the Caribbean migratory flyway of Central America. The Caribbean region of Guatemala is one of the country's biodiversity hotspots and the region is critical for Neotropical wintering migratory and resident birds; one hundred and twenty species of migratory birds are reported for the region, and use the remaining native habitats as their main wintering or stop-over habitat. However, between 1991 and 2010, 40% of the total forested surface disappeared, mostly due to weak law enforcement, the encroachment of subsistence agriculture and the expansion of extensive cattle ranching and oil palm plantations. The grantee will protect and manage remaining forests in cooperation with local communities and government agencies, and will continue monitoring bird populations to generate data related to migratory species in their wintering grounds, as well as monitoring forest cover change in order to evaluate long term impacts of the project. The project will also support the sustainable development of 6 neighboring Maya Q'eqchi communities, where environmental education campaigns will be implemented in order to promote bird friendly productive activities.

Adaptively Managing and Increasing Critical Habitat for Sprague's Pipit in Alberta The Grassland Natural Region of Canada is one of the most intensively-utilized landscapes in the world; in the province of Alberta, 95% of the grassland region is either used for farming or ranching. This loss and degradation of native habitat is widely considered the cause of continental declines in many populations of Neotropical migratory bird species. This project will restore important habitat in the South Saskatchewan River and Milk River watersheds. Between 5,000 and 10,000 acres will be added to the Sprague's pipit habitat management program through enrollment of new ranches in 10-year management agreements. In addition to grazing management strategies, the grantee will actively improve habitats through removal of encroaching shrubs, employment of moveable fence-lines, and reseeding of previously cultivated lands to native grasses. Through resulting improvements and increases to habitat quality/quantity, the grantee will effectively increase suitable patch sizes to the recommended minimum of 360 acres, thus decreasing fragmentation effects on breeding Sprague's pipits.
